MORGAN TO GIVE PRESIDENT PART OF TVA CHARGES

Will Present Facts on Marble Claim.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Chairman Arthur E. Morgan of the Tennessee Valley authority is prepared to present facts against his fellow TVA directors, David E. Lilienthal and Harcourt A. Morgan, when President Roosevelt resumes his personal investigation into the affairs of the socialistic power experiment tomorrow morning.

Dr. Morgan, his friends learned today, will present evidence to substantiate his imputations against the integrity of his colleagues only on one phase of his attack. He will present to Mr. Roosevelt material intended to support his accusations against Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan in the famous five million dollar claim brought by Senator George L. Berry [Dem., Tenn.] for allegedly valuable marble deposits under Norris dam reservoir.

Yields on Earlier Stand.

At the hearing last Friday Dr. Morgan steadfastly refused to present evidence to substantiate his charges in the face of seven hours of presidential pleading and anger. He insisted that he could not get a fair hearing at the unprecedented presidential trial and held to his demand for a thorough congressional investigation of the TVA.

During the week Chairman Morgan decided to show a part of his hand in order to refute assertions by Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan that he has nothing concrete with which to back up his allegations. He will offer evidence to support his charge that Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan attempted to enter into an agreement with Berry for the settlement of his marble claim when they knew that the claim was valueless.

The chairman's colleagues have replied that they did not suspect and that no one else suspected that the claim had no value until the marble case went to trial before a federal commission.

Attack Prompted by Ruling.

The commission held the purported marble deposits to be worthless early this month. The decision prompted Chairman Morgan's attack on his colleagues. The scandalous nature of the charge forced President Roosevelt to attempt settlement of the row.

Chairman Morgan has no intention, his friends said, of giving any evidence on his other charges except to a congressional investigating committee. Among other things, he questioned the contracts his colleagues negotiated with the Arkansas Power and Light corporation and the Aluminum Corporation of America.

At the outset of tomorrow's hearing Mr. Roosevelt will ask the directors whether they have been able to bury their differences. He sent them from his office last week after the first hearing with instructions to settle their controversy.

The differences have not been buried. If anything, the feeling of contention between the chairman and associates was intensified by the hearing.

Barkley May Head Quiz.

On Capitol hill Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], senate majority leader, was regarded the outstanding possibility for the chairmanship of a congressional investigating committee as sentiment grew for a joint committee of five senators and five representatives. Barkley is viewed as acceptable to both the supporters and opponents of the TVA.

The day brought a development in the negotiations between the TVA and private power companies for the purchase of private facilities. Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes announced that the PWA would not interfere in the negotiations.

Ickes expressed the hope that Lilienthal and Wendell Willkie, head of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, who have been discussing purchase and sale of the company's utilities in the TVA area, would arrive at a satisfactory agreement.

6 Year Search Solves Slaying of Farmer, 80

Thomas E. Kennedy.

For nearly six years, with no evidence except a few sets of fingerprints to guide him, Chief Deputy Sherif Thomas E. Kennedy of Lake county has been striving to find the men who murdered William Hancock, 80 years old, a retired farmer, in his home at Antioch.

Other investigators gave up long ago. But Kennedy was confident that eventually he would solve the mystery.

"Those prints were found on glassware and on furniture in Hancock's home," he said. "The same prints were found on a stolen automobile that was recovered near Kenosha, Wis. Some day we'll find suspects who'll match them."

Prints Lead to Confession.

Yesterday his persistence was rewarded. Two men were arrested on vague reports that they were involved in the killing. The old fingerprint charts were brought out. They fitted and the men confessed. More, they implicated two others, who were seized. A fifth member of the band was arrested last night.

Edward T. Leonard, 42 years old, who was paroled from Leavenworth penitentiary last week after serving three years as an automobile thief, and Joseph F. Nemmer, 36, of Racine, Wis., made the confessions. Their accomplices, they said, were Michael Karapournos, 52, and Jerome Welsch, 37, of Racine, and Joseph Russo, a Chicagoan. Russo, 25 years old, was the last one seized. He was found at 3105 Walnut street. He denied all knowledge of the killing.

"Welsch figured out the plot," asserted Nemmer. "He supplied us with ropes and adhesive tape to tie up the old guy and with gasoline for a trip from Racine. We had heard that Hancock, who was all alone in his house, kept a lot of money there.

Victim Terribly Beaten.

"Leonard was the driver of the car and waited outside while Karapournos and Russo and I broke in on April 13, 1932. Karapournos beat up the old man something terrible. Then all of us helped put the tape on his hands and feet and mouth and tied him to a bed. We searched the house, but got only $5 and a Masonic ring. When we left Hancock was still alive, but he was in bad shape."

Leonard separately corroborated this statement. Karapournos refused to talk. Welsch, who admittedly was not at the scene of the crime, refused to waive extradition and was held in the county jail in Racine while the other four were locked up in Waukegan.

State's Attorney Charles E. Mason has placed charges of murder against the five men.

JOHN M'CORMACK MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR IRISH PRESIDENCY

Hollywood, Cal., March 17.—(AP)—John McCormack, noted tenor, tonight announced he was considering standing for the presidency of his native Ireland.

"I have not had any official invitation," said McCormack, "but so very many of my friends in Ireland have written me to throw my hat in the ring, I cabled my son in Dublin to find out if I am eligible for the position under the new constitution."

AUTO ACCIDENT BOOK IN OAK PARK AWAITS A VICTIM

Frank L. Pinckney, who teaches automobile driving to pupils at Oak Park High school, is worried. So is M. R. McDaniel, school principal, and so are Oak Park police. The reason: Two of the pupils, one a boy, the other a girl, can't coördinate their feet when they're driving.

"They're as likely as not to step on the accelerator when they mean to step on the brake, or vice versa," explained Pinckney.

He told Principal McDaniel, and the latter asked police to prohibit the two from driving. But police looked up the ages of the youngsters and found they are legally old enough to drive. Hence the police could do nothing. Then Principal McDaniel asked the children's parents to order them not to drive. Last night, however, it was reported the boy had bought a second hand automobile.

Where There's Smoke There's R. Giovannone

Volunteer firefighters in the village of McCook work on day and night shifts. When the day firemen are called upon for extra bucket carrying and water squirting at night, it means a $25 bonus to them.

This seemed an excellent arrangement to Robert Giovannone, 19 years old, a member of the daylight brigade. Only one thing disturbed young Giovannone: There were too few fires after sundown. But the situation, he decided, could be easily remedied.

Action Matches Thoughts.

As the story was told to Police Magistrate Paul J. Drews of Summit yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Freedman, Giovannone started to put his plan in action last June 11.

That night, with the assistance of Giovannone, Frank Lopez, 17, and Tony Cinkovich, 18, also of McCook, a blaze broke out in an empty bunkhouse near the Santa Fe tracks in the suburb. The night fire department dashed to the scene. A call was sent for the day volunteers.

Giovannone and seven others responded, helping to extinguish the fire which caused $100 damage. The day firemen split up the $25 village bonus, four getting $3.12 apiece and four lucky fellows pocketing $3.13.

At intervals there were other fires, two in another bunkhouse on Oct. 31 and Jan. 9, one in a vacant garage on March 9, and the fourth at an abandoned workhouse on March 10.

Aspires to a Hero's Rôle.

"But," said Giovannone, "in addition to my $3.12, I want to be a hero."

So it came to pass that on the night of March 11 there was a blaze at the American Hair and Felt company on Joliet road, near McCook. This was the most serious of the series, for damage was $1,900. The courageous fire fighting of Giovannone was praised by all.

A few days ago the three youths were arrested — for throwing stones at street lights. Giovannone suddenly confessed setting the fires. All three pleaded guilty yesterday, Cinkovich being charged only as an accessory. They were ordered held to the grand jury and the three were locked up in the county jail.

Giovannone's matches were taken away by the warden, just in case.

HULL OUTLINES FOREIGN POLICY BASED ON PEACE

Advocates Program of Co-Operation.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Proclaiming it the American policy to coöperate by peaceful means with other peaceful nations in defense of international law and order, Secretary of State Cordell Hull today found the United States in receipt of an official invitation to join in concerted coöperation against aggression by Nazi Germany.

The invitation came from Soviet Russia. It was addressed to all the principal powers except Germany, Italy, and Japan. It invited the powers to join with Russia in discussing joint action aimed at "checking further development of aggression and eliminating increased danger of a new world massacre."

Maxim Litvinov, the soviet commissar for foreign affairs, explained that the purpose of the move is to invoke concerted action by the powers to save Czechoslovakia from attack by Germany and Lithuania from Polish aggression.

Invitation Text Awaited.

Whether the United States will accept the invitation will be determined by President Roosevelt after consultation with his cabinet and consideration of the course adopted by Great Britain. Mr. Hull refused to comment, saying that the official text of the invitation had not been received.

In an address expounding the Roosevelt foreign policy, Mr. Hull indicated that, while the country will be armed to protect its interests at home and abroad, the coöperation which might be furnished to restrain Germany or other aggressors would not include the dispatch of American armed forces abroad.

We will coöperate "in every practicable and peaceful way," said the American foreign minister. Then, as if to calm the apprehensions engendered by the President's proposal in his Chicago speech to "quarantine" aggressor nations, Mr. Hull said: "We have never entertained and we have not the slightest intention to entertain any such notion as the use of American armed forces for 'policing the world'."

No Mention of Embargoes.

The secretary, however, did not rule out American participation in embargoes, sanctions, boycotts, or other forms of economic coercion of a nation classed as an aggressor. This is the form of "quarantine" the President presumably had in mind and the sort of coercion that his critics contend would be likely to involve the country in war eventually.

Mr. Hull made the statement of foreign policy at a luncheon in his honor given by the National Press club. The address was broadcast throughout the world.

Refers to Pacific Area.

While the secretary omitted any specific reference to the current move by the administration toward retention of the Philippines under American rule, there was one paragraph of his discourse which lent color to the theory that Mr. Roosevelt is intent upon keeping a foothold in the orient for the purpose of checking Japan's aggressions.

"What is most of all at stake today, throughout the world," said Mr. Hull, "is the future of the fundamental principles which must be the foundation of international order as opposed to international anarchy. If we and others were to abandon and surrender these principles in regard to the Pacific area, which is almost one-half of the world, we would have to reconcile ourselves to their certain abandonment and surrender in regard to the other half of the world."

Middle of Road Course.

The secretary defined the course of the Roosevelt administration in international affairs as a middle of the road between extreme internationalism with the "undesirable political involvements" it entails and extreme isolationism which would involve abandonment of our interests abroad.

"The momentous question," said Mr. Hull, "is whether the doctrin of force shall become enthroned once more and bring in its wake, inexorably, international anarchy and a relapse into barbarism; or whether this and other peaceful nations, fervently attached to the principles which

POLAND SENDS AN ULTIMATUM TO LITHUANIA

BY DONALD DAY.

Marshal Smigly-Rydz.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

WARSAW, March 17.—Poland today sent a note to Lithuania demanding an end to the unofficial state of war existing between the two countries. The communication also demanded that negotiations be started in an effort to reach a peace treaty.

Polish officials said the government's demands were "reasonable." They declined to state whether a time limit had been placed upon the demands.

[Associated Press dispatches from Kaunas, the Lithuanian capital, said the Polish note, which was received there at 3 p. m., was an ultimatum, demanding a reply within 48 hours.]

Polish Demands Listed.

The Polish note, it was reported, demanded: Immediate reëstablishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries; immediate resumption of railway and postal communications; cancellation of a paragraph in the Lithuanian constitution referring to Vilna as the Lithuanian capital; conclusion of an agreement on treatment of minorities in both countries; conclusion of commercial and customs treaties, and complete satisfaction for last Friday's frontier incident in which a Polish border guard was killed.

The conflict between Poland and Lithuania began eighteen years ago when Poland occupied Vilna, which Lithuania claims for her rightful capital.

Demand Invasion by Army.

The demonstrators carried banners saying "Poland must occupy Lithuania—Poland's minority in Lithuania must be saved—Annex Lithuania and we will have peace—Annex Danzig, our outlet to the Baltic sea must be secured." One large poster said: "Marshal, lead us to Kaunas."

Demonstrations against Lithuania also occurred in Cracow, Lodz, Lwow, and Vilna.

The demonstrations, together with articles in the press, disclosed a strong feeling which is being developed to support any movement the government might take against Lithuania. Even the opposition press encouraged a display of Poland's military force on the frontier.

Senate Meets Today.

Foreign Minister Josef Beck is scheduled to explain Poland's relations with Lithuania in the senate tomorrow. A government communique said: "The Polish government took proper steps in connection with the

REBEL FLYERS WRECK BIG AREA OF BARCELONA

Writer Tells Horror of Air Attacks.

BY HENRY BUCKLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BARCELONA, March 17.—Twelve rebel air raids in the last 24 hours have made this capital of the Spanish government a virtual shambles and sent more than 600 persons to their deaths. A thousand or more have been injured.

The aerial bombardments, which began late last night and continued at intervals through the day, were the most disastrous suffered by the city since the civil war began 20 months ago.

Huge rebel bombers unloosed their cargoes of high explosives on the hapless city with uncanny accuracy. The center of the city was a scene of desolation. Big and little buildings were reduced to smouldering débris with perhaps hundreds of victims lying under the masses of masonry.

Many Trapped at Noon.

Not all of the bodies have been recovered. Hospitals are filled with the dead and dying. Ambulances and private cars dash about the stricken city carrying the injured and lifeless forms to shelter.

Many of the injured were trapped when larger buildings in the center of the district were the targets of the rebel bombers during the noon hour. The beautiful avenues which once were the finest in Europe now are littered with débris, battered and desolate.

Thousands of the civilian population tonight were gathering together a few of their belongings and leaving the city for nearby areas which they considered safe havens from the relentless raids. Others were boarding trains for longer trips to the country.

Blasts Mixed with Moans.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning sirens screamed throughout the city as four gleaming planes roared overhead. A second later they discharged their lethal cargoes. Then loud explosions in the city's pleasure district were followed instantly by the roar of crashing buildings, and the shrieks of the terrorized populace mingled with the cries of the injured. Bodies of the victims sprawled grotesquely on the streets.

Two 100 pound bombs landed squarely at the city's most important crossroads. Two street cars, an autobus and hundreds of pedestrians were at the intersection. More than 200 were killed here, some of the victims blown to bits. The street cars, too, were torn apart by the force of the blasts. The bus caught fire and rescue workers could aid only a few of the passengers. The others died in the flaming wreckage.

Killed at Café Tables.

Fifteen persons were killed in front of one of the cafés. They were sitting at marble-top tables sipping their drinks when one of the bombs fell near by.

A 60 year old woman who kept a paper and magazine stand at the street corner was not there a moment after the bomb struck, but her wares were scattered over the pavement.

A hundred yards away a building was hit squarely by one of the big bombs. It burst into flames and between 20 and 30 persons were killed.

Rebel planes appeared again at noon. A great 1,000 pound missile tore down a ten story store building. Only when the wreckage of this structure is cleared away will it become known how many of its occupants were killed.

Movie House Shattered.

It was only a minute after the alarm was given that five silver planes sent their cargoes earthward. The 1,000 pound bombs blew out windows a mile away. Water spurted from broken mains.

The largest movie house in the city and the business houses and blocks of flats which surrounded it now are reduced to débris. Hundreds of workers are frantically digging for victims. The 80 foot wide street along which they stood is filled with wreckage. It is as though a great battle had been waged in the area. Bundles of twisted steel are all that remains of several buses, three piles of splintered wood were once street cars.

Every kind of vehicle was put into service to cart away the dying and the dead.

About 8 o'clock this morning guests in the town's principal hotel were blown from their beds by a bomb which wrecked the salon. One bomb in this attack crashed through a glass warehouse. Another kicked the top stories from a dwelling place. Another killed 126 crowding toward a subway entrance.

Aided by brilliant moonlight which bathed the city, the rebels made eight raids between 10 o'clock last night and 2 o'clock this morning. Bombs rained down with such rapidity that the population had little time to get from one shelter to another.

Subways were crowded as the terrified citizens flocked there to escape the bombardments. Women and children prepared to stay in them through the night.

American Bowled Over.

The heaviest bombs of the day were dropped during the raid at 10:15 o'clock tonight, so the death toll may easily rise higher by tomorrow's count. The raiders flew in from the sea from the direction of the rebel base at Palma, Mallorca. It was not necessary to send many planes at a time—five at the most—the bombs were so powerful.

The attackers were using bombs which broke low, hardly six inches above the pavement, making it useless to lie down. The bombs were the same kind as used at the front.

Every window of the United States consulate was broken by a bomb which exploded nearby during the 1:50 p. m. raid. Col. Stephen O. Fuqua, military attache, who was standing in front, was bowled over by the concussion. The office of the consulate is being moved.

Other towns along the coast south of Barcelona were raided, including San Vicente and Tarragona. At Vinaroz the French consul, José Ramos Delmas, was reported killed. The Czechoslovakian consulate at Castellon was reported destroyed.

Rebels Recapture Caspe.

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish Frontier], March 17.—(AP)—Spanish rebels driving toward dismemberment of government Spain today captured Caspe—one more objective on their march to the sea.

Gen. Francisco Franco's heavily reinforced armies in eastern Spain smashed government resistance that was the greatest since the Madrid-Barcelona régime lost Belchite early last week in the "drive to the sea."

The government announced at the same time its troops had killed 4,000 rebels in "the worst fighting of the civil war" in the sector south of Caspe. Opposing forces there sought domination of the Alcaniz-Montalban highway. The rebels reported their right wing had taken Alcorisa.

Rebel reports said five international brigades were dispersed in the capture of Caspe and hundreds of foreigners taken prisoner in the mountainous battle area. Gen. Juan Yague directed the rebels' attacks. Caspe had been heavily fortified by the government defenders and was the last stronghold in the path of the rebel left wing. Alcorisa was the main obstacle in the path of the right wing.

The French government closed its Spanish frontier between Hendaye and Irun to the passage of all merchandise. No reason was given for the move. Persons were still allowed to pass in either direction.

Refugees Arrive in France.

PORT VENDRES, France, Mach 17.—(AP)—The French destroyer La Palme and Epervier arrived at Port Vendres today with 500 Spanish political refugees brought out in an emergency evacuation from Barcelona. Spanish government capital.

There were bronzed, bearded young men, all of fighting age, who wore berets and blankets rolled across their shoulders. They were taken to a concentration camp preparatory to removal to rebel Spain. Among them were the duke of Saragossa and the marquess of Urquijo.

The refugees had been on French government property in Barcelona since the start of the war because their sympathies were with Gen. Franco.

BOSTON MARKS ANNIVERSARY OF BRITISH RETREAT

Boston, Mass., March 17.—(AP)—Undaunted by inclement weather, Boston today celebrated the 162d anniversary of the evacuation of the city by the British, and at the same time observed St. Patrick's day, with historic fêtes and a big military parade.

Meanwhile strong support was given by the Boston citizenry to a proposal to make a national shrine of Dorchester heights, where 162 years ago Gen. Washington planted the cannon which caused the British evacuation.

While hundreds of school children sang patriotic songs the American flag was unfurled from a staf on that hill, toward which British troops looked in 1776 and saw the cannon frowning down at them.

Bomb Five Cities

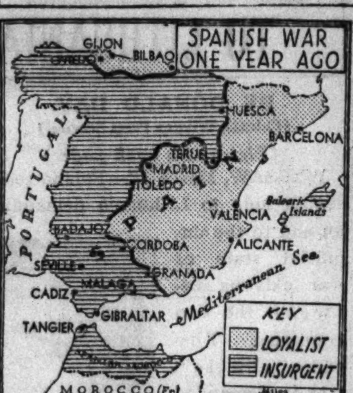
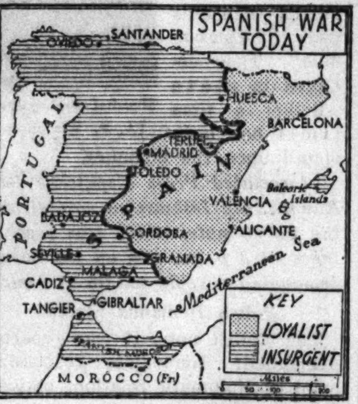
Spanish rebel planes, flying from Palma, yesterday attacked Barcelona in wave after wave, making twelve raids in twenty-four hours and killing more than 600 persons. San Vicente, Tarragona, Vinaroz, and Castellon also were bombed.

Year's Progress in War



The loyalists a year ago had just completed their rout of the rebels in the campaign near Madrid and still held a strip of the northern coast.



The rebels have eliminated the loyalist area in the north and are pressing a drive (indicated by arrow) to reach the Mediterranean.

NAZI TROOPS JAM AUSTRIAN ROADS; HEAD FOR BORDER

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LINZ, Austria, Mach 18.—[Friday.]—German troops, tanks, airplanes, guns, and supply trains have been pouring through here continuously during the past three days. These forces are believed to have been directed toward the border of Czechoslovakia, although another suggestion was that some were sent southward to the Jugo-Slav frontier.

Yesterday thousands of men arrived and went by truck, by horse, afoot, and by plane. Airplanes of the latest type landed and picked up soldier passengers fully equipped. Many of the men seemed to be about 35 years old.

A stream of military vehicles and troops tied up Linz trafic all day. There were many light cannon, some heavy artillery, and several armed motorboats carried on trucks.

HEAR TESTIMONY AGAINST FATHER IN KIDNAP CASE

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 17.—(AP)—Preliminary police testimony was heard today against Forrester Scott, Philadelphia, Pa., attorney and big game hunter. He was accused of trying to abduct his two daughters, Eva, 6 year old, and Zoe, 3 years old, from his divorced wife with the aid of Stanley Boynton, an aviator.

After a brief examination of Detective Captain Lancaster the hearing was adjourned until Monday. Judge Bancroft said he would try Scott on charges of carrying an unlicensed revolver and assaulting the children's nurse, Miss Helen Smith of Wilmington, Del.

NAZI CONQUEST PERILS LIFE OF BRITISH CABINET

Leaders Demand Ouster of Chamberlain.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 17.—The life of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's government was in grave peril tonight.

A mutiny over Chamberlain's cautious policy in dealing with European dictators broke out in the cabinet and precipitated a situation more critical than that which ended in the resignation of Capt. Anthony Eden as foreign secretary.

Political circles discussed the possibility that a group of Conservative members of parliament may torpedo the Chamberlain cabinet and either force his resignation or compel him to make a clear-cut declaration on policy in relation to Adolf Hitler's dream of conquering Czechoslovakia as he did Austria.

Bares Policy Next Week.

Chamberlain, despite his refusal that he be hustled as demanded in the house of commons this afternoon, is preparing to make a statement on his policy next week.

Sixty Conservative parliamentarians announced they had the support of at least five cabinet ministers and also the blessing of Winston Churchill, veteran statesman, behind their demands for definite cabinet pledges on policy in central Europe and Spain.

These five ministers are said to be Leslie Hore-Belisha, secretary of state for war; W. S. Morrison, minister of agriculture and fisheries; Walter E. Elliot, secretary of state for Scotland; W. Ormsby-Gore, secretary of state for colonies, and Malcolm MacDonald, secretary of state for dominions. They will leave the cabinet soon, it is said, unless Chamberlain announces a strong line in foreign affairs.

Sympathetic to Eden.

Political circles also are speculating on whether Chamberlain would be able to survive the departure of this group.

These ministers were reported to have been sympathetic to Eden in last month's crisis when he demanded that Britain treat dictators with an iron hand. They now believe that events have proved he was right.

Chamberlain, on the other hand, has many supporters who believe that the European situation may be cleared up without making drastic commitments. His supporters believe that, despite appearances, Premier Mussolini of Italy is worried about the presence of German soldiers at Brenner pass. They suspect that Chamberlain's tactics, if given time, will weaken the Rome-Berlin axis.

May Ask Eden to Return.

Chamberlain, it is said, will not resist reconstruction of the cabinet in some measure to include opposition groups. Some reports said that Churchill and opposition leaders will be sounded out on participation and that Eden will be invited to return to bolster league of nations sentiment which is being furiously revived.

Labor and Liberal leaders, however, are holding off against these approaches. They insist that Chamberlain must go and another personality who is less opposed to the league, become prime minister.

Churchill has been talking up the league strongly, and his name has been mentioned as a new cabinet leader.

Cry "Chamberlain Must Go."

Admiral Sir Roger Keyes demanded that Churchill, a former first lord of the admiralty, be "given the task of reorganizing the British navy" during a discussion of the new naval estimates.

"As great as our navy is, it is not sufficiently strong to fight Germany in the North Sea and Italy in the Mediterranean and Japan in the far east," the admiral exclaimed.

Says Naval Aviation Lags.

He complained that development of British naval aviation lagged far behind that of the United States and other nations.

Cheers arose when Churchill spoke of "excellent relations prevailing on naval matters between this country and the United States."

"The more ships that are built in the United States the more confidence we have that the cause of peace in the world will be sustained," he said.

Churchill spoke after the government introduced naval estimates for the 1938-'39 fiscal year calling for expenditures increased by about $90,000,000 over the previous year.

Naval Aspirations Told.

Geoffrey Shakespeare, the admiralty's financial secretary, said that by March, 1939, the admiralty hoped to have completed the following: One aircraft carrier, five 11,000 ton cruisers, three destroyer flotillas of eight ships each, 12 submarines, and two submarine depot ships.

Important decisions regarding the ticklish European situation are likely to be made over this week-end. Many leaders are sounding out French opinion. Eden and former Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin are in Paris, and David Lloyd George, wartime prime minister, left for Paris today.

Churchill will go this week-end. The object of his trip is to get first-hand information from the French on their proposals for checking further advancement of Hitler and Mussolini in the Danube basin and in Spain.

Attacks Chamberlain.

Lloyd George lashed at the Chamberlain government's conduct of foreign affairs in a statement before his departure. He said: "I have never in all my political life seen such a mess in foreign affairs. The British policy is in an unholy muddle.

"Our ministry seems to be blind as bats. The British empire and France both have been maneuvered into the worst strategic position possible.

"There is no clear direction, no leadership except in the dictator states. Napoleon knew the strategic advantage of securing Spain in his struggle with Britain, but luckily the British ministry of that day realized the dangers in time."

Demand Action

(Story in adjoining column.)

Five of these six men, conservative members of the British cabinet, are demanding that Prime Minister Chamberlain take definite action to prevent a German coup in Czechoslovakia. The sixth, Winston Churchill, veteran statesman, is behind their demands.

Blum Wins Confidence Vote on French Rearm Program

PARIS, March 17.—(AP)—Premier Leon Blum's four day old cabinet and its billion dollar program for swift rearmament won a 369 to 196 vote of confidence tonight in the chamber of deputies.

Shortly before facing the chamber the cabinet had taken two steps to hasten France's arms building.

It authorized extraordinary expenditures of $134,000,000, mostly for new fighting planes, and decided to ask parliament for additional exceptional armaments credits.

Blum's Offer Rejected.

The vote came only after a minority had rejected his offer to form a national union government—of all parties—to succeed the present Popular Front cabinet.

Most of the deputies were believed to want a national union ministry in the face of the delicate European situation, but not under the leadership of Blum, a Socialist.

Blum had told the chamber he was ready to form such a government, but only on his own terms, with communists and a preponderance of socialists. Pierre Flandin, spokesman for the minority, replied he would not consider entering a cabinet with communists.

The premier's ministerial declaration was received coldly by both houses of parliament despite the vote and the cheers that greeted his demand for stronger French defenses.

Ready to Aid Czechoslovakia.

He said France was compelled to speed up her arms program because Germany's annexation of Austria had shaken the continent and easily might lead to "much more serious" consequences.

Blum assured parliament France would go to extremes to preserve peace, but warned she must fulfill her pledges—a reference to her treaty obligation to aid Czechoslovakia if that country is invaded.

After the Popular Front deputies had rallied to Blum's support on the vote, a foreign affairs debate was scheduled for March 22. Blum had requested a delay to allow Europe's snarled situation to become better clarified.

3 Jap Fishing Boats Seized by U. S. Freed

Los Angeles, Cal., March 17.—[Special.]—Three small Japanese fishing boats, which came into Los Angeles harbor for repairs last Saturday and seized by United States coast guard patrols today, were released by United States District Attorney Benjamin Harrison after a $9 tonnage fee was imposed. The vessels were seized when their officers said they had no flags to display and that they had no papers. According to federal officials, the three boats come under a special regulatory clause of maritime law because none exceeds twenty tons displacement.

RUSSIA PROPOSES WORLD ACTION TO HALT AGGRESSION

Urges U. S. Join Other Powers to Avert War.

MOSCOW, March 17.—(AP)—Soviet Russia today invited world powers to consider joint action against aggressor nations and to prevent "a new world massacre." Maxim Litvinov, Russian commissar for foreign affairs, indicated Germany, Italy and Japan would be ignored when the Russian proposal is offered to various capitals, including Washington, D. C.

Litvinov, disclosing the plan at one of his rare press conferences, did not specifically arrange for a parley of world powers. He said one would be held if it appeared the powers were ready to do something.

He indicated that a call for a world conference would be discussed with other governments after their ambassadors had received his formal statement of Russia's readiness to "take up immediately the consideration of measures which circumstances demand."

Holds All Nations Are Menaced.

Litvinov emphasized that all nations, not only European, were menaced by aggressors' threats to peace and all faced "their responsibility for the destinies of the peoples of Europe and not only of Europe."

"Violence has been perpetrated in the center of Europe," he said, "and has created an indubitable menace not only for eleven countries now contiguous with the aggressor but also for all European states and not only European states."

Foremost in his mind, he said, were the German annexation of Austria, tension on the Polish-Lithuanian frontier, and the danger of a German attack on Czechoslovakia. He cited "the armed invasion of Austria" and "the forcible deprivation of the Austrian people of their political, economic, and cultural independence" as a new warning that aggression must be stopped.

Broaches Czechs' Protection.

Litvinov said he would urge the powers, including the United States, to discuss joint action to protect Czechoslovakia.

The commissar explained the exclusion of "aggressor" nations from the Russian invitation, by declaring "other conferences failed largely because of the strange idea of inviting aggressors." The allusion, it was believed, was to the Brussels conference on the Chinese-Japanese situation.

"Can you ask an aggressor to discuss action against his aggression?" Litvinov asked. "Certainly not."

A Polish correspondent asked him to explain the danger which the commissar said Russia saw in the frontier dispute between Poland and Lithuania.

He replied that he was informed Warsaw crowds had demonstrated with banners inscribed: "Down with Lithuania, down with the Lithuanian frontier!" Such demonstrations, Litvinov said, preceded the world war.

He said he had made "friendly" representations to Poland and expressed hope the differences would be settled amicably.

BERLIN TO ALLOW SCHUSCHNIGG TO CHOOSE HIS HOME

BERLIN, March 17.—(AP)—Nazi spokesmen said tonight Kurt Schuschnigg, Austria's fallen chancellor, would be permitted to decide for himself where to live.

These sources said that if he desired to go abroad he would be permitted to take his belongings, including his savings, as an expression of magnanimity from the Berlin government.

Schuschnigg, reported in various places since Austria's union with Germany, insisted on remaining in greater Germany, it was said in Berlin. Spokesmen said the Berlin government prohibited what was said to be an Austrian Nazi plan to try Schuschnigg on high treason charges.

This is the toy gun marked "G-Man" which he used in several robberies.

Nathan Mogel, 27 years old, a toy gun bandit, who was arrested Saturday by Policewoman Helen Bowder of the detective bureau, was held to the grand jury yesterday on two charges of robbery by Judge Michael G. Kasper in the Felony court. His bond was set at $20,000.

Policewoman Bowder demonstrated to Judge Kasper how she disarmed Mogel of his toy pistol with her real revolver after she had been summoned by Mrs. Louise Yount, owner of a food shop at 1143 Loyola avenue. The latter recognized Mogel as the bandit who, on Feb. 17, took $14. Mogel was making his second trip to the shop when Mrs. Yount recognized him.

GERMANS' FARM PARTY DEMANDS NEW CZECH LAWS

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, March 17. —The German Agrarian party [not Nazi], which supports the Czech government and has a minister in the cabinet, announced today it was willing to continue coöperation with the régime provided four demands were met by immediate legislation. They are:

FIRST—Recognition of the Germans in Czechoslovakia as a people on a status of equality with the majority population.

SECOND—National self-administration in cultural, economic, and social matters.

THIRD—Reparation of past wrongs.

GERMANS ABSORB GENERAL STAF OF AUSTRIAN ARMY

Union of Armed Forces Is Completed.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 17.—Union of the German and Austrian armed forces was completed today when the Austrian general staf was incorporated into the German general staf.

In welcoming the Austrian staf officers, Gen. Ludwig Beck, chief of the German general staf, proclaimed that the "glorious traditions of the former Austrian general staf shall survive in the German general staf.

"We shall proceed to work to fulfil the tasks which the Fuehrer and our Pan-German National Socialist [Nazi] fatherland orders us to do," he said.

Change Tactical Plans.

The great change in the frontier of Pan-Germany is giving Germany new neighbors—Italy, Hungary, Jugo-Slavia, and the little principality of Liechtenstein. This entails a revision of tactical plans of the general staf.

Earlier in the day, the German swastika banner was ceremoniously hoisted on the former Austrian war ministry in Vienna.

Through incorporation of the Austrian forces, the Pan-German army is increased by seven infantry divisions, and one motorized division, thus bringing the total Pan-German army up to 60 divisions. When conscription was introduced, Germany announced the formation of only 12 army corps, or 36 divisions.

Hitler Speaks Today.

BERLIN, March 17.—(AP)—German-Austrian union today loomed as the burden of the declaration Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler will make tomorrow night to the reichstag.

Dissolution of the existing reichstag and the calling of new elections was taken for granted. [The reichstag is the only legislative assembly in Germany; Hitler calls it to hear important pronouncements.]

Since Austria has become a part of Germany, provision must be made for the new province's representation and presumably Germany like Austria will march to the polls April 10, the date of the plebiscite on the annexation.

There was speculation whether Hitler also would discuss the situation in Spain, Czechoslovakia, the free city of Danzig, and the Polish-Lithuanian conflict.

Hitler will begin speaking at 8 p. m. [1 p. m. central standard time] in the Kroll Opera house.

WARM TODAY, BUT KEEP YOUR FURS FOR TOMORROW!

If your teeth chatter when you step out this morning, don't you worry. You'll be basking in bright sunshine and warm breezes by midafternoon, the weather man promises. The mercury probably will get up to 60, which will be 18 degrees above the normal maximum. But——

If your teeth are chattering when you step out tomorrow morning, the weather man, H. A. Downs, says you will just have to let them chatter. His warm weather forecast is strictly a one day treat.

DO YOU BELONG TO HITLER? 'AUSTRIA TOLD TO SAY 'YES'

Nazis Begin Drive for Election Victory.

VIENNA, March 17.—(AP)—The new Austro-German Nazi administration threw its propaganda machine into high gear today to turn out a heavy vote in favor of Austria's union with Germany in the April 10 plebiscite.

A branch of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels' propaganda ministry was set up in a section of the old Austrian parliament building, the Nazi headquarters, to carry out the job.

One of the initial steps was to order 20,000 radio receiving sets from Germany for distribution to remote localities, so that Nazi oratory could be heard in the farthest corner of the land.

Warns Against Overconfidence.

"We are sure we will have a most impressive majority of the people with us," he said. "But it would be a mistake to contend that we will have such a fabulous figure as 95 per cent or more.

"We realize we are in a region where the opposition press has been lambasting Nazis for a long time. We know we will have to work hard for an impressive percentage of 'Yes votes.

"But there will be a most satisfactory majority."

Joseph Buerckel, former commissioner of the German Saar, who is in charge of the plebiscite campaign, said there would be only one multiple question to be answered on April 10: "Are you German, do you belong to your Germany and its Adolf Hitler, or have you nothing to do with us?"

Police Seize "Clericals."

Police announced the arrest of several "clericals" for disseminating disturbing rumors. One rumor was that Premier Mussolini had given back to Germany the South Tyrol, formerly a part of Austria. Another rumor widely circulated was that accidents resulted in the death of several German troops as they entered Austria. It was reported officially seven were killed when a truck slid from an icy highway near Radstadt, a town close to Salzburg.

Hermann Neubacker, Vienna's first antisemitic burgomaster since before the world war, said that he was "hard" and headed an "iron" administration. He promised Vienna a program of public building and the disappearance of unemployment "before the end of this very year."

Jews continued to be the object of Nazi sallies. Stores were placarded and their shelves emptied.

Flags identifying foreigners were worn conspicuously on coat lapels.

HINTS PRESIDENT WILL ASK LARGER STANDING ARMY

Rayburn Startles House with Navy Bill Speech.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—The house was startled today by an intimation from Majority Leader Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.] that President Roosevelt may plead for a larger standing army before next January.

Taking the floor to urge passage of the pending bill to expand the navy at a cost of one billion, 113 millions of dollars, Rayburn painted a disturbing picture of conditions abroad and then added solemnly:

"Looking at the world today and what is happening in the far east and what is happening across the Atlantic I shall be pleased, I shall be happy if before next January we are not called upon to vote more national defense than is contained in this bill."

One Opinion Advanced.

Rayburn refused to amplify this remark, but in view of the fact that the navy, with passage of the present bill, will have a construction program authorized which will occupy it for a dozen years, there was but one interpretation to put upon his statement, in the opinion of members.

More national defense only can mean a strengthening of our land forces, most members agreed. The standing army of the United States has an authorized strength of 165,000 men and 13,000 officers, a total numerical strength of 178,000. The army hopes to be up to full authorized strength by the end of this year, the present total being about 170,000.

Must Have Defense.

While this is a tiny force in comparison with other large world powers, it has been built with the idea of making it the nucleus of a large army in case of impending hostilities.

"Because of conditions throughout the length and breadth of the earth today, the one great safeguard against war between us and any other nation is to let the world know that we are prepared to defend ourselves," Rayburn told the house.

"Does any one believe that Hitler would have been in Austria today if Austria had had the men and the equipment to challenge his advance into that country? Does any one think that Mussolini would have taken Ethiopia if it had been half as well prepared as Italy? Does any one believe that things would have happened in the Mediterranean that have happened if the pacifists of some countries of Europe had not taken charge of them for ten years after the great war?

Troubles in Far East.

"Does any one believe that Japan today would be in the heart of China with its 400 million people if that country had been prepared to resist aggression?

"In this age of dictators, when reason throughout many sections of the earth seems to be dethroned, when ambitions equaling those of the Caesars are showing their ugly heads in many quarters of the earth, when democracy and its right to live and its ability to survive seem to be at the testing point, do you not believe that the democracies should prepare themselves and not yield to dictatorship?"

At this point, Rayburn uttered his hint that developments might cause the President to urge additional national defense appropriations in the next few months.

Concludes General Debate.

Rayburn's speech concluded general debate on the bill. Opponents immediately began to offer amendments in an attempt to whittle down the measure.

The first, suggested by Representative Jennings Randolph [D., W. Va.], would have stricken out of the bill the authorization for three new 35,000 ton battleships, costing $70,000,000 each. Debate raged for an hour on this amendment before it finally was defeated, 98 to 63.

Representative Henry C. Luckey [D., Neb.] then proposed that construction of the three battelships be postponed until after an international conference on limitation of armaments should be called by the President. Rayburn asserted this would tie the President's hands, and the amendment was voted down, 74 to 39.

Half Million Persons Greet Polar Scientists in Moscow

Fog Delays Ship; Hoover Misses Lunch with Prince

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 17.—(AP)—Fog cheated former President Herbert Hoover out of lunch today with Crown Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden. Hoover's steamer from Helsingfors, Finland, was delayed six hours. The prince received the former President in a half hour audience upon the latter's arrival. Hoover will fly to London tomorrow.

WARSAW SENDS AN ULTIMATUM TO LITHUANIA

End Unofficial State of War, Polish Edict.

The German government tonight appealed to Poland not to press her demands on Lithuania to a point where war would become inevitable. The appeal was made through the Nazi ambassador at Warsaw.

Troops Massed on Border.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

WARSAW, March 17.—Polish troops are massed on the Lithuanian frontier, ready to march on Kaunas, if by tomorrow afternoon the Lithuanian government does not give a satisfactory answer to the Polish government's note to Kaunas.

Columns of armored cars, a few divisions of motorized infantry and artillery and several squadrons of bombing planes await orders. The fifty-odd miles separating the frontier from Kaunas can be covered by the mechanized units in two or three hours.

Lithuania Proposes Parley.

PARIS, March 17.—(AP)—Lithuania, through her minister to Paris, tonight notified Poland she was ready to discuss settlement of difficulties between the two nations. The communication was delivered by Minister Petras Klimas of Lithuania to Ambassador Jules Lukasiewicz of Poland.

Klimas, acting in the name of the Lithuanian government, informed Lukasiewicz for transmission to Warsaw that Lithuania was ready to designate a diplomatic representative to meet an authorized representative of Poland. The meeting would be held in a neutral city, possibly Paris.

The task of the two men would be first to define clearly the positions of the two nations, then discuss a possible means of settlement.

May Appeal to League.

GENEVA, March 17.—(AP)—Kazsis Skirpa, Lithuanian delegate to the league of nations, today advised the league his government had submitted proposals to Poland for amicable settlement of their border dispute.

Skirpa reminded Joseph Avenol, the league's secretary general, Lithuania reserved the right to appeal under the league covenant in the event Poland rejected the proposals.

EUROPE'S BATTLE LINES ARE LIKE THOSE OF '14-'18

Italy Again Remains Only Doubtful Nation.

If a general European war should develop today the great combatant powers might find themselves lined up much as they were at the opening of the world war of 1914-1918. Although it is impossible to forecast the alignment of nations in wartime it seems likely that Germany and its new province, Austria, would be opposed to France and Russia and, possibly, Great Britain.

And again the fate of a small nation—Czechoslovakia this time, as it was Serbia in 1914—might plunge Europe into war. With 3,250,000 Germans living within its borders, Czechoslovakia is believed by many observers to be the next goal of Reichsfuehrer Hitler in building the Pan-Germanic union which he has declared he wishes to achieve.

Italian Position Doubtful.

If war should come over this situation the position of Italy is doubtful. Events of recent weeks seemingly indicate that Mussolini and his Fascists would support Nazi Germany. Again, however, there is the parallel between 1938 and 1914-'15, for Italy wavered for ten months before joining England and France against Germany in the world war.

A paper analysis of the two opponents indicates that Germany's position without Italy would be difficult. Germany and Austria together are now prepared, according to reliable records, to place 3,300,000 men in the field immediately. But Czechoslovakia's possible supporters have a total of 27,000,000 under arms. With Italian support the German allied cause could put nearly 10,000,000 men into a war.

Army Is Well Trained.

Germany's army is seasoned, well trained, and well disciplined, equipped with the best and latest types of weapons. Its air force is one of the strongest in the world. There are 5,000 trained pilots and 2,000 first line airplanes. The planes, technically, are the best in Europe. The Nazi navy is inconsequential.

Italy's army and reserves are estimated at 6,300,000 men. An air force of 3,000 pilots and 1,400 planes is second in quality only to Germany. Italy's naval strength is considerable, with 624,000 tons and 67 vessels, including a strong cruiser, destroyer, and submarine fleet.

France's army totals 6,198,000 men including reserves, an air force of 4,000 pilots and 1,500 second grade airplanes, and a naval force of 207 vessels. England's greatest assets are her mighty navy of 406 war vessels, including 16 superdreadnaughts, and her new air force with 4,000 pilots and 1,800 excellent fighting planes. The British army, including reserves, is placed at 1,111,700 men.

Russia's army and expert reserve corps is rated at 19,490,000 men, including 7,000 airplane pilots and 4,700 first class fighting planes. It has no navy.

The Czechoslovakian army consists of 200,000 men with 800,000 reserves. The air force has 566 fighting ships and 800 pilots.

Amazing 'DOUBLE SUDS' of American Family Flakes get silks immaculately clean without hard rubbing

EVERY day, women by the hundreds are changing to American Family Flakes—largely on the advice of friends and neighbors who have learned from first-hand experience that this is the quickest way to SAFELY launder all types of fabrics.

For, without depending upon harmful alkali, or strong chemicals, as cheap soap chips often do—without the need of scrubbing, boiling, or hard, ruinous rubbing—these amazing super-flakes quickly remove dirt and perspiration stains, protecting the delicate colors of your daintiest garments.

A single washing will prove a revelation to you. But your real thrill will come months later when you see how much longer ALL of your washables last.

How American Family Flakes Work These Wonders

Laboratory tests prove that American Family Flakes contain more suds-making material than ordinary flakes, chips or powders. And there you have the secret for the wonders these flakes perform.

This extra suds-making material in American Family Flakes is responsible for their rich, active "DOUBLE-SUDS" which actually float out even the grimiest dirt—without scrubbing, boiling, or hard rubbing.

This is why white fabrics come out with new, snowy whiteness; colored fabrics retain their brilliance and beauty; all washables last surprisingly much longer.

For over ninety years American Family has been the largest selling brand of soap in and around Chicago. Try American Family Flakes and you will quickly prove it is cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes.

There is nothing safer than American Family Flakes for your finest fabrics. And for dishwashing they are unexcelled. They leave your hands soft and smooth. Made by Procter & Gamble.

Life Begins At 40

At 54—Warden LAWES is a Driving Force in the Movement for Penal Reform

Long Experience has helped him make Sing Sing a Model Prison

Warden Lewis E. Lawes
He has changed Sing Sing from an Institution of Punishment to one of Correction

LEWIS E. LAWES has been interested in prison reform since boyhood. Most of his life has been spent searching for a solution to the problems arising from the American penal system.

As a young man, Lawes served as guard in Clinton, Dannemora and Auburn prisons. Later, because of his earnestness and advanced views, he was made head of New York City's Reformatory. There he put into practice his idea that an inmate should be treated as a human being rather than a criminal.

Nineteen years ago, the governor of New York dared him to accept the wardenship of Sing Sing. The average tenure of office for previous wardens over a period of twenty years had been eleven months. Lawes accepted the dare and has been there ever since.

Warden Lawes has done his greatest work since he was 40. He has made Sing Sing an institution of correction rather than one of punishment. He has not only created a fuller life for the convicts within the prison, but by books, articles and radio talks has tried to convince society that it should help these men go straight once they are freed.

His Job Calls for GOOD HEALTH

Warden Lawes must be vigilant and alert at all times. His long firsthand experience with prisons is invaluable, but he could not carry his terrific responsibilities without strong nerves and untiring energy.

Few people live under as great a strain as a prison warden, but all men and women over 40 will be able to capitalize more on their experience, if they are careful of their health and keep their physical energy.

William F. Mackensen—Thinking is clear again

Sells Invention Profitably

Dear Life Begins:

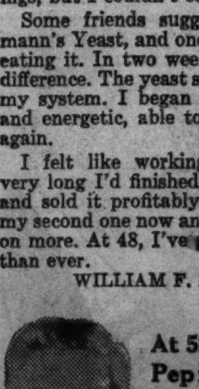
I am a shoe mechanic by trade. I am an inventor, too, and after I finish my day in the shop I go home and work on my ideas.

About 3 years ago, I was working on an invention to last shoes by means of air compression, and I was worried to find I wasn't making headway. In the evenings, I'd feel tired. I'd force myself to get out my papers and drawings, but I couldn't concentrate.

Some friends suggested Fleischmann's Yeast, and one day I started eating it. In two weeks I noticed a difference. The yeast seemed to clear my system. I began to feel strong and energetic, able to think clearly again.

I felt like working—and before very long I'd finished the invention and sold it profitably. I've finished my second one now and I'm working on more. At 48, I've got more ideas than ever.

WILLIAM F. MACKENSEN



Jack Soep Feeling young

At 52 Has More Pep in His Work

Dear Life Begins:

Some time ago I began to get run-down and nervous. I guess doing piece-work had something to do with it, because being paid by output you work very hard—and it's naturally rather nerve-racking.

For a long time nothing I tried helped me at all. Instead, my general condition seemed to get worse. I was troubled a good deal with indigestion and discomfort after meals, and I noticed that I got tired much more easily than before.

I was persuaded to try Fleischmann's Yeast when my wife heard about it from a neighbor. Pretty soon I began to have more interest in my food and I didn't have that discomfort after eating. I found I was getting less and less nervous and that I didn't tire so easily, either.

I am now 52 years of age, but being in good condition I have more pep than I've had for years. I'm a cigar maker, and though the kind of work I do is less in demand than it used to be, I keep as busy as ever.

Herman Feldman Found new health

Back in Better, Paying Job

Dear Life Begins:

3 years ago I was faced with the problem of bringing up my two daughters alone, in addition to holding down my job.

My health began to show the strain I was under. I got run-down, had severe headaches and suffered from indigestion. I was grouchy with the children, too.

I had to give up my job as salesman and take another job with less pay. Then I realized I had to pull myself together and get my health back—or what would happen to my little family?

I saw an ad for Fleischmann's Yeast—and decided to try it. In less than a week the headaches began to go. Gradually I was able to eat anything I wanted without digestive upset. My general health was better, too.

With new pep and energy, I went back to my real job as salesman, with its better pay. My grouchiness disappeared—and it's great having my daughters tell me I'm a grand person now.—HERMAN FELDMAN

Slower Digestion Is Often to Blame for Too Early Aging

KEEPING HEALTH after 40 may be a very simple matter. In many people, it is only digestion that needs a little help. Around 40, the digestive juices are likely to flow less freely and lose their full strength.

Many people have found eating Fleischmann's Yeast an easy way to regain youthful energy. This natural food helps bring about a fuller, more powerful gastric flow. Its special stimulating effect comes from millions of tiny, live yeast plants—present only in fresh yeast.

Also, this valuable health food gives you a sure daily supply of 4 vitamins—the Nerve Vitamin, the Bone Vitamin, the Cold-Resistance Vitamin and the Vitality Vitamin. Their names tell you how important each one is to your health.

You'll soon learn to like the fresh, malty taste of Fleischmann's Yeast. Eat 3 cakes every day—one cake ½ hour before a meal. The proper time is important—so that the fuller flow of gastric juices may be ready for prompt digestive action.

TRY TO PUT OVER PROCESSING LEVY AS TAX BILL RIDER

Seek 200 Millions More for Farm Bounties.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—The Roosevelt administration will attempt to add a $200,000,000 a year system of processing taxes, euphemistically disguised as tarif equalization fees, to the general tax revision bill already passed by the house and now pending in the senate finance committee.

Senator James P. Pope [D., Idaho], it was learned today, will offer tomorrow the processing tax amendment which is being drafted for him by experts of the department of agriculture and the bureau of internal revenue. The new processing taxes were proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and Senator Pope said he understood they were "not inconsistent with the views of President Roosevelt."

Provides Bounties for Farmers.

The processing taxes, if enacted, would make available $200,000,000 a year to be distributed in bounties to farmers in addition to the present outlay of $500,000,000 a year in so-called soil conservation payments. The recently enacted farm dictatorship bill authorized continuance of the existing soil conservation payments and in addition provided for subsidies toward a "parity" price for farm commodities, when and if the funds should be made available.

The proposed processing taxes would become effective immediately, but no payments, beyond the 500 million dollars in soil conservation bounties, would be made available to farmers on their 1938 crops. On their 1939 crops they would get a total of 700 million dollars. The additional funds would not be sufficient to give the farmers a parity price—the equivalent in farm purchasing power as compared with the base period of 1909-1914—but would be prorated according to the price levels for wheat, cotton, corn, tobacco, and rice.

Rates About Half of Old Act.

Generally speaking, the proposed processing taxes are about half the rates imposed in connection with the agricultural adjustment act of 1933, which the Supreme court held unconstitutional. The old rate on wheat was 30 cents a bushel, while the new rate is to be graduated from .3 of 1 cent to ½ cent a pound on flour, according to the quality of the product, the lower rates for bread and the higher ones for cake and pastry flour. The flour rates would be equivalent to a tax of 15 cents a bushel on wheat.

The old tax on corn was 5 cents a bushel, while the proposed tax would be an amount on corn meal, yet to be determined, which would represent the equivalent of 2½ cents a bushel.

The former tax on cotton was 4.2 cents a pound, while the proposed tax would be imposed on the cotton yarn and graduated from ⅛ cent to 6 cents a pound, according to the trade number of the yarn indicating its fineness.

Rice and Tobacco Rates.

The old tax on rice was 1 cent a pound and the proposed tax is ½ cent. The proposed rates on tobacco are to be the equivalent of one-half the old rates, which were 4.2 cents a pound for flue cured, 2 cents for fire cured, and 6 cents for burley.

Under the old AAA there was a processing tax of $2.25 a hundred on hogs, but it is not proposed to revive this excise.

The taxes would be called "tarif equalization fees" in the hope of avoiding some of the odium that attached to the old processing taxes, which concededly were nothing but sales taxes passed on to the housewives when they bought their bread, pork, cotton garments, etc. The theory of the proponents is that the farmer would receive a fee offsetting the effects of the industrial tarif upon the things he has to buy.

Put Levies on Processors.

Senator Pope said the excises would be levied upon the processed articles rather than upon the raw commodities as under the old AAA to prevent processors from passing the tax on to the farmers. He conceded, however, that the taxes would be passed on to the consumers.

Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, expressed the hope that Senator Pope would not "complicate" his committee hearings on the tax bill with the new processing levies, but Pope said he would be compelled to seek action by the committee. If he did not and offered his amendment on the senate floor he would be asked why the committee hadn't considered it.

As the committee began hearings on the new tax bill today, it became apparent that President Roosevelt is in danger of losing not only his undistributed profits tax of 1936 but his soak the rich taxes of 1935 as well.

May Lower Surtax Rates.

A majority of the committee members, including Chairman Harrison, favor abolition of the 1935 surtaxes on individual incomes, which reach a maximum of 75 per cent, and returning to the former surtaxes reaching a maximum of 60 per cent. Senator Harrison contends that the soak the rich surtaxes reached the point of diminishing returns.

Roswell Magill, undersecretary of the treasury, admitted that even the theoretical maximum loss in revenue that would result from lowering the surtaxes to a maximum of 60 per cent would be no more than $20,000,000. L. H. Parker, tax expert for the joint congressional committee on internal revenue, said the theoretical maximum loss would be less than that figure.

Mr. Parker maintained such reductions would produce more revenue, for they would encourage the withdrawal of capital from tax exempt securities for investment in enterprise, thus stimulating business activity and increasing taxable income.

Expect Flat Corporate Tax.

It is a foregone conclusion that the finance committee will throw out the tax on undistributed corporation earnings and substitute instead a flat corporation income tax that will produce the desired revenue. Mr. Magill was asked to bring estimates on rates ranging from 16 to 19 per cent, but Chairman Harrison said the figures he brought were "inconclusive" and demanded further enlightenment.

Claude W. Dudley, counsel for the Millers' National federation, of Chicago, told the committee today the house bill, while drastically modifying the undistributed profits tax, still retained its principle and therefore was bad.

"Our members are unqualifiedly in favor of the repeal of this tax," he said, "even though it may be necessary for revenue purposes to increase substantially the rates of normal income tax on corporations. They believe that this tax has retarded business recovery, that it is basically unsound in principle in that it penalizes thrift and conservatism in management of corporate affairs. This tax is so generally condemned that it ought to be abandoned entirely."

How to make quick progress in school is being learned for the first time by a group of 19 gypsy children who have a room of their own in the Smyth school at 1059 West 13th street. Miss Lillian Guinea, the teacher, found that many of these children who had had no formal education could be promoted rapidly after a short time. They are from 6 to 14 years old. Several have been promoted to third and fourth grade work. The class originally had 24 gypsy children. Among the pupils are Palestine Mahoney, 7 years old, and Lillie George, 8 years old.

100 FAMILIES—HOW THEY REACT TO A DEPRESSION

Weaknesses Intensified, Survey Shows.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

How 100 white Chicago families reacted to the depression is shown in a survey to be published shortly by the University of Chicago Press. The families were studied for more than eight years—a period covering the days before and after the depression, as well as the depression itself.

The authors, Mrs. Katherine Ranck and Mrs. Ruth S. Cavan, conclude that those who deteriorated and disintegrated did so not because of the depression; that at most it intensified tendencies already in evidence, but did not cause them.

Case Records of Families Kept.

Mrs. Ranck is chief of social service at the Institute for Juvenile Research, 907 South Wolcott avenue, where case records of the 100 families of varying economic and religious groups were supplemented by special interviews. Mrs. Cavan is associated with Rockford college at Rockford. Prof. Ernest W. Burgess of the University of Chicago sociology department acted as an adviser in the work.

The study showed no marked tendency toward mental disease, suicide, or crime except in persons who already had shown a tendency toward such. Among the members of the 100 families, six revealed serious demoralization, but unemployment did not initiate the demoralization.

"Mr. O. solved the problem of adjustment to unemployment by excessive drinking," Mrs. Ranck and Mrs. Cavan write. "He had always liked to drink and play cards. Unemployment was discouraging and he drank at every opportunity.

Improves After Getting Job.

"Mr. S. was always irritable and difficult to live with, but there were no marked material conflicts until he lost his job. Then he began to drink excessively, and was abusive to his wife and unfaithful to her. This conduct continued during the two years of unemployment. When he again found work, his conduct improved."

Young persons were interviewed separately from their families. Twenty of the girls interviewed were married. Four were unsuccessful marriages.

"In only one was the husband's unemployment considered a large factor," the report reads. "Disorganization of the other three focused around illicit sex relations before marriage.

"On the other hand, the markedly happy marriages are found among people with low incomes or on relief. It seems clear from reading the records that many elements are more pertinent to the success of marriage than financial status."

Boys and Girls Help Out.

Both girls and boys generally contributed all or most of their earnings to their families, the study revealed. Unemployment and low wages created dissatisfaction, restlessness, and resentment, but there was no evidence that young men and women as a result of the depression were led into illicit sex relations or crime, but only when these activities were habitual. Delayed marriages, thwarted educational ambitions, and restricted social contacts were found to be results of the depression.

Forty-eight families of the 100 were classified as well organized. Characteristics of these families were family pride and solidarity, personal adjustment of parents to each other, to their children, saving for children's education, coördinated efforts to buy a home.

"The modern urban family is usually pictured as an isolated unit," the authors write. "It is assumed that only in the small community do neighbors aid one another and relatives stand together in times of crisis. Nevertheless, in twenty-seven of the families studied there was evidence of strong unity either in the immediate family or in the larger family. New functions of group responsibility were developed in these families."

JAPANESE SEND 4 NEW DIVISIONS TO NORTH CHINA

Will Bolster Both Sides of Central Front.

SHANGHAI, March 18.—[Friday.]—(AP)—Chinese defended their last real strongholds north of the Yellow river today against heavy Japanese attacks in southern Shantung province.

Official Chinese sources said four divisions of Japanese reinforcements had reached Tientsin from Manchukuo. They said the troops would be used to bolster both sides of Japan's central front offensive—along the Tientsin-Pukow railroad on the coast and the Peking-Hankow line inland.

Restrict Trafic on Yangtze.

Japanese naval authorities delivered notes to foreign consular officials warning against trafic in a "danger zone" along the Yangtze's north shore.

Restriction of trafic would create a serious problem for Shanghai as it would hamper movement of foodstuffs from one of the city's major sources. Both sides reported victories in the area surrounding Shanghai to the south and west.

Chinese asserted they had forced a Japanese garrison of 800 soldiers to evacuate Huchow, in the Lake Tai sector, in a surprise night attack.

Raid Inland Airdromes.

Japanese air power again struck on a wide front. Eighty air raiders were said to have damaged the Hankow and Nanchang airdromes in the interior. Foochow and Tsunghwa, near Canton in the south, were raided, Japanese said, and several railroad bridges blown up.

Chinese said Japanese planes machine gunned populous business districts of Sian, in Shensi province.

Two Naval Flyers Killed as Ship Crashes and Burns

San Diego, Cal., March 17.—(AP)—A naval scouting bomber plunged 2,500 feet to earth, exploded, and burned today, killing its two occupants, Aviation Cadet Herbert W. Younkman, Jersey City, N. J., and Machinist's Mate Junius D. Murry, Puyallup, Wash. Navy authorities said the plane was flying in formation with two other planes when it suddenly fell.

LAUNCH PURGE OF NON-CIO COAL BOARD WORKERS

Four Publicity Division Members Fired.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—A purge of non-C. I. O. employés in the national bituminous coal commission was launched today as John L. Lewis, C. I. O. leader and head of the United Mine Workers of America, and Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.], author of the act which set up a little NRA in the soft coal industry, heightened their hold on the commission.

Percy Tetlow.

Four men in the publicity section of the commission were fired by order of the board at a secret meeting. The order sent a wave of apprehension through the commission staf.

Many Fear for Jobs.

Employés, who do not owe allegiance to the C. I. O. or are not sympathetic to the organization, feared for their jobs. It was reported that the Lewis-Guffey combination intends to clear the commission of every one who does not wear the C. I. O. stamp.

The press division was abolished as the commission prepared to announce the policy under which it will fix new minimum prices for soft coal to replace those it was forced to suspend. Suspension came after courts upheld legal attacks against czarism in the fixing of the prices.

As the purge was begun it was revealed that Chairman Charles P. Hosford Jr., who resigned Monday, was pushed out by Lewis. Efforts had been made to give the impression that Hosford had resigned in order to go into private business.

Lewis Leader in Chair.

The meeting today found Percy Tetlow, a Lewis appointee and a C. I. O. leader, in the chair. He introduced a resolution calling upon Hosford to make his resignation public tomorrow and get out of the commission immediately. Hosford's resignation was announced from the steps of the White House Monday by Senator Guffey. Mr. Roosevelt on Tuesday expressed the hope that Hosford would remain at his post until April 30.

The adoption of the Tetlow resolution confirmed reports that Lewis had ousted Hosford in order to get a chairman more amenable to his will. Tetlow's assumption of the chairman's seat without the formality of election as temporary chairman, indicated he is the Lewis choice for the post. It had been believed that the post might go to Pleas Greenlee of Indiana, an appointee of Former Governor Paul V. McNutt, who has joined the Lewis faction.

Still Bars Illinois Member.

The developments indicated that there is little hope that Illinois, the third largest soft coal producing state, will get a seat on the commission. Lewis intends to punish the state because its miners withdrew from his union and joined the Progressive Mine Workers of America, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis [D., Ill.], who sought unsuccessfully to get support from Lewis and Guffey for his advocacy of an Illinois chairman of the commission, said he would continue to press for Illinois representation on the board.

Illinois 7th in Anti-Syphilis Campaign for Contributions

With $4,699 contributed, Illinois ranks seventh among the states in the American Social Hygiene association's campaign to raise an anti-syphilis war chest of $500,000, Donald C. Dougherty, national campaign manager, said yesterday on his arrival in Chicago. The national total thus far is $121,012. New York state leads with $6,030. Orville J. Taylor is the chairman of the Illinois campaign committee.

MOTHER WILLING TO GIVE SON EYE TELLS OFFERS OF 8 OTHERS

Lansdale, Pa., March 17.—(AP)—A mother who wished to sacrifice an eye so her son might see disclosed today that eight strangers in scattered parts of the country had made similar offers.

Mrs. William Laverty, wife of a North Wales mill worker, said she turned over letters containing the offers to a surgeon who examined her son, Roger. She withheld the names.

The boy's eyes were impaired by an illness he suffered a year ago. The sight of one is gone. The other is fading.

Six of the eight strangers, Mrs. Laverty said, asked money in return for their eyes.

J. Edgar Hoover's Story of 2 Fish and a Seagull

Miami Beach, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—A seagull and a mackerel went after the pilchard, a small fish used as bait, at the same time today. The mackerel got it but the seagull almost got the mackerel, lifting it from the water by its head before dropping it and flying away. The authority for the yarn is J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men.

HULL OUTLINES FOREIGN POLICY BASED ON PEACE

Terms of U. S. Program One of Co-operation.

underlie international order, shall work unceasingly—singly or in coöperation with each other, as circumstances, their traditional policies and practices, and their enlightened self-interest may dictate—to promote and preserve law, order, morality, and justice as the unshakable bases of civilized international relations."

The secretary then proceeded to argue that to refuse such coöperation would react disastrously upon our own welfare.

"It would mean that our security would be menaced in proportion as other nations came to believe that, either through fear or through unwillingness, we did not intend to afford protection to our legitimate national interests abroad, but, on the contrary, intended to abandon them at the first sign of danger. Under such conditions, the sphere of our international relationships—economic, cultural, intellectual, and other—would necessarily shrink and shrivel, until we would stand practically alone among the nations, a self-constituted hermit state.

Opposes U. S. Isolation.

"Thrown back upon our own resources, we would find it necessary to reorganize our entire social and economic structure. The process of adaptation to a more or less self-contained existence would mean less production and at higher costs, lower living standards, regimentation in every phase of life, economic distress to wage earners and farmers, and to their families, and the dole, on an ever-increasing scale.

"All this we would be doing in pursuit of the notion that by so doing we would avoid war. But would these policies, while entailing such enormous sacrifices and rendering the nation more and more decadent, really give us any such assurance?

"Reason and experience definitly point to the contrary. We may seek to withdraw from participation in world affairs, but we cannot thereby withdraw from the world itself. Isolation is not means to security; it is a fruitful source of insecurity."

The American aim, said Mr. Hull, is to live in a world in which "fruitful and constructive international relationships" serve as a medium for the dissemination of the benefits of material, spiritual, and moral progress.

Urges Coöperation.

"To that end," he went on, "we will continue to give full and sincere adherence to the fundamental principles which underlie international order; we will continue to urge universal acceptance and observance of these principles; we will continue, wherever necessary and in every practicable and peaceful way, to coöperate with other nations which are actuated by the same desires and are pursuing the same objectives; we will persevere in appropriate efforts to safeguard our legitimate rights and interests in every part of the world; and we will, while scrupulously respecting the rights of others, insist on their respecting our rights."

Mr. Hull started out by reviewing his efforts to procure universal acceptance of the principles of international morals: The sanctity of treaty obligations, nonintervention in the internal affairs of other countries, industrial and commercial equality and limitation and reduction of armaments. Failure to accept and observe these tenets, he asserted, is what has engendered the danger that "international anarchy based on brute force will inundate the world and ultimately sweep away the very bases of civilization and progress."

Defends Action in China.

Then the secretary entered into an extended defense of the protection of American interests in China and refusal to withdraw American forces from the scene of the Sino-Japanese conflict. All nations traditionally have protected their nationals abroad, said Mr. Hull.

"Methods and means of affording protection abroad," he continued, "vary according to the places in which and the circumstances under which protection is called for. In the case of China, where unusual local conditions were such that the protection afforded by local authorities did not suffice to give security against excited and lawless elements, there have occasionally been sent—not by this country alone, but by a number of countries—armed forces, to contribute to the affording of such protection as is due under the rules of international law and the provisions of treaties.

Nonaggression Program.

"American forces thus sent to China have at no time had any mission of aggression, and it has been the practice of the American government to withdraw such forces whenever and as soon as the local situation so develops as to warant the view that their withdrawal can be effected without detriment to American interests and obligations in general.

"To waive rights and to permit interests to lapse in the face of their actual or threatened violation—and thereby to abandon obligations—in any important area of the world, can serve only to encourage disregard of law and of the basic principles of international order, and thus contribute to the inevitable spread of international anarchy throughout the world. For this country, as for any country, to act in such manner anywhere would be to invite disregard and violation of its rights and interests everywhere, by every nation so inclined, large or small."

In a world in which force rules, it is the duty of a nation, said Mr. Hull, to provide for its adequate defense. Convincing reasons have been given by the navy, he thought, that the pending billion dollar navy increase bill will provide such defense for the United States.

Favors Adequate Defense.

"No policy," the secretary contended, "would prove more disastrous than for an important nation to fail to arm adequately when international lawlessness is on the rampage. It is my considered judgment that, in the present state of world affairs, to do less than is now proposed would lay our country open to unpredictable hazards. It would, moreover, seriously restrict our nation's ability to command, without purpose or occasion for resorting to arms, proper respect for its legitimate rights and interests, the surrender of which would constitute abandonment of the fundamental principles of justice and morality and peace among nations."

Prefacing a denial that any entangling alliances or understandings have been contracted with Great Britain or other powers, Mr. Hull said that no nation alone can undertake to procure respect for the principles of right international conduct.

Would Confer with Others.

"Prudence and common sense," he continued, "dictate that, where this and other nations have common interests and common objectives, we should not hesitate to exchange information and to confer with the governments of such other nations and, in dealing with the problems confronting each alike, to proceed along parallel lines—this government retaining at all times its independence of judgment and freedom of action. For nations which seek peace to assume with respect to each other attitudes of complete aloofness would serve only to encourage, and virtually invite, on the part of other nations lawlessly inclined, policies and actions most likely to endanger peace."

400 Men and Truck Fleet Pass Out Telephone Books

Four hundred men with a fleet of trucks began the distribution of Chicago's new alphabetical telephone directories yesterday. It is expected that all subscribers will have copies by April 1. The Illinois Bell company has explained that the old directories are taken in exchange, so that only correct listings can be used. The new directory's 1,408 pages contain approximately 670,000 listings, 29,000 more than the last one.

MAP MAKERS ARE KEPT ALERT BY AUSTRIAN SHIFT

Germany's annexation of Austria and the possibility of other frontier changes in Europe have map makers on the alert. Officials of Rand McNally & Co. said yesterday that they are taking orders for new maps which will be published as soon as the plebiscite ordered by Reichsfuehrer Hitler formally confirms Austria's position as a German province.

Helmuth Day of the Rand McNally cartography department said that the present symbol on Vienna will be changed to denote it as an ordinary city and not as a capital. No map alterations have been made yet for China and Spain. Ethiopia, which was conquered by Mussolini, is marked on new maps as Italian East Africa.

20,000 SOLDIERS OPEN WAR GAME TESTS IN HAWAII

HONOLULU, T. H., March 17.—(AP)—Approximately 20,000 officers and men, under Maj. Gen. Charles D. Herron, today began the Hawaii department's annual maneuvers. For fifteen days the soldiers will test the efficiency of the army's greatest troop concentration and determine their ability to defend Oahu Island and Pearl Harbor.

New equipment, including high speed tanks and airplanes, will be used.

The exercises will be concurrent with the sham attack against Pearl Harbor, expected about March 23, by the United States fleet, now engaged in secret maneuvers.

LOBBY BATTLES FOR ROOSEVELT REVAMPING BILL

Exerts Pressure in Fight for Senate Votes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—The most powerful administration lobby that has been seen or felt on Capitol hill since the death of the Supreme court packing bill last year was turned upon the senate today in an effort to save President Roosevelt's bill to reorganize the federal government.

Postmaster General James A. Farley was on the telephone all day appealing to the party loyalty of Democratic senators and conveying mild threats to those who are up for reelection this year. At least six senators told of receiving telegrams from the governors of their states, who had been enlisted in the campaign to save the President from defeat on the reorganization bill. Other senators told of receiving telegrams and long distance telephone calls from the Democratic chairmen of their states, whose services had been enlisted by Mr. Farley, the national chairman.

Senators Buttonholed.

The corridors of the capitol and the senate office building were crawling with bureau chiefs and heads of various government establishments, all buttonholing senators.

Promises were made by high administration officials to at least three senators that their pet bureaus would not be molested under the proposed reorganization law if they would stand back of the President.

Senatorial denunciation of the lobbying activities on the part of the administration reached its climax late this afternoon when Senator Lynn J. Frazier [Rad., N. D.] rose in his place in the senate and exhibited a stack of telegrams indicating that the Works Progress administration, which dispenses relief billions, was active in the lobby.

"The people of my state," said Senator Frazier, "particularly mayors of cities, state, and county officials, somehow or other have the impression that the WPA work in North Dakota will be stopped if I don't support the reorganization bill."

Telegrams Pour In

Senator Frazier then read some of the telegrams. One of them, from a county commissioner, said: "Please support the reorganization bill in order that we may have WPA work in North Dakota."

A telegram from a city official said: "Economic conditions are bad. Important that President's reorganization bill be passed to continue WPA."

The administration lobby was directed primarily against an amendment by Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], leader of the fight against the court packing bill last year, and the man whom the administration hates and fears above all others in congress. Senator Wheeler's amendment would emasculate the reorganization bill by requiring congressional approval, by joint resolution, to make effective any presidential order transferring, consolidating, or abolishing bureaus and independent agencies.

Other Side Filibusters.

Yesterday the opposition commanded enough votes to adopt the Wheeler amendment, but Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky sent Senator Allen J. Ellender [D., La.] in to filibuster. Today the administration forces, after a night and morning of missionary work, threats, blandishments, promises, and assurances, apparently commanded enough votes to defeat the Wheeler amendment and Majority Leader Barkley was ready to call the roll. However, Senator Wheeler, field marshal of the opposition, organized a filibuster on the other side and let Barkley stew in his own juice.

Despite the evidence and repeated accusations of administration lobbying, involving the threatened suspension of WPA relief work, Senator Sherman Minton [D., Ind.] announced after the senate adjourned that his inquisitorial committee would meet tomorrow to investigate a lobby against the reorganization bill. Minton succeeded Hugo L. Black, the former Ku Klux Klansman whom President Roosevelt appointed to the Supreme court, as the administration's inquisitor general.

Holt Denounces Lobbyists.

Senator Rush D. Holt [D., W. Va.], who spoke for more than two hours today, denounced the lobby committee as "an instrument to blackjack American public opinion" and challenged it to call James Roosevelt, son of the President, or Joseph B. Keenan, patronage manager of the justice department.

"I read in the newspapers that the lobby committee, formerly known as the Black committee before Black turned white, was going to investigate the fact that somebody is fighting this reorganization bill," Senator Holt said. "They know somebody is fighting it, so they are going to pull him out and hold him up to the fire and fry him before all the people and say he is a bad fellow, because he is fighting the administration.

"What United States senator has not been smeared that dared open his mouth? O, yes, Mr. President, you know the smearing gang that is let loose. So it is that the lobby committee is going to get these boys who are slipping around the corridors. But do not worry; they will not get the administration crowd. They will not get Joe Keenan. They will not get Jimmy Roosevelt.

Asks About Jimmy's Lunches.

"I ask the lobby committee if it is going to investigate the administration lobby. There has never been an administration man in the history of this administration haled before the committee. Why not ask Jimmy Roosevelt about his lunches back there where he tells senators what to do. Why not ask certain assistants to come up here who grab you and run off and say the President wants this and the President wants that."

Senator Holt charged that spineless members of the congress were afraid to vote their own convictions on any pending question without first going to the telephone and asking, "Mr. President, what are your wishes today?"

Senator Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.] interposed the suggestion that when Germany took over Austria Dictator Hitler did not go to parliament and obtain legislation to give his project the appearance of constitutionality.

"That is correct," said Senator Holt. "Of course, they did the same thing down in Brazil." He then read a newspaper dispatch, quoting President Roosevelt as saying upon his departure from Brazil in November, 1936: "I am leaving you tonight with great regret. There is one thing, however, that I shall remember, and that is that it was two people who invented the New Deal—the president of Brazil and the President of the United States."

"Two men invented the New Deal—Vargas of Brazil and Roosevelt of the United States," Holt continued. "I am not saying this. The President said that Vargas and he got together. If you are a member of the legislative branch down in Brazil they have got you. The president can nullify the acts of the legislature at any time, and he has the power to gag the members. He may intervene in state governments, abolish state legislatures. That is what is happening down in Brazil, and the President says that he and Vargas got together."

Senator Holt referred to President Roosevelt's statement that he wanted Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.] to remain in the senate and not run for governor.

In Doubt About "We."

"The President said, 'we' want to keep a certain gentleman in the senate," Holt declared. "He wanted to keep him in the senate to save his face. There is no question about that. But 'We' wanted him. Even the President's son, the crown prince of the New Deal, has made such statements. He is a lieutenant colonel of the United States marines, although he never had any service, even in the R. O. T. C. He was made a lieutenant colonel of United States marines, although it usually take a man twenty-five years after leaving West Point to attain that rank.

"He has just returned from the wars to tell congress what to do about the reorganization bill. But before he went off to the wars he said that 'We' wanted a certain senator from Florida [Claude Pepper]. The President said that 'We' meant Vargas and himself, but I do not know to whom the 'We' referred in the case of Jimmy."

Senator Holt charged that administration "blacklisting" had been used to punish senators and "even little stenographers and clerks" in the bureaus, just because they were friends of blacklisted senators.

St. Patrick's Girl

Hollywood, Cal., March 17.—[Special.]—The movie colony here is quite willing to admit that today was Maureen O'Sullivan's day. She always gets more contributions from her fans on St. Patrick's day than on any other day. They sent her shamrocks—hundreds of them—green wearing apparel, and even poems full of Irish sentiment.

A MR. S. KALETA PUTS IRISH UMPH IN ERIN GO BRAGH

The shouts of "Erin go bragh," as uttered by Mr. Stanley Kaleta early yesterday, were not convincing as to accent, but they certainly were loud enough to satisfy the most patriotic son of the old sod. Mrs. Kaleta, however, not being a son of the old sod, called the police to the Kaleta cottage at 3024 West 24th place.

Later in the day Mr. Kaleta faced Judge Samuel Heller in the Fillmore street court.

"But surely," said Judge Heller, "you are not an Irishman."

"I am not, judge," said Kaleta, "but the Irish are a great people. I am glad to help them celebrate."

LIBERTY OF U. S. CALLED SAFE IN HANDS OF IRISH

"The Irish are traditional lovers of freedom. American liberty will never give way to communistic delusion while Irish hearts are strong."

Thus Dr. Clarence E. Marion, professor of constitutional law at the University of Notre Dame, voiced the feelings of members of the Irish Fellowship Club of Chicago, who met last night in the Palmer house for their annual St. Patrick's day banquet.

Professor Jerome G. Kerwin, University of Chicago economist, also spoke. An address of welcome from Daniel J. McGrath, Irish consul, was read by Homer J. Buckley, president of the club.

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH IN OULD SHAMROCK DON THE GREEN FOR ST. PAT

Shamrock, Pa., March 17.—(AP)—Shamrock was Irish with the rest of the world today—right down to the last one of its twenty-six Pennsylvania Dutch families. There wasn't a Kelly, a Burke, or a Shea in sight, but the green sprigs of the emerald isle blossomed all over the place in celebration of St. Patrick's day. An Irish railroad crew named the town half a century ago.

Herman and Frieda Wear Green.

Ireland, Ind., March 17.—(AP)—There isn't a Bridget or Michael in this German populated town of 275, but every Herman and Frieda wore green today in honor of John Stewart, this Ireland's St. Patrick.

'Tis said Stewart drove out the snakes in 1816. The town changed its name to American City and the snakes came back. The name was changed back and the snakes left.

AMERICA'S ENVOY BOWS TO KING ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 17.—Joseph Patrick Kennedy, first United States ambassador of Irish descent, celebrated St. Patrick's day by attending a full dress levee in St. James's palace. Kennedy wore white tie and tailcoat and bowed to King George VI. of Great Britain.

The king and others wore not only medals and decorations, but also the collars of their orders. Surrounded by army and navy officers and representatives of church and state, all in the fullest full dress, the king stood before the throne while Kennedy and other diplomats filed past and bowed as their names were called. The king responded with a nod of his head.

COUNTRY STORE

By CALEB

HAVE you ever lived in the country?

If you have, you'll never forget the village store that served the community—and served it well—twenty-five or thirty years ago.

When you swung the door open in the wintertime a little bell jangled above it. You stomped the snow from rubber overshoes and, closing the door behind you, you shut out the knife-keen air and silvery jingle of sleigh bells and the sounds of horses' hoofs and sled runners squeaking on hard-packed snow.

You exchanged greetings: "Hi, Ed; 'lo, Todd; hy'ya, Harry." Replies, warm and cordial, came back from the circle.

Hands tingling, you held them out to the stove, stretching, rubbing fingers in grateful warmth. A hum of conversation rose. "Is the road broke through past the Elton place?" "Paper says more snow today and tomorrow." "The 10:57's an hour late already." "Looks like the worst storm since December '99."

Homely, cordial warmth topped by a greeting from the country storekeeper—genuinely glad to see you. Fumbling for a scrap of paper, you began to read to him: "1 sack flour; 2 gals. kerosene (can's under the cutter seat); 1 spool 40 white thread . . ."

An hour later, a stock of groceries and three yards of bolt goods on the seat beside you, a sack of buckwheat flour in the straw under your feet, you tucked in the fur robe, waved to a cluster of faces dimly seen through the frost-etched windows, called out to the horse, and headed for home—your shopping trip over for the day—or perhaps the week.

The country store of yesterday performed well a humble and useful task just as does the small local merchant of today. What it lacked in merchandise and facilities, it made up in complete honesty, in friendly, sincere interest in every customer's problems, and in a complete knowledge—gained by long experience—of what the community needed.

The modern department store bears little physical resemblance to its crossroads forbear. At heart, however, it has the same integrity, the same friendliness and sincerity, and the same interest in its customers' problems. Without these qualities, it fails to justify its place in the community.

Will Submit Specific Facts on Marble Claim Case.

investigating committee how his company reaped half a million dollars' profit, or 400 per cent, on its sale of phosphate lands to the Tennessee Valley authority.

This was Watson's declaration tonight on the eve of another White House conference between President Roosevelt and TVA directors over mounting reports of corruption and waste in the administration's vast socialistic experiment. Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, TVA chairman, mentioned phosphate land deals as one reason for his demanding congressional inquiry.

"I would welcome a chance to tell congress all about the transaction," asserted Watson. "The TVA got the best available phosphate deposits at a very cheap price."

Offers His Explanation.

Watson's explanation of the deal, the first since news of the bargain leaked out, was offered in an interview on his return from a vacation in the south. The agricultural corporation, of which he is president, is composed of a group sometimes known as the Wall street farmers.

"We are constantly buying and selling phosphate lands in our business of manufacturing fertilizer," Watson said. "In fact, we handle more phosphate lands than any other concern in the country. In this transaction with TVA we followed the same course any good business would. If a company had gold or copper deposits it wasn't using out west it would be glad to find a purchaser. Well, this is the same thing."

An effort to obtain specific details as to who put over the deal or just how the price of the lands was determined met with Watson's reply that those were matters between the TVA and his company.

"Of course, I'll tell the congressional committee about it if I'm called," he added.

Denies Paying Commissions.

According to Watson's recollection, his company had bought the lands originally before TVA came into existence. Not a cent of commissions was paid to any one for putting over the sale to TVA, he declared. It is rumored that Harcourt A. Morgan, a TVA director specializing in fertilizers, had his finger in the pie.

Harcourt Morgan, who, with his fellow director, David E. Lilienthal, is striving to drive Chairman Morgan from the board, is distributing the phosphates free to farmers living in the Tennessee valley.

The tidy profit made by International Agricultural corporation was announced at a meeting of stockholders on Jan. 25 of this year and reported in the Standard Corporation Record, a financial periodical, as follows:

"Profit of $527,185 made from sale of land to TVA, Jan. 25, 1938, J. J. Watson, president, informed stockholders at annual meeting that sale of certain phosphate rock lands in Tennessee to Tennessee Valley authority resulted in a net profit of $527,185 to the company."

The sale involved the outright purchase of 338 acres of land by TVA and the acquisition of mineral rights on an additional 215 acres. TVA paid an average of more than $1,200 an acre, or a total of $678,000.

Maynard, Cowboy Actor, Fined for Beating Woman

Memphis, Tenn., March 17.—(AP)—Ken Maynard, cowboy screen actor, was fined $50 and court costs today by Squire George B. Coleman on assault and battery charges brought by Miss Josephine Yannosev Seymoure, 30 years old, of Hollywood, Cal. Squire Coleman quoted Miss Seymoure as saying the actor "beat me on the chest, grabbed my throat, tore off my clothing, and twisted my arm until I thought I'd die." The alleged attack occurred yesterday at a Memphis theater where Maynard is appearing. Maynard pleaded guilty, Squire Coleman said, "because I can't stay in Memphis to fight the case."

Dr. Morgan, TVA's Chairman, Known as Foe of Compromise

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Knoxville, Tenn., March 17.—[Special.]—When Dr. Arthur E. Morgan was picked for chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority by President Roosevelt, he brought to the job national prestige as an engineer and a college president. He was an alumnus of the university of hard knocks, ill health having denied him a college education. As an educator character building was his forte, and he brought to the job an ingrained precept of no compromise between right and wrong once the issues were drawn.

Dr. Arthur E. Morgan.

Before accepting the chairmanship he stipulated that no political patronage should be in TVA and that the other two directors should be satisfactory to him. He is said to have suggested the name of Harcourt A. Morgan and he approved David E. Lilienthal for appointment as his colleagues.

Made Dam Building Head.

When duties were distributed, Chairman Morgan had the dam building and the other enginnering, Harcourt Morgan the agricultural program, and Lilienthal the hydro-electric power. The chairman at first was the predominant figure—he had been designated by executive order of President Roosevelt to build Norris dam, keystone of TVA.

Harcourt Morgan and Lilienthal voted together, and Chairman Morgan, as he has often termed it, became a minority member. In the TVA board he was a protesting voice against policies and acts which he deemed against the public interest. The culmination was Chairman Morgan's demand for a congressional inquiry into the affairs of TVA.

Chairman Morgan, tall, rangy, with a square set jaw and a delightful personality, was born in Cincinnati in 1878. Later he lived in St. Cloud, Minn. He was a frail youngster and his eyes were not strong. After high school he left home at the age of 17 with only $1.75 in his pocket and went to Boulder, Colo. He turned to outdoor life to build up his constitution, working on farms and in mines.

Knowledge Acquired in Work.

Returning to Minnesota, he worked with his father, a surveyor, and then joined a government surveying party in the Mississippi valley. While acquiring his knowledge of hydraulics Morgan, as a youth, floated most of the length of the Mississippi on a log raft studying currents. He became supervising engineer for government drainage investigations.

During his career Chairman Morgan has planned and superintended the building of some seventy-five water control projects. After the disastrous Dayton flood in 1913 he became chief engineer of the Miami conservancy district in Ohio, designed to prevent a recurrence of the flood. He built the works that have kept the waters within control. He designed the reclamation system for the St. Francis valley of Arkansas, which cost $8,000,000, and built the dam system to prevent a recurrence of the 1921 floods at Pueblo, Colo.

Interested in Education.

During his engineering experience Chairman Morgan hired and reluctantly fired some 3,000 college graduates. He felt they had been imposed on instead of educated. The large turnover of college graduates, he believed, showed that the educational system was wrong, and in most cases he blamed the failures chiefly on lack of proper training in the adolescent character building stage.

His interest in education led him to become president of Antioch college at Yellow Springs, O., in 1922. It had been founded by Horace Mann and was run down. Chairman Morgan developed a work and study plan. He emphasized character building and development of self-reliance through experience in the every day world. His students would spend five weeks in college, then five weeks at a job, alternating through the college year.

He came to the attention of President Roosevelt through writing Antioch Notes, a college publication.

Social Uplift His Motives.

Chairman Morgan is an engineer with a social uplift motive—he looks at the TVA dams in terms of what they might mean in developing a better fed and housed society. He has written several brochures on education such as "A Budget for Your Life" and "What Is College For."

From 1919 until he came to TVA Dr. Morgan was president of the Dayton-Morgan Engineering company. His prestige was such that more than two months before the TVA act was passed President Roosevelt offered him the chairmanship.

Though fearless and often outspoken, Chairman Morgan's intimates say he is not quarrelsome nor argumentative in trying to get the other man's point of view. But once the issue is drawn and a repudiation of ideals is required, Chairman Morgan is not a compromiser.

He once said: "For thirty years I've lived without compromise. I've walked out of a job in the middle of a court hearing when I knew false evidence was being given."

M'NUTT ALTERS PLANS; FLIES TO HIS AILING WIFE

Indianapolis, Ind., March 17.—[Special.]—Expressing concern over reports that his wife is seriously ill in Manila, former Gov. Paul V. McNutt canceled a series of engagements for the next several days and left tonight on a hurried trip to the Philippine Islands, where he is United States high commissioner.

The former governor, who came to Indianapolis today from Chicago, will arrive early tomorrow at Alameda, Cal., by plane. At 3 p. m. tomorrow he will board a Clipper plane scheduled to land him in Manila five days later.

McNutt said he talked over long distance telephone with his daughter, Louise, and was advised to return as soon as possible. Another telephone conversation with Mrs. Wayne Coy, wife of McNutt's executive assistant, bore news of the same character, he said.

McNutt's original plan was to start the return trip to the Philippines Sunday. Coy will return to the islands in accordance with their original schedule.

WIELAND SEEKS VOTES IN A MILD CLASSROOM TONE

A Teacher, He's Learned His Political Lessons.

[This is the second of a series of informal sketches of the major candidates for state offices in the April 12 primary.]

BY PERCY WOOD.

The placid face and mild lecture room tones that John A. Wieland of Calumet City is presenting to campaign audiences disclose little of the rancor his friends say he feels toward Gov. Horner for forcing him to make a fight for renomination for a second term as state superintendent of public instruction.

John A. Wieland.

In company with most other Democratic state officers, Supt. Wieland stayed with the regular organization two years ago in its unsuccessful fight to deny the governor another four years in the executive mansion. And if this political hostility had not been enough to arouse antipathy, the superintendent insured it when he failed to support the Horner school reorganization program in the legislature last year. The program was lost.

Politics Isn't Talked.

So now Wieland, although backed by the Chicago organization, has an opponent on the Horner-Courtney ticket—Dr. Frank A. Jensen, superintendent of the La Salle-Peru schools.

It appears to be the campaign strategy of both men not to talk politics. Wieland makes no direct reference to the situation except to say, without mentioning names, that he has never been bossed by anybody and to suggest that, perhaps, that is why he is being opposed now.

It is the superintendent's custom in his downstate speeches to open with a word of praise for the local county school head—if, according to his traveling mates, they happen to be on friendly terms. He talks glowingly of the Illinois school system and illustrates his points with two typically pedagogical gestures: one, waving a hand toward an imaginary panorama of figures on an imaginary blackboard, and, two, pinioning his audience with an index finger as straight as a ruler.

Speeches Grow Shorter.

The Wieland speeches are not as long as they were when he first ran for the superintendency four years ago. Stories told of that campaign are that he was then excessively long winded and his colleagues on the ticket, in order to get him to yield the platform, often had to shuffle their feet warningly and once or twice even resorted to yanking his coattails.

Wieland emphasizes that he is a schoolmaster, not a politician. But off the stump he is a veritable walking compendium of political information, with the partisan history of the local county at his finger tips, together with a plethora of figures and factional data. It is said that he has often corrected the old timers.

The superintendent comes of German-American stock and was born in Clark county, near Marshall, in 1892. He holds a bachelor's and a master's degree from the University of Illinois and an honorary LL.D. from Illinois Wesleyan university. He has taught in the rural schools and held superintendencies at Bradley and Calumet City. His teaching experience exceeds twenty years.

Indorse Congress St. Plan with Reservations on Cost

The west side real estate board yesterday announced its indorsement of a Congress street superhighway proposal provided that none of the $17,000,000 cost of condemning land and buildings for a right of way is charged against real estate owners who would be benefited. The Chicago Motor club is opposing the use of gasoline tax revenue for realty betterments.

ASKS REPUBLICAN WOMEN TO STAY IN OWN PRIMARY

Mrs. Krutckoff Leads Unity Campaign.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Regardless of the issues raised by Democratic factionalism, Republican women should stand by their own party in the coming primary, Mrs. Charles Krutckoff, chairman of the Republican women's division in Cook county, declared yesterday.

If not, she warned, the Republican party will suffer in the general election, even though it has a clear path in the April 12 primary.

Mrs. Krutckoff, a veteran of 25 years in Republican circles, explained that lack of opposition in the party might be as injurious as too much opposition, in that it removes incentive "to get out and work." It is this inertia that her forces are fighting.

Campaigns for Unity.

"I'm trying to talk to as many Republican women as I can to urge them to stay in the Republican primary," she said. "We do not want to have them get panicky or become sidetracked because of Democratic factional troubles and everything else that is happening.

"We just want to stick together. We're fairly well organized. I have a woman leader in every ward, and two or three in some, and they're all having meetings.

"But with no opposition among our people," she added, "we do not feel that intensive organization is necessary for the primary. We know the Democrats have all the money. We have to wait and bide our time until after the primary. Then our battle begins."

Chairman of County Committee.

Mrs. Krutckoff is president of the reorganized Women's Republican Club of Illinois and women's chairman of the Cook county Republican central committee. Long before women had the vote, she was a militant suffrage worker.

When the central committee sought to make her a candidate this year for the board of county commissioners, she named Leona M. Rohen in her stead.

"I thought," she explained, "that I could do the party more good at this time if I wasn't a candidate."

Commission Extends Time on 'L'-Street Car Transfers

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday extended from March 31 to next Sept. 30 the interline transfer arrangement between the Chicago Rapid Transit company [elevated lines] and the Chicago Surface Lines. The system is on a temporary order, pending completion of hearings to determine a permanent arrangement. A similar extension was ordered on the transfer arrangement between the elevated railway and the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Timothy, a coarse hay, is the common adulterant of cheap lawn mixtures and the greatest enemy of lawns. While it comes up quickly its coarse stems do not stand mowing and it robs fine grasses of food and inevitably ruins a lawn.

SINGAPORE AND SOME SEQUENCES.

In October of last year Mr. Roosevelt in Chicago spoke for the quarantine of lawless nations. The speech followed by a day the league of nations' decision, at the instance of Lord Cranborne, to refer the Chinese question to the signers of the integrity treaty, including, as they do, the United States. The Brussels conference of these signers and other nations was held and stuttered itself to an adjournment.

In December Capt. Royal E. Ingersoll, chief of the war plans division of the navy department, went to England to confer with officials of the British admiralty.

The three American light cruisers on a mission of courtesy to Australia, celebrating its one hundred and fiftieth anniversary, were ordered, while at sea and after a White House conference attended by Secretary Hull and Admiral Leahy, to proceed from Australia to Singapore and there be present at the dedication of the docks of the naval base by which the British protect their far eastern interests.

In February Senator Borah asked Senator Pittman of the foreign relations committee to explain if he could what Anthony Eden, then British foreign secretary, meant when he said that Britain's relations with America were very happy but were of a nature not to be discussed in public. Mr. Pittman did not know.

Senator Hiram Johnson asked how Mr. Hull's statement that no agreements had been reached with Great Britain could be reconciled with Winston Churchill's statement that the understanding with the United States was excellent. Senator Johnson still seeks to know.

In March it was made known that the United States had been granted a privilege extended to no other nation, that of using the Singapore base for its ships.

Last week Paul V. McNutt, high commissioner of the Philippines, now in this country, began an exhortation by radio and in other public speeches urging Americans to reconsider the Philippine decision. That decision is to relinquish all control and responsibility in the islands. They will have their complete independence, to maintain it if they can, July 4, 1940. Mr. McNutt began his speeches after his talks on Philippine questions with Mr. Roosevelt. President Manuel Quezon in Manila has indorsed the proposal to postpone the date of independence.

Mr. Hull in his Thursday radio speech to the nation said that getting out of dangerous places was not the way to avoid war.

These are sequences. Are they without meaning? When the United States is out of the Philippines it will have no use for the Singapore base. The granting of the use of the base preceded Mr. McNutt's plea for the maintenance of the American flag in the islands. If the American flag is not there Great Britain is alone in the far east.

Are we building a navy for Singapore and the far east or for the defense of the western hemisphere, a defense which needs Bermuda and the British West Indies but not the Philippines or the Malay Straits?

SECRECY IN PAROLE.

An amendment of our parole law providing that "all sessions of the parole board shall be open to the public" was passed at the last session of the legislature in response to an emphatic public demand that all secrecy be ended in the proceedings of the parole board. On Tuesday of this week the board met in secret session. A request for admission for a TRIBUNE reporter was refused.

The parole board has undertaken to interpret the law so that it will mean something it does not declare. The law says "all sessions shall be open to the public." The parole board says all sessions shall be open to the public except when the board decides that they shall be secret. The excuse is remarkable. Mr. Jones, head of the board, says that under the term "public" a gangster associate of a convict could be present when the board was deciding on the convict's application for parole. Therefore, it seems, a newspaper reporter may be excluded.

The excuse is ridiculous but the action is not. The board is an agency of the law. It stultifies itself in its attempt to evade the law. If the law is defective the duty and authority to amend it reside with the legislature. They are not in the parole board.

The trouble with the parole system in practice is well illustrated by this action. It is used to evade the law, not to enforce it. It has, therefore, become one of the most useful resources of organized crime to escape punishment. To defeat this abuse in some measure the public has demanded publicity for the proceedings of the parole board. A law to provide it has been passed. It does not authorize the parole board to make its own exceptions or any exceptions to it. If it left publicity to the board it would have defeated its purpose and made its decree futile.

The public is fed up with these evasions of law under the parole system. It is outraged by the crimes committed by beneficiaries of the system and it demands protection. It is through with the secrecy which shields criminals and their accomplices and with officials who maintain it. The parole board has broken the law. It should be replaced by men who will obey and enforce the law. If they cannot be found, the board itself should be abolished.

LABOR VIOLENCE IN EVANSTON.

Albert C. Peterson, a painter who does not belong to the union, was working at a house in Evanston owned by Harry M. Pettit. A business agent of the painters' union warned Peterson that he would have to join the union or quit working in Evanston. Peterson did neither and a few days later he and Mr. Pettit were beaten by two sluggers armed with blackjacks.

Mayor Penfield of Evanston has issued a warning that labor violence will not be permitted in his jurisdiction. He has ordered his police to redouble their search for the sluggers.

There is little doubt that the police, if they really want to, can catch the thugs. These men are professionals. They are not listed in the classified directory under "Sluggers," but they might as well be. There are a dozen people, in all probability, who know who did the job. A good police force, not in alliance with crime, would have little trouble tracing the criminals and convicting them of the outrage.

Of course if the Evanston police are not particularly interested in finding the culprits, they will escape. The incident thus provides a neat index to the moral quality of the Evanston force.

A CHANCE TO QUIT THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

The international Olympic committee, meeting in Cairo, Egypt, has changed the dates of the games to be held in Tokio in 1940 from late August and early September to late September and early October. Before this was done the representatives of the United States had objected, with the explanation that the change would make it impossible for American college athletes to compete unless they cut into their fall term of school. Their colleges would be opening while they were beginning the competition in Japan.

Japan, the host, asked for the change on the ground that the weather would be too hot in late August and early September. That, it would appear, would have been a reason for not selecting Japan for the games. If the weather at the time the games usually are held would be unfavorable, that was a sufficient argument for not holding them in Japan. Something political is made of the fact that Japan was supported by Italy and Germany, but that's of no consequence because the United States can decide the question for itself.

American spokesmen for amateur athletics have been willing to pass over the fact that Japan is now at war and may, even in 1940, be still forcibly reducing China to subjection. The discrimination against some of the best American athletes puts another aspect on the matter and gives America an excellent opportunity to withdraw, without any fuss, from an international competition which was begun in a harmless sort of sentimentalism and which no longer serves any good purpose either in sports or in international comity.

These games produce more rancors at home and abroad than are good for any of the participants. They are bound to fall into the hands of amateur martinets and they produce international bickerings. They aren't even good fun for most of the American participants, who frequently find themselves busted in foreign lands and come home mad at everybody who had to do with the arrangements. From Berlin the athletes were shot all over Europe on exhibition matches which caused more petty quarrels than the show was worth. Now is a good chance for the United States to bow itself out of these pretentious athletic events and carry on its international sports with fewer jimcracks and more sportsmanship.

AFTER FIVE YEARS.

Nobody knows just how many press agents Secretary Corn Wallace has in his department of agriculture, but it is agreed that there are a lot of them, probably several hundred. Oddly enough, it was not one of them, but Mr. Corrington Gill of the WPA who, the other day, described the latest results achieved by Mr. Wallace.

Here is a paragraph from Mr. Gill's testimony before the senate committee on unemployment:

"In many rural areas the need for aid has increased faster than state and local relief agencies have been able to provide assistance, with the result that large numbers of rural families are experiencing serious privation. The unmet need is most acute in the cotton states where it is estimated that 200,000 destitute rural families are receiving no form of aid at all."

What a record! Cotton was the first of the crops to receive Mr. Wallace's attention and cotton has been the crop which has been most systematically regulated along New Deal lines. Colossal sums have been spent to subsidize the cotton farmers. After five years of that treatment the surplus is bigger than ever; and although the world is using more cotton than it ever did before, the amount of American cotton moving into consumption declines from year to year. Nobody knows how many hundreds of thousands of cotton growers are receiving relief, but we now have Mr. Gill's statement that 200,000 additional families, though destitute, are getting nothing.

When will Mr. Roosevelt make good his promise to abandon an experiment as soon as he sees that it will not work?

Editorial of the Day

A COURTEOUS CITY.

[Boston Herald.]

Lucius Beebe wrote in his column a week or two ago that Boston is the only city in the country where taxicab drivers get out of their seats to open the door for their passengers. More regular experience with Boston cabs would probably have caused Mr. Beebe to qualify his compliment by inserting the useful "most" before "taxicab drivers." Not all our taxi pilots are Chesterfields, although all of them—like their brothers throughout the world—are enthusiastic conversationalists!

But it does no harm for the ideas to prevail. It is good for the reputation of the city abroad and it sets a standard for behavior at home. Few people realize, except when they are traveling themselves, how a courteous remark or a thoughtful act will influence a stranger's entire conception of a place. A kindly direction from a policeman, an unexpected service from a hotel employé, a cordial greeting at a theater box office, or a bit of helpful information from a store clerk often creates an impression of a city which the recipient, in delight, will broadcast far and wide.

HOLD EVERYTHING.

Boss—What do you want?

Clerk—May I use your phone? My wife told me to ask you for a salary increase, but she forgot to tell me how much.—Toronto Globe-Mail.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

A FOUR LINE NOTICE in THE TRIBUNE obituary column yesterday announced the death of Jack Glassman (Kubec Glasmon), late of Beverly Hills, ending with "Los Angeles papers please copy." What the obit omitted:

It was Kubec Glasmon who, with John Bright, wrote the book from which the movie "Public Enemy" was taken, the picture that started the cycle of gangster movies that gave James Cagney his start and that, with the appearance of "Little Cæsar," brought Edward G. Robinson into notice as the suave bad man of the films. Glasmon and Bright ran a drug store on the south side that was frequented by the types he later wrote about. He received confidences, made mental notes, and finally wrote, with Bright, "Beer and Blood." A dress shop proprietor, Sam Kovler, helped them get to Hollywood, and Warner Bros. snapped up the book.

Rockwell Kent, Investigator.

Rockwell Kent, in town to be guest of honor at the Art institute dinner and to talk over some publication projects with the Lakeside Press, leaves the Drake today for his camp in the Adirondacks to get at his painting. He is just back from Brazil, where he went to do a little political investigating in his capacity as president of the National Committee for People's Rights, the organization of which Lincoln Steffens used to be head. Kent went to Brazil after Getulio Vargas had seized power. The dictator, probably not wanting investigation from a committee for people's rights, had Mr. Kent roused from bed by the police the first night he was in Rio de Janeiro.

RECENT HONORS PAID to Dr. Max Brödel of Johns Hopkins, only instructor in medical art in the country, and the painting of his portrait to hang near the Sargent picture of the four doctors who founded that medical school, bring to attention that one of his brilliant pupils is Gladys McHugh, medical artist at the University of Chicago clinics. Miss McHugh is in her twenties, and when she is not in her studio at the Chicago Lying-In hospital sketching or peering through the microscope or gastroscope she is likely to be found cantering on the Midway bridle paths in a green riding habit. Miss McHugh has illustrated many important medical volumes, including the revised editions of Dr. Joseph B. De Lee's books. New tricks in surgery are depicted more lucidly in pictures, doctors say, and sketches of pathologic conditions in medical textbooks help the student recognize them. Miss McHugh is enthusiastic about her work. "The stomach seen through the gastroscope is brilliant in color and as beautiful to draw as any sunset," she says. "Living tissue is beautiful, moist and shimmering, plastic in form and glowing with color." Miss McHugh's favorite recent drawing is a skeleton made from X-rays taken of a patient with a grotesque malformation so that the skeleton seems to be doing a kind of danse macabre. Pretty, too, believe it or not.

Bad Humor Man.

A stooge reports that Leon Mandel recently announced crossly he was going to buy himself some black gloves, some black overalls, a black wagon and black ice cream, then go out and be the Bad Humor man.

WHEN THE FATHER of a 14 year old was informed that his son was having difficulty deciding on an appropriate costume for a Hard Times party, Robert S. Lederer says his father volunteered: "Tell him to go as my order book."

IT IS A CONTINUAL SURPRISE to your scribe, whose poetry-quoting days seem to have been in an increasingly remote youth, when she occasionally sat about little restaurants with checked tablecloths, drank Dago red, and listened to or quoted Millay and Frost and Edward Arlington Robinson, with a touch of Dowson and Swinburne, to find how many persons are writing poetry. We thought everybody spent their leisure nowadays worrying about business, politics, and world affairs. Verses come in by the dozens to this department every day—from business men and housewives and students and office workers. A university professor sent one in last week; a lieutenant commander in the United States navy yesterday. Both pretty good, too, but too long.

FROZEN FOODS.

FROM time immemorial man has attempted to preserve foods so that he could maintain existence when green stuff was not growing; when animals would hibernate and hide beyond his reach. The American Indian "jerked" beef—that is, cut it in small strips, dried it in the sun, later pounded the brittle bits mixed with berries and seeds in a stone mortar, and stowed it between layers of fat in rawhide bags. A portion of this provided a nourishing and well balanced meal. Our word "buccaneer" comes from the practice along the Caribbean of buccanning meat—drying and smoking the flesh of cattle and sheep.

As early as 1860 Australians were successful in freezing beef and exporting it to England. In 1861 a Maine Yankee sold frozen fish. Now more than 100 different kinds of similarly preserved commodities are available—berries, peaches, cherries, peas, beans, asparagus, broccoli, corn, spinach, meats, fish, and poultry—and one may well defy the most delicate palate to differentiate these products from their fresh or shipped-in kin.

There are many advantages. The process makes possible the storage of perishable edibles the excess production of which might otherwise be a drug on the market. The merchandise is easy to handle and—as with most boxed goods—there is little waste. Furthermore, their preparation for the table requires less time, and not only are they tasty, but more tender. The chances are that more minerals, particularly those contained in vegetables and meats, are saved—that is, they are not discarded with the cooking water.

While the procedure does not destroy all the bacteria, nevertheless it reduces greatly the number of living organisms. Keeping of such foods for a year or more will show a reduction of 90 per cent. In addition—if the fruits and vegetables are prepared under sanitary conditions and solutions of chlorine or hypochlorite of soda are utilized for washing—we have an extra assurance of safety.

Inasmuch as spoilage is destructive to the industry, raw meat and fish are carefully inspected, so that putrefactive elements shall not be included. Berries are checked for mold, fermentation, and dirt.

The temperature employed ranges from zero to 100 degrees below [Fahrenheit]. Crystals begin to form at a little below 32 degrees, and by the time the temperature has dropped to 15 degrees most of the water in the comestible is ice. Rapid freezing is the most desirable, as when thawed out for cooking there is practically no alteration of color. In fact, tests on peaches indicate that where solid carbon dioxide was used at 100 degrees below zero the fruit was preserved perfectly.

As far as can be determined there is little effect on the nutritive properties of these supplies. In fact the chemical changes are so minute as to be negligible. Vitamins A, B, and D, are uninjured; vitamin C is no doubt affected, although experiments with oranges and apples indicated that its deterioration is not unduly extensive. Adding sugar to fruits before freezing seems to help retain flavor.

The marketing of frozen lines probably will save the consumer heavy losses which occur when fresh supplies are exposed for sale. Furthermore, insect contamination from flies, etc., is a thing of the past. It goes without saying that such material can be at hand the year round, thus making a twelve month season irrespective of the output of gardens and orchards. Only one drawback has been reported—namely, that the congealed contents of a package must be used promptly upon thawing, as decompostion occurs somewhat earlier.

SYSTOLIC MURMUR.

W. D. writes: Can a systolic murmur at the base of the heart be cured? If so, how?

REPLY.

Except in the presence of some acute heart disease, murmurs are not serious and in general may be disregarded. There is no cure, but most of them are of little significance. The main thing is to watch the condition of the heart muscle.

HAY FEVER.

M. S. writes: When should a person start going for injections against hay fever?

REPLY.

TITLE PAPERS.

Chicago, March 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Kindly explain the following:

1. Warranty deed.
2. Trust deed.
3. Quit claim deed.
4. Which of the above is the most secure to have made on property?
5. Is it possible to get one at the time one is purchasing the property if more than half of the full amount is paid and the balance to be paid in monthly payments?
6. What is required to have the deed signed over to the one who is purchasing the property?
7. In the state of Illinois is it necessary for the husband to sign the papers or deed if she was single at the time the transaction was held and the property deeded to her on terms of "good will"?

F. S.

1. A conveyance in which the grantor undertakes that the title is good.
2. This is ordinarily applied to an instrument used as a substitute for a mortgage.
3. A conveyance in which the grantor does not undertake that the title is good.
4. The warranty deed differs in the respect above stated, but the grantee's security depends more largely on an examination of the title than on the difference between these types of deeds.
5. This is a matter for negotiation between the parties.
6. We do not understand the question.
7. The grantor's husband could sign in order to bar dower, if that is what you mean to ask.

It is nearly always advisable for a purchaser of real estate to employ an attorney, and we advise you to employ one now.

VACANT LOTS FOR PLAYGROUNDS.

Chicago, March 11.—As chairman of the extension of play spaces committee of the Chicago recreation commission, I must voice my disagreement with the views on vacant lot playgrounds expressed by "Z" in this column on March 7.

The recreation commission, through the committee I head, has for several years aided local community groups in preparing vacant lots for play uses, with the assistance of the WPA and the NYA. Approximately 600 lots have been prepared, and nearly 100 were prepared and flooded for ice skating this last winter, all at the request of local committees.

We have, as we well know, marvelous parks and playgrounds in Chicago. But there are still many needy parts of the city which are woefully lacking in facilities. We all know that present public funds cannot provide additional facilities, and so we should be glad that people in local communities have taken active interest and initiative in this way.

All authorities we can contact all over the country are talking about recreational facilities to keep boys and girls off the streets. This we can do by providing these improvised playgrounds in the neighborhood of the homes, thus both saving lives from accidents and preventing juvenile delinquency. Responsible volunteer leadership of parents and others who are most interested in the children will assure that these lots may be used for constructive, wholesome play purposes.

THE CROP.

Chicago, March 15.—With lightning brute force Hitler has thrust the swastika down the throats of the Austrian people and is washing it down with Jewish blood.

God pity the Austrian Jews with no place to go, not even Palestine, due to the Arab situation.

From Across the Sea

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN.—How Germany's lether exports dropped 50 per cent through regimentation and state control while lether prices at home rose sharply was told recently by the Frankfurter Zeitung.

For the first time in decades, the paper said, Germany's lether exports fell below its imports in the last month of the last year. In 1936 lether exports were still twice as high as imports and in the preceding year more than three times as high. The exports totaled $29,000,000 in 1935 as against $8,000,000 in imports.

To save foreign currencies which Germany lacks, a considerable reduction in the import of hides was ordered by the authorities two years ago. The result was that in the last year only 8 per cent of Germany's lether production was exported as against 15 per cent in 1935.

The ensuing lether shortage led to an increase in prices and, as a result, German shoe manufacturers preferred to work for home consumption, since this was more profitable than manufacturing for the export trade.

The Frankfurter Zeitung said shoe manufacturers in Germany are importing lether on an ever-increasing scale. If Germany had been adequately supplied with imported hides, the paper argues, the lether could have been manufactured in Germany.

Imported hides, it says, cost 50 per cent less in foreign currency than imported lether.

JAPAN AND THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

Chicago, March 13.—What your letter writer, James E. Milton, really yearns for is a world court to adjudicate all the iniquities of the globe in accord with American virtue, wisdom, and altruism. He would have such a court hand down a decision condemning Japan's action in China, but not make it retroactive to apply to what our forefathers did to the Indians.

Unfortunately the Olympic games, observing what happens to world courts, are not anxious to serve in such a capacity. They could not, anyhow, because their influence includes only a handful of people in each of some fifty nations, athletes who accept their standards. Japanese athletes in the Olympics have been not only marvelous performers but exemplary sportsmen. This is the only concern of the Olympics.

If Olympic sports are not to be endlessly interrupted, they must keep independent of all political, racial, and religious controversies. The Olympics are of this evil world, not of the spiritual next. They must tolerate differences of opinion which do not interfere with sport. By the same token they cannot step aside whenever a faction with a phobia thinks it would be cunning to grab the Olympic spotlight.

A psychologist might analyze this anxiety to find an excuse to disrupt the games as envy of their grandeur and glory by nonsporting people.

If it is any of our business, and if America is unanimous in disapproving Japan in China—and our state department is convinced on neither point—there is a more effective way of registering our views. And I don't mean fluttering a silk stocking boycott.

CLARENCE A. BUSH.

A TAX ON BALLET SCHOOLS.

Chicago, March 15.—Yesterday I took my 10 year old daughter to a loop dancing school for her ballet lesson. The school was closed and a policeman stood guard to see that no classes were taught. It seems that an unfair city ordinance places dancing schools—which are surely places of instruction as much as are music and drawing and dramatic art schools—in a class with cheap taxi dance halls. Dancing schools alone of all the art schools have to be licensed and even [as in this case] though the teacher was never notified of the license racket before, she still has to suffer the consequences.

Don't the wise men who run our city and make its laws know the difference between house painting and picture painting? Can't they see the difference between dancing as an art and dance hall dancing?

A. T.

CIVIL SERVICE.

Chicago, March 16.—I read that in the near future the civil service commission will call an examination for district superintendents. We have among our section foremen in the street department men doing this work daily, and they have a full knowledge of the duties of a district superintendent. They alone should be given a chance for this examination. It would not be appropriate for a civilian to take an examination for a police captain's position. So, why should the district superintendent examination be open to inexperienced civilians?

NICK CANTONE.

RACE.

Chicago, March 12.—We may expect to see, in some future edition of a dictionary, the word "race" defined as meaning "Negro" just as the word "wench" is defined as meaning a "Negro woman," therefore the word "race woman" will come to mean a "wench." So what good has it done us Negroes to capitalize the word "race" and apply it when we mean Negro? Either word sets us apart from others.

We have complained that the white man, when he writes about a colored man, is always very particular to say a Negro, while he simply calls the man's name when writing about a white man and makes no reference to his race. So why can't we do the same when writing about our own race? If one of our group has done something so commendable, that we are anxious for the world to know that he was a Negro, why not say "Negro"? It would, at least, sound sensible.

Since all people are members of some race, the word "race" as applied to any particular group doesn't mean a thing.

MRS. CHARLES R. LEWIS.

MEASLES IN MAYWOOD.

Maywood, Ill., March 14.—The most important thing this week for mothers of small children to do, if these children have not had measles, is to keep them away from coughers and nose runners. And the most important thing for mothers of coughers and nose runners to do is to put their children in bed and keep them there until they break out with the measles, as they probably will.

Measles are at the epidemic stage. Here in Maywood one has to walk around and see the signs. No publicity is given. I notice Dr. Bundesen issues warnings which THE TRIBUNE prints. Chicago mothers are lucky.

My children were exposed at school [O, if teachers would send home children who cough, sneeze and have running noses!] and I kept my children home for their own sake and to protect others from them. Sure enough, in a few days came the cough, the sneeze, the running nose. It is a satisfaction, at least, to know they did not pass the disease on to any one else.

MOTHER OF FOUR.

TOO OLD FOR JURY DUTY.

Chicago, March 15.—I am a man 66 years old, a taxpayer of Chicago for forty years; I am well preserved, have had a good education, and am well versed on current events, politics, etc. I consider myself fairly intelligent.

Recently I received a registration card as to my qualifications for jury service. I immediately took a trip to the city hall to present my card. Being home every day, I was anxious to be called for service and feel I am very well qualified. I was immediately told I was beyond the age limit.

If this is the case, I would like to ask the readers why I am not too old to vote; and are not many of our judges too old, also, to hold their positions on the bench?

GARBO HAS NO PLANS TO WED NOW, SHE SAYS

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RAVELLO, Italy, March 17.—Greta Garbo gave in today and discussed marriage with reporters. She denied having plans now to marry, but definitly avoided saying whether she intends to marry Leopold Stokowski, co-conductor of the Philadelphia, Pa., orchestra, some time.

"I cannot say I am going to be married," the actress said. "At the moment I have no plans. Some women have a natural impulse to go to the altar. I am not like that. I am a difficult person to lead."

Seeks to See Italy's Beauty.

Thinner and paler than her fans know her, Miss Garbo received the correspondents in the library of Villa Cimbrone where she is staying in Ravello. Clad in a royal blue gabardine suit with sweater and muffler, she seemed chilled despite the big log fire burning in the fireplace. The Swedish star, it was said, has been suffering from a cold and taking sun baths at the villa.

Stokowski, Miss Garbo told the reporters, is her friend and invited her to Ravello "to see the lovely things of Italy—you know I have not seen much of the world."

Besides Stokowski, Miss Garbo confided, there are only five people in Hollywood she likes — and six in Europe. She did not name them.

Seeks to Avoid Fans.

"Wherever I go," she said, "I run away from people. I wish they could be satisfied with me in the films and not follow and stare at me."

Stokowski told correspondents a few days ago that Miss Garbo wanted to keep her private life and her work apart.

Miss Garbo and Stokowski could not marry in Italy within 17 days, Italian sources said. First, they would need affidavits from their respective consulates that they are free to marry. They have not obtained these. Second, even with affidavits, they would have to post banns for 17 days. Such banns, it was believed, have not been posted at Ravello or elsewhere.

Divorces Musician

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. PAULETTE BUISSERET.

When the radio in the Buisseret home went mute nothing was done about it. Indeed, Armand Buisseret Jr., who plays saxophone in a loop dance band, seemed relieved. But his wife, Paulette, 22 years old, insisted it be repaired. Yesterday Mrs. Buisseret, who lives at 523 Brompton place, was granted an uncontested divorce by Judge John J. Lupe. Because the radio wasn't fixed? No. Because when she kept insisting her husband socked her.

REALTORS JOIN EVANSTON FIGHT ON TERRORISM

Officers of the North Shore Real Estate board said yesterday they will make inquiry into labor terrorism in Evanston, where Harry M. Pettit and Albert C. Peterson were slugged with blackjacks last Monday. Pettit is the owner of a house at 900 South boulevard. Peterson, an independent painter, was working there at the time of the attack, in defiance of a demand that he join the painters' union.

Robert Wyatt of Glenview, president of the board, said the slugging will be taken up at the board's meeting Monday night in the Georgian hotel in Evanston. Labor terrorism, he said, is discouraging building construction and damaging the real estate market.

DIVORCE GRANTED BEATRICE LAFLIN; WINS CHILDREN

Tells Lake County Court Husband Was Cruel.

Two months ago Mrs. Beatrice Clow Laflin of 275 North Mayflower road, Lake Forest, was matron of honor at the wedding of her sister, Mary Melville Clow, to Mario Braggiotti, concert pianist. Yesterday Mrs. Braggiotti interrupted her honeymoon to testify in the divorce action of Mrs. Laflin against Lloyd A. Laflin.

The divorce was granted after a hearing in chambers by Judge Ralph J. Dady of the Lake county Circuit court. Mrs. Laflin charged extreme cruelty.

She testified that her husband had struck her twice, once during a party last November in their home and again last Jan. 24 in his Chicago office.

Mrs. Laflin's father, W. E. Clow Jr., and Chester Foust, 2000 Clavey road, Highland Park, who were among the guests at the party, told of seeing Laflin strike his wife.

The couple, whose wedding was a social event of 1930, have two children, Lynn, 7 years old, and Mary Brewster, 4. Mrs. Laflin was granted custody of them with the understanding that their father may see them at any reasonable time.

A property settlement has been agreed upon, according to Attorneys Stuart Bradley and Paul Doolen, for Mrs. Laflin, and Attorney Albert L. Hall for her husband. Mrs. Laflin's father accompanied her to court yesterday and said she would sign the agreement within a few days.

He also asked that Judge Dady delay signing the divorce decree until the property settlement, which is understood to provide for education of the children, can be embodied in it.

ProposeAdding Outer Drive Bridges to Rush Hour List

A proposed amendment, including the new outer drive bridges in the ordinance which provides that spans over the Chicago river remain closed to river trafic during rush hours, was recommended yesterday by the city council committee on harbors. Under the ordinance the bridges cannot be raised between 7:30 and 10 a. m. and 4 and 6:30 p. m. on week days, or between 12:30 and 2 p. m. and 5 and 6 p. m. on Saturdays.

BOY BICYCLIST FALLS; DIES IN FATHER'S OFFICE

William A. Weed.

Dr. L. G. Weed of Zion recognized the unconscious patient carried into his office yesterday. It was his son William, 8 years old. Dr. Weed summoned his office associate, Dr. Mercer T. Brown, but William died within a few minutes. The boy was riding his bicycle from school to his home at 2715 Elizabeth avenue, Zion, when it struck a bump. He was hurled into the air, over the head of a boy companion, Wilburn Perkins of 3023 Elizabeth avenue, Zion, who was riding in front. The Weed boy landed on his head, breaking his neck.

KERNER REMOVES CHICAGO AID IN OFFICE SHAKEUP

A transfer in the staf of the Chicago office of Attorney General Otto Kerner as the result of friction with the state department of finance was disclosed yesterday. John H. Gately, for four years an assistant attorney general in sales tax cases, has been assigned to other matters and his duties are now administered by Earl B. Dickerson, another of Kerner's assistants.

Kerner said there had been difficulties between Gately and Robert M. Stowers, Chicago assistant to Sam Nudelman, state director of finance. Stowers complained several weeks ago that Gately was disseminating information in a maner unfavorable to the attorney general's office and the finance department. Gately was transferred a week ago.

SENTENCE RECKLESS DRIVER TO 5 DAYS IN JAIL IN SAFETY COURT

Richard Watson of River Grove was sentenced to five days in the county jail and suspended from driving for sixty days by Judge J. M. Braude in the Safety court yesterday on a charge of reckless driving.

Carl Gurney, 3516 Adams street, was put on probation for six months and suspended from driving for a similar period, and Gust Wirtanen, 2566 Southport avenue, got one year's probation and a similar suspension. Both were charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

David Lippa, 4811 North Harding avenue, was fined $50 and suspended for thirty days for reckless driving.

98,374 ON WPA ROLLS IN CITY; QUOTA EXCEEDED

Charles E. Miner, state WPA administrator, said yesterday that 98,374 persons have been assigned to WPA jobs in Chicago and more will be added as the need arises. He explained that the Chicago WPA is able to exceed its quota of 95,000 for March in the last half of the month because it had not been filled during the first half.

Miner said that out of necessity many WPA office employés were working overtime and seven days a week. "This is necessary to place new workers on the pay roll and put them to work," he said. "The personnel office has been swamped in examining candidates for job supervisors. We have increased the administration staf by sixty in the last two weeks."

FOUND SHOT TO DEATH.

Henry Bass, 65 years old, a former hotel manager and a former resident of Decatur, Ill., according to papers in his pockets, was found shot to death, apparently by his own hand, in his room in the Franklin hotel, 1550 East 63d street, yesterday.

STRUCK BY AUTO, PEDESTRIAN DIES OF HIS INJURIES

Thomas Williams, 52 years old, died in Berwyn hospital last night from injuries suffered Wednesday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by William T. Halvorsen of 8137 South Peoria street. Williams lived at 4824 West 24th street, Cicero.

Rose Mary Healey, 4 years old, 3043 Kimball avenue, was injured severely yesterday when she was struck by an automobile at Allen and Milwaukee avenues. Mrs. Elizabeth Kell, 4539 Barry avenue, driver of the car, told the Shakespeare avenue police that the child dashed suddenly into the path of the car.

Evon Morrison, 3 years old, 2913 Adams street, was found unconscious in the street near her home yesterday, apparently the victim of a hit and run motorist.

During the 24 hours up to 4 p. m. yesterday no deaths were reported in trafic accidents in Cook county. Up to that time, 188 had been killed in the county since Jan. 1. Of these, 150 were killed in Chicago, where 3,445 were injured in the same period.

OAK PARK FIXES SCHOOL RECORDS AFTER CHARGES

The Oak Park-River Forest township high school board last night approved corrected meeting records, dating back to last June, in reply to recent charges by P. E. Belting, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, that the board's affairs were not in proper order. A court stenographer recorded the proceedings.

Failure of the board to approve its corrected records properly was one of the charges made by Belting. Another was against the board's methods of handling lumber bids on a new junior college. In an open letter yesterday, Albert M. Wolf, board president, said any violation involved was technical.

EARLE AND GUFFEY IN OPPOSING CAMPS ON GOVERNOR RACE

Harrisburg, Pa., March 17.—(AP)—Gov. George H. Earle lined up today with the Democratic state committee of Pennsylvania in opposition to United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey over a candidate for governor at the May 17 primary.

The governor endorsed Charles Alvin Jones, Pittsburgh attorney, who was slated for the nomination by the state committee, and urged Democrats of the state to support him. The committee endorsed Earle for United States senator on the slate with Jones.

Senator Guffey split with the organization over Jones and has thrown his support to Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy. Kennedy is backed also for governor by John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chief.

LOSING HIS BALL AND CHAIN JUST A HABIT NOW

By his own ingenuity in 1933, James A. Kruger slipped the ball and chain that kept him in a Florida prison camp. Yesterday it seemed that the ball and chain known as matrimony was about to fall from him without his assistance. Kruger's wife, Vennetta, 24 years old, of 5413 Winthrop avenue, sued for divorce charging that he is anti-social and is a bad influence on their children, James, 5 years old, and Marvin, 2.

Kruger, under the names of James La Rue and Albert Wagner, gained national notoriety when he escaped from the Florida chain gang and successfully fought extradition in Illinois. But even though the fetters of matrimony drop away from him, Kruger will not go far. He is in the Joliet penitentiary on a bigamy conviction and there are other matters pending that will be taken up when he gets out.

YOUNG ILLINOIS SLAYER GOES TO DEATH AT DAWN

Brockelhurst Loses Final Hope to Escape Chair.

Little Rock, Ark., March 17.—[Special.]—Lester Brockelhurst, former Galesburg, Ill., Sunday school teacher, will be electrocuted at dawn tomorrow for slaying a motorist who picked up him and his sweetheart as they hitch-hiked along a highway.

The Illinois crime tourist's last hope of escaping the electric chair faded late today when Judge T. C. Trimble in the United States District court at Helena refused to interfere. Attorneys of the doomed youth said that appeal was their final recourse, a two weeks' stay of execution granted by Gov. Carl E. Bailey having expired.

Turns from Religion to Crime.

Brockelhurst, who turned from religion to a life of crime, will be strapped into the electric chair at Tucker prison farm to pay for the death of Victor A. Gates, Little Rock planter.

Brockelhurst, 23 years old, has twice tried to commit suicide. Last June while awaiting trial in Lonoke he attempted to hang himself with a blanket in his jail cell, but guards cut him down. In February he tried to take his life in his prison death cell and was kept chained to the floor thereafter.

It was just a year ago that the former Bible student and his sweetheart, Bernice Felton, 18 years old, started out from Rockford, Ill., on a six weeks' tour of crime. Before they were caught in New York state the youth, who had once aspired to the ministry, had committed three murders and about 25 robberies.

Rockford Tailor Slain.

He killed a Rockford tailor, J. Albin Theander, to get an automobile and money to start the young couple's honeymoon, unlegalized by marriage. They sped west to Salt Lake City, intending to be married in the Mormon temple there, but they turned south without having the ceremony performed.

In Fort Worth, Tex., Brockelhurst shot and killed Jack Griffith, a tavern owner, who went to the aid of a woman he was robbing. In their flight the couple had to abandon their car and were hitch-hiking toward Memphis, Tenn., when Gates picked them up. Brockelhurst killed him or his car.

A jury deliberated only 22 minutes efore decreeing the death penalty r Brockelhurst. Miss Felton, to om a baby was born after her arrest, was acquitted of the Gates murder, the only one in which she was involved. On Feb. 10 she won a nine months' extension of time before her scheduled trial at Little Rock on charges of transporting a stolen automobile across a state line.

Fear Blamed by Girl.

Miss Felton, who had been a church worker in Rockford, insisted she was an unwilling dupe of Brockelhurst and that any share she had in his crimes was inspired by fear of harm at his hands. In the first few months following their arrest she said she hoped to be married to the father of her baby. She refused to testify against Brockelhurst.

Her ungallant lover showed no disinclination to withhold evidence against her, however. He declared he killed and robbed to get money to buy things for her and dutifully turned over to her the prceeds of each crime.

YOUNG KILLER NAMED ADMINISTRATOR OF HIS VICTIM'S ESTATE

Rockford, Ill., March 17.—[Special.]—Gordon Malm, 19 years old, awaiting sentence for the murder last Dec. 27 of his grandfather, Martin Pearson, 82, today was granted letters of administration for his grandfather's $7,500 estate in Probate court here.

Attorney Guy B. Reno, counsel for Malm, said the youth's conviction for the murder will not bar his inheritance of the estate. The youth is the only heir. His mother, Pearson's daughter, is dead.

He has pleaded guilty to the murder and will be sentenced later this week. His companion, Delora Wayne Montgomery, 16, was found guilty of the slaying yesterday by a Circuit court jury. His punishment was fixed at 14 years in prison.

DEATH OF BRIDE TOLD GRAND JURY BY STEPMOTHER

Pekin, Ill., March 17.—[Special.]—The Tazewell county grand jury today continued its inquiry in the slaying of Mrs. Betty Collison Crabb. Mrs. Crabb, a bride 19 years old, was shot to death March 1 in the home of her father-in-law, Willis H. Crabb, president of the Tazewell County National bank in Delavan. Her husband, James Crabb, 21 years old, confessed the shooting, asserting it was accidental.

Mrs. Catherine Steinmetz Crabb, whom Banker Crabb married two years ago, was questioned for an hour and a half today. She repeated the story she told at the inquest, and described a quarrel between James and his father when young Crabb and his bride returned intoxicated after a party. She said she believed Betty committed suicide.

Mrs. Carrie Kemp of Delavan, a cousin of Banker Crabb, described the party, which was at her home. Betty's father, L. Glenn Collison of Champaign, testified he was certain his daughter did not kill herself. The investigation is expected to close tomorrow.

SONS OF ERIN FIGHT A WEARIN' O' THE GREEN

'Twas St. Patrick's day and the gentleman who went into a loop department store and picked up an overcoat with a slightly green tinge little suspected that so many Irishmen would be working. House Detective William Flanagan followed him to the street. Trafic Policeman James O'Sullivan joined the chase and downed the thief with a flying tackle. Then came a patrol wagon with Policemen Francis Duffy and Michael Reynolds to convey him to the Central station. And the thief—oh, he's James Sullivan 21 years old.

MOTHER, SLAYER OF MATE, KILLS 6 OF HER CHILDREN

Shreveport, La., March 17.—[Special.]—A woman who was under a five year suspended sentence for slaying her husband two years ago was held in the county jail at Center, Tex., today for killing six of her nine children.

Mrs. Lillie May Curtis, 38 years old, told authorities she slaughtered the children in their sleep last night because she was ill and unable to provide for them since the death of her husband, Robert, 44 years old.

Tenderly she kissed each one of them good-by. Then, starting with the oldest and proceeding down the line, she placed a .22 calibre revolver over the heart of each child and fired.

After the six were dead, Mrs. Curtis roused her oldest son, Travis, 16 years old, who she spared "because he could take care of himself," and sent him to a neighbor's home to telephone Sherif J. B. Sample.

LEAPS 3 STORIES; ADMITS SLAYING OF TWO WOMEN

Buffalo, N. Y., March 17.—[Special.]—Shortly after he leaped from a third floor window of police headquarters late today, Peter Burton, 39 years old, confessed strangling to death his former wife and her landlady in Detroit several days ago.

Burton, a Detroit electrician, was being questioned by police when he leaped, landing head first on the sidewalk, and was critically injured.

Burton was quoted as saying he met his former wife, Mrs. Monica Janonis, 40 years old, and quarreled with her. As he atacked her, Mrs. Ursala Jakubowski, the landlady, appeared, Burton said, and he strangled both of them to death.

SEADLUND PENS MOTHER A NOTE AND PACES CELL

John Henry Seadlund, who was condemned to death Wednesday by a federal court jury for the kidnaping of Charles S. Ross, passed a restless day yesterday in the county jail.

Kept in an isolated cell and closely guarded, Seadlund was allowed no visitors. He wrote a letter to his mother, who lives at Ironton, Minn., and read a little. Guards said he did not seem to be able to concentrate and paced his cell for several hours.

However, the kidnap-slayer reiterated his earlier statement that he was glad he was to die instead of "rotting in jail." He added that he believed the attorneys who represented him in court had done everything in their power for him.

Seadlund's attorneys tomorrow will argue their plea for a new trial. If it be denied, Judge John P. Barnes then will sentence the slayer to the chair and set the date for the execution.

BEWARE OF HARSH LAXATIVES!

First, Try this Milder Method!

HERE'S a way thousands have found to avoid the use of harsh laxatives. Try it yourself.

First thing every morning squeeze the juice of a lemon into a tall glass of cold or warm water. Into another glass, put half a teaspoonful of ordinary baking soda (bicarbonate). Pour back and forth, and drink when foaming subsides.

BLENDED WHISKEY—IT'S OUR FAMILY'S WHISKEY, NEIGHBOR!

Fishing through the ice is good fun if you're not touchy about cold feet!

As far as fishing goes, we got a sort of private custom you might call it—of always taking our Family's Whiskey along. And when we land a real good size one we celebrate with a nip. As you can see, we done pretty poorly the day they took this snap. But Larry Burkes—him with the eyeglasses on—he don't see any too good, and he's fetched out the glass figuring we'd hooked a big one. We never said anything though!

Our Family's Recipe is just what us distillers love to end up a real perfect day with!

I guess you know how it is. Certain times your mouth feels like it's wanting something real extra tasty in it—and nothing else will do. Sometimes it's when you've been out on a specially snappy day and you're cold clean through. And sometimes it's when you come home in the evening, after a tough day's work. I can tell you it's times like that when you're mighty grateful you've got this extra tasty whiskey set aside some place where it's handy to get at!

This personal recipe of our family seems to have a satisfying way about it that nothing else can touch. Well, it took our family 50 years or so to learn the ways and means of getting all that extra tastiness into a whiskey. But I figure you'll say it wasn't time wasted, when you get a taste of it!

SPIRE OF ANCIENT BUDDHIST PAGODA MARKS RANGOON

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RANGOON, Burma.—[By Airmail.]—Standing out like a sore thumb as one approaches Rangoon from the air is that most famous and oldest of all the Buddhist pagodas, the Shwe Dagon [also known as the Shoay Dagon]. In addition to standing on a knoll 170 feet high, it is 370 feet in height and 300 feet in diameter at the base. In shape it is a cone slenderly pointed at the top, with slightly concave sides to give it grace and dignity. It has no interior rooms, being built solid of stupa [a form of brick].

Arrow locates Rangoon, site of huge Buddhist pagoda.

Being bright in color, the sun reflection in the gilt makes the pagoda visible for many miles. It is said to have many bands of solid gold around the smaller sections, in addition to countless precious jewels embedded in its crown. These are not visible from the ground without binoculars.

Surrounded by Little Pagodas.

Completely surrounding its base and forming a separate little world all their own are hundreds of little pagodas all depicting Buddha or his disciples in different poses. The pagodas are adorned with thousands of figures of animals, boats, soldiers, and picture backgrounds. There are many tombs of kings and princes in the group.

The whole thing is a mass of color—much of which is produced by inlaid glass. Hundreds of men, women and children may be seen prostrate in prayer at any hour. Most of them select different shrines for worship. In many cases whole families are gathered with a professional chanter to plead their cause or to give thanks for some act of providence.

At each of the four sides there are wide inclosed steps that lead from surrounding roads up to the top of the hill, a distance of about 100 yards. One stairway was destroyed by fire three years ago and is now being rebuilt.

Pagoda Nearly 2,600 Years Old.

The stairs are alive with gaudy and ornate decorations. Many beggars and cripples line the way up. Every one must remove shoes and socks before starting the climb—and the marble walks on top are blazing hot. Incidentally, a native says the shoe business is politics and has nothing to do with religion.

No one knows how old the pagoda is, but presumably it was started in 586 B. C.

Contrary to the pride in age displayed by most old cities of the far east, Rangoon boasts of its new buildings, its thoroughfares, and its modern parks and playgrounds. The town itself covers about fifty square miles and has a population of 400,000, including a large Chinese colony of 38,000. It is the capital and a busy rice export port.

Lake of Sacred Fish.

The park system is fortunate in having three beautiful lakes. One of them, called the Second lake, is alive with fish and turtles. It is considered good luck to feed the sacred fish. Food mongers do a good business. Fishing, of course, is not allowed.

Getting all dolled up and park strolling in the evening is a popular pastime of men and women—all vie in color flashes, lending a pleasing atmosphere to the pretty park scenery.

Up to date schools, hospitals, and manufacturing plants are numerous. The town is busy, but wide streets and good trafic regulation prevent congestion.

Transportation modes include pushcarts, rickishas, buses, bicycles, street cars, horses, oxen and automobiles. Ponies here are larger and better cared for than farther east.

Work for Small Wages.

The standard of living in Burma is relatively low. One hundred and twenty girls were counted jammed in a poorly lighted, poorly ventilated room 20 by 30 feet making cigars. Their wages, the guide said, was equivalent to 50 cents in American money for ten hours work. Lacquer, silver, ivory and wood carving work are prominent.

The Burmese are devout, fun loving people, but hot headed. Murder is a common crime. In physical characteristics they are more Indian than Malay. They are taller and have darker and sharper eyes than the yellow races to the east. They have a flair for hairdressing and colorful clothes.

Battle Over Estate

Merry Fahrney. Mrs. Theodore Hardeen Jr.

A new legal action over the estate of Emery H. Fahrney—one which pits his widow against their daughter, Merry Fahrney was started yesterday afternoon in the Probate court.

The widow, who now is Mrs. Theodore A. Hardeen Jr., filed a claim for all the furnishings of the old Fahrney mansion at 400 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park. These include paintings, art objects, and antiques valued at more than $100,000.

Almost before the ink was dry on the court clerk's ledger, Attorney Frank E. Cantwell, acting for Merry Fahrney, hurried in and filed a counterclaim in behalf of his client and the other heirs to the estate. The furnishings, the petition charges, are the property of the estate.

After hearing oral arguments Judge John F. O'Connell ordered yesterday that the principals be in court on April 5, when he will decide the matter of who owns the furnishings.

TWO WITNESSES TELL OF SIGNING MINIATURE WILL

Two witnesses told yesterday of signing the miniature will of James W. Barnhart, 67 years old, retired proprietor of a chain of barber shops. The will is now being contested before a jury in the court of Judge Stanley Klarkowski. It is 3x5 inches and contains 25 words, giving all property and funds, estimated at $100,000, to a daughter, Mrs. Marguerite B. Cummings, 9944 South Damen avenue.

Those testifying included Mrs. Anna Karow, 37 years old, a professional companion who lives at 427 Kenilworth avenue, Kenilworth; and Clarence Swift, unemployed, 6733 Stony Island avenue, who said he was an amateur inventor who never had steady employment, but was a friend of twelve years' standing.

The contestants of the will are Ernest R. Barnhart of Wadsworth, O., a brother of the decedent; David A. Barnhart of Ashland, O., another brother, and Mrs. Eva Slater of Creston, O., a sister.

FEDERAL AGENTS SEIZE SIX MEN AS COUNTERFEITERS

Six members of an alleged counterfeiting gang which reputedly specialized in passing bogus $20 bills in near north side night spots were held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds ranging from $500 to $7,500 by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker.

Those held are Jack Temkin, 1429 North Clark street; Robert Savio, the alleged leader, whose address was withheld; James Clare and Philip Gilson, both of 417 North Clark street, and Richard Walsh, and Harry Barton, both of 1800 North Clark street.

The girl operator of a dice game in a night club provided information which led to the roundup of the men. Federal agents under Harry Anheier, acting head of the local secret service, arrested Temkin first. He is said to have involved the others. The agents confiscated $3,000 in spurious bills.

UNWANTED CHILD GETS A START IN FOUNDLING HOME

12,000 Babes Have Found Its Walls a Haven.

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

An austere brick house, shrinking with mid-Victorian dignity from the worldliness of Madison street at Wood, has been home to 12,000 illegitimate babies. There romance has bloomed, and its dingy little sitting room has been a bridal bower for hundreds of young mothers as well as baptismal fount to their children.

The Chicago Foundlings' home was opened by Dr. George E. Shipman on Jan. 15, 1871, at 54 South Green street. It was a small two story structure. The vestibule was planned with a little shelf equipped with an old basket to receive the waifs which then were being abandoned on doorsteps and in secluded spots at the rate of one a day. The home's assets were $77.38.

New Problem Arises.

For years the foundlings continued to appear on the little shelf. Then, with the turn of the century, the institution faced a new problem. With the greater freedom existing then, unmarried mothers did not abandon their children in desperation as had been done twenty years before. The home found it had fewer babies, but its doorbell tinkled frequently to admit young girls—expectant mothers who sought refuge.

It became apparent to Dr. Shipman that by taking a child from its mother, thus relieving her of all responsibility, a wrong was committed against both mother and child. Now, with rare exceptions, the mother must remain with her baby until it is adopted, if she insists on giving it up. At the end of four weeks she may leave the home, but she must take the baby with her. If she desires, the mother may stay at the home with her baby until it is 2 years old. She may find employment outside during the day and return to her baby at the home at night. And the doors still are open to abandoned infants.

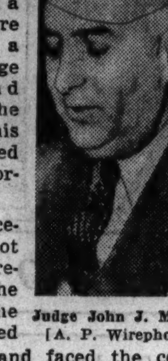
Waiting List Large.

There are thirty mothers and thirty babies now at the foundlings' home, and a waiting list that promises to keep that number at its maximum for several months. Before acceptance each applicant is investigated carefully to see if it is her first transgression. She is given tests for venereal infection. Beyond that there are no questions asked. Many of the girls come from downstate, having left their small home towns to avoid disgrace.

The home, which has only a small endowment, has been supervised continuously by some member of the Shipman family. Mrs. James S. Forbes, wife of Dr. Shipman's grandson, is its present director. In accordance with the wish of Dr. Shipman, no solicitation for funds is countenanced. The home depends entirely upon the voluntary contributions from friends, and its collections are mainly small anonymous donations of less than $1.

JUDGE QUITS BENCH TO SEIZE MAN, KICK HIM INTO CORRIDOR

Detroit, Mich., March 17.—[Special.]—Spectators in Recorder's court were startled today when Judge John J. Maher suddenly leaped from his bench in the midst of a trial. But more startled was a man the judge seized and dragged to the door, slapped his face and kicked him into the corridor.



Judge John J. Maher. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

"That procedure may not have been entirely judicial," the judge said as he calmly returned to the bench and faced the courtroom audience, "but you must remember this is St. Patrick's day."

The man ejected, Raymond MacDonald, a former welfare recipient, had nothing to do with the trial in progress. Some time ago Judge Maher sent him to jail for 90 days for failing to support his wife and daughter. Since his release, the judge said, MacDonald had threatened him and a woman welfare investigator.

MRS. E. F. POTTER GETS DIVORCE; HIT THRICE, SHE SAYS

Mrse. Opal C. Potter of 921 Rogers court, Waukegan, was granted a divorce yesterday in the Lake county Circuit court from Earl F. Potter, president of the Potter Radio corporation of North Chicago. Mrs. Potter charged he had struck her three times—once because dinner was late, again when she missed the garage door and bent a fender on their car, and finally because she complained after going to a movie against her will.

In a property division Mrs. Potter received their summer home at Sugar Camp lake, near Rhinelander, Wis., according to her attorney, Harold Tallett. She also will receive $125 a month for two years. Mrs. Potter is widely known as an equestrienne.

TELLS PROGRESS IN EFFORTS FOR TRANSIT UNITY

Walter A. Shaw, special traction coördinator for Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, said yesterday that current efforts under his guidance to work out a plan for unification and modernization of Chicago's transit facilities are progressing satisfactorily. All interested parties, he said, are coöperating with him.

Shaw is to make a report to Judge Wilkerson on April 5. It is expected this will merely acquaint the court with the progress of his activities, as it is not believed he will be ready to submit a final report by that time.

W-G-N BUILDING RADIATOR TOWER 750 FEET HIGH

Plant Located 24 Miles Northwest of City.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

W-G-N has started the instalation of the foundations for the 750 foot vertical radiator of its new transmitter station which it is to build 24 miles northwest of Chicago's loop. The plant will be located on route 53 two miles north of Irving Park boulevard. Erection of the Truscon tower will start about April 1. It is expected the project will be finished a month later. The radiator will be supported by anchoring wires at 300 and at 590 feet.

Notes and comment: Ted Weems' band will replace Henry Busse on his Sunday NBC series Sunday, April 3. Busse, who leaves the Chez Paree for a Cincinnati night spot, will be followed by Lou Breese who takes over his sustaining broadcasts. . . . Truman Bradley goes to New York this week-end to be screen-tested by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Vincent Pelletier is taking over his WBBM commentary program. . . . Adolph Hitler's address on foreign policy before the Reichstag will be rebroadcast by American networks at 2 p. m. today. WBBM will be one local outlet.

Jane Froman, who appears too rarely on the air, sang better than ever on the Al Pearce show Tuesday evening. I wish some sponsor would get her back on the air regularly. Jack Benny's patron, who paid for 13 weeks of Miss Froman's singing last summer, has bought something called What Would You Have Done, a teaser type of program, for substitution when Jack vacations this summer.

Jane Pickens, who like Miss Froman, has a voice peculiarly suited to radio, was missing on the Ben Bernie show Wednesday night. It was announced that she was on her way to Hollywood. Ben should think twice before letting her go. She leaves quite a vocal gap.

Fibber McGee's shift to Tuesday night is pleasing a lot of listeners who sometimes missed him on Mondays because of counter attractions. Fibber tossed off a pointed topical joke this week. It ran like this: "How about playing that Hitler song?" "What's the Hitler song?" "Vienna, Vienna?" . . . And that's very sprightly music Billy Mills is making for Fibber and company.

Easter morning NBC is to put on a special broadcast from Sandwich, Ill., with Hedwig Easter [that's right], editor and owner of the local paper, describing the parade. Then the scene will shift to the Fifth avenue parade in New York City and to Connecticut avenue, Washington.

Alice Blue, W-G-N staf pianist, is back at work following a vacation in California. She visited the Charlie Correll's [Andy] at Palm Springs. . . . Russ Young is handling Bob Elson's State Street interviews while the sportscaster is in California. . . . Arch Oboler and Boris Karloff are due here Sunday from California to get ready for their special Lights Out series. . . . Kay Kyser had a lot of fun popping puzzlers at Chicago writers and critics the other evening. He moves his Kollege of Musical Knowledge to the Chicago theater for a week starting today.

20 PER CENT MORE INJURY SUITS WON BY THE CITY IN '37

The corporation counsel's office experienced an unusually heavy year in 1937, according to the annual report of Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes, made public yesterday by Mayor Kelly.

The office disposed of 827 civil suits, 158,529 prosecutions for violations of the city codes, and 705 cases before various commissions. Hodes was particularly pleased, he said, that his law department increased by 20 per cent its victories in personal injury cases against the city, in spite of a 30 per cent increase in new cases filed.

Prosecution of code violation cases brought fines of $82,424 from 17,332 persons, and 9,153 persons went to the Bridewell to serve out fines of $545,549 when they were unable to pay. The office also supported the drive against venereal diseases by giving legal opinions supporting the city's right to demand blood tests where infection was suspected.

HOULIHAN NAMED AID TO CUSTODIAN OF COURTHOUSE

Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen yesterday announced the appointment of Martin J. Houlihan, chief clerk in the custodian's office, as assistant custodian of the United States courthouse. Mr. Houlihan will succeed Charles C. Shirley, who has been appointed property manager for all post-office department properties in Chicago. Mr. Houlihan has been in the service of the government for the last 12 years, but is only 29 years old. He lives at 336 South Kostner avenue.

CITY MANAGER PLAN URGED FOR ILLINOIS TOWNS

A report advocating establishment of the city manager plan of government for Chicago and other Illinois cities was published yesterday by the City club. The report cites Cincinnati, O., where the city manager plan has worked out successfully, and says that local government in Illinois could be improved in this manner.

The Illinois state constitution bars city manager rule. Last April the legislature defeated a bill which would have allowed individual communities to vote on the question. The City club report also recommends the proportional representation system of balloting in elections for local offices.

THORPE URGES U.S. RETURN TO BASIC AMERICAN IDEALS

Urging a return to the principles upon which American society was founded, Merle Thorpe of Washington, D. C., editor of the magazine, Nation's Business, addressed the Daughters of the American Revolution and Sons of the American Revolution at a banquet in the Stevens hotel last night.

"The idea that to preserve democracy we must destroy the so-called economic royalists," he said, "is balderdash. The majority of the so-called economic royalists are men who have worked their way up through their own enterprise. We must decide whether we shall continue in the free and hard way of the framers of the constitution devised or let some political authority determine our destiny for us."

The banquet was part of the D. A. R. state convention. Adequate national defense was advocated by Mrs. Vinton Earl Sisson of Washington, national chairman of the defense committee. Mrs. Frederick C. Minkler of Evanston, state chairman of the defense committee, urged women to take an active part in politics.

ELECTRIC WAVES TELL STORY OF TUMOR IN BRAIN

Medical science can now in many cases detect the presence of brain lesions, such as tumors and scars, by charting the electrical waves coming from the brain, according to a report read by Dr. Theodore J. Case of the University of Chicago at a meeting of the Chicago Neurological society last night.

This is done by fixing small electrodes to the skull with collodion, and then amplifying the minute electrical current from the brain a million times. This magnified current causes a small pen to write the brain record on a moving tape.

Dr. Case, in eleven specific experiments, found that the most common wave frequency from the brain was 10 per second. A frequency of 3 per second indicated a lesion, he said. Very slow waves, varying from one in five seconds to one in two seconds, indicated tumors, he asserted.

TAVERN OWNERS SUED FOR $175,000 FOR SON'S DEATH

Mrs. Alta M. Waidley of 840 Pearl street, Aurora, filed damage suits for a total of $175,000 in the Kane county Circuit court at Geneva yesterday. The suits, filed under the dramshop act, are directed against the managers and owners of three taverns. She alleges that her son, Royce Brooke, 20 years old, was sold intoxicating liquor in the taverns shortly before his death in an automobile accident on March 19, 1937. Defendants are Bernard Poss, owner of Barney's tavern; Alex Pocus, operator of the Mill tavern, and Herbert Osborne, owner of the property; Clarence Reiland, operator of the Riviera tavern, and his landlord, Albert Teneau. All the defendants are residents of Kane county.

Early Finnish Settlement to Be Recalled by Pageant

The story of Finnish settlers in the Delaware river valley 300 years ago will be depicted in a costumed pageant entitled "Evolution," in the Lincoln Auditorium, 4219 Lincoln avenue, tomorrow night. The Finns settled with the more numerous Swedish colonists and were generally listed with them as Swedes, with the result, pageant sponsors said, the Finns never quite received separate historical recognition. The tercentenary is designed to illustrate the Finnish contribution to America.

MANY TYPES OF VINEGAR SERVE THE KITCHENEER

Various Kinds Listed for Your Information.

BY MARY MEADE.

If you think that vinegar is just vinegar you're mistaken. When you order a "quart of vinegar, please," from your grocer he sends you cider vinegar made from apples, not because that is the only vinegar he has in stock, but because it is by far the most popular vinegar used in this country.

Besides cider vinegars of varying strength [4, 4½, or 5 per cent acetic acid—the minimum strength is 4 per cent] there are wine vinegars made by fermentation of grape juices; malt vinegars made from barley malt or malt of other cereals; corn-sugar vinegars made from starch and corn sugar or corn sirup, and distilled vinegars known also as white and spirit vinegars, made by fermenting diluted distilled alcohol.

There are flavored vinegars, too, the most popular of which is tarragon. Vinegar flavored with tarragon, an aromatic herb, is considered quite choice for use in salad dressings. The flavor of tarragon is well liked, especially in vegetable salads. Malt vinegar rather than cider vinegar usually is flavored with tarragon.

Tarragon French Dressing.

[For Four Salads.]

1 garlic clove
3 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
½ cup salad oil
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
Few grains pepper

Rub bowl with cut clove of garlic. Discard garlic and combine other ingredients in the bowl. Beat thoroughly. Serve on vegetable salads.

Spanish Dressing.

½ cup salad oil
¼ teaspoon mustard
½ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
2 drops Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
¼ teaspoon onion juice
Pepper
2 tablespoons chili sauce

Combine ingrediests and shake or beat thoroughly. Keep in a covered container to be used as needed, shaking or beating well before combining with salad. Greens, vegetables, and meat salads are good with this dressing.

Vinaigrette Sauce for Meats and Vegetables.

1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
Few grains pepper
6 tablespoons olive oil or salad oil
1 tablespoon each chopped green pepper and chopped pickle
1 teaspoon each chopped parsley and chopped chives

Vinegar Taffy.

2 cups sugar
½ cup hot water
2 tablespoons butter
5 tablespoons cider vinegar

Heat sugar, water, and butter to boiling point and add vinegar. Boil without stirring until brittle when tested in cold water, from 264 to 272 degrees by the candy thermometer. Pour into buttered pan and leave until cool enough to pull. Pull until porous and light in color, using tips of fingers and thumbs. Cut into pieces with scissors.

Rice with Eggs au Gratin an Enticing Breakfast Dish

An enticing breakfast main dish for a hungry family is creamed rice with eggs au gratin. Preparation time is short if the rice and white sauce are cooked the night before.

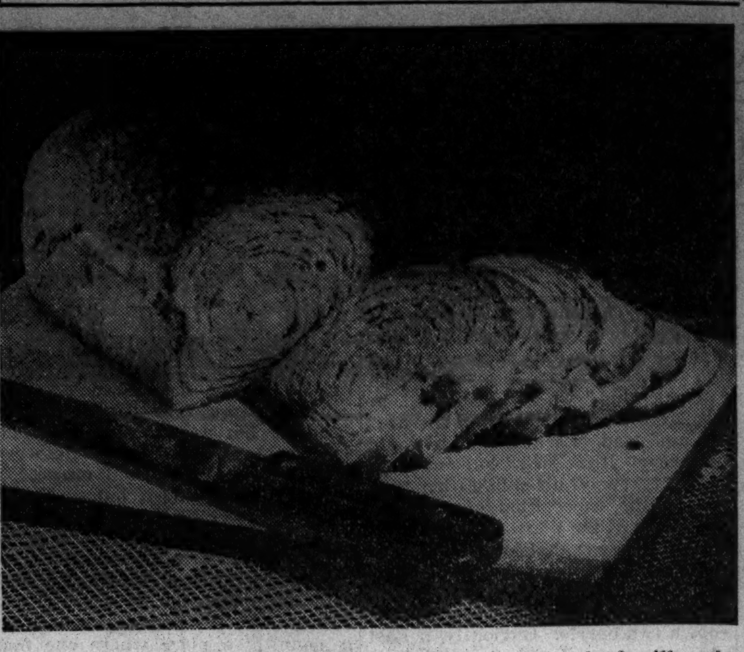
CREAMY RICE AND EGGS AU GRATIN.

[Serves six.]

3 cups hot boiled rice
1½ cups medium white sauce
6 eggs
½ cup grated cheese
Buttered crums

Combine rice and white sauce. Place a one-half inch layer of rice in buttered shallow baking dish or individual ramekins. Make hollows in the rice and break an egg into each hollow. Season; cover with grated cheese and buttered crumbs and bake in moderate oven [350 degrees] for twenty-five minutes, or until eggs are set.

You'll Want More of This



Served morning, noon, or night, a rolled cinnamon loaf will make your mouth water for more. It is made from a foundation sweet dough recipe that can be made into rolls or tea rings as well.

ICES ARE EASILY MADE AND OFFER A FINE DESSERT

An ice is often just the right dessert after a heavy meal. If you have a freezer and hands eager to crank it—or maybe you have one of the new electric freezers—you'll be making this ice frequently.

GRAPE ICE.

[About 3 pints.]

3 cups water
1 cup sugar
1 cup grape juice
¼ cup orange juice
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Make a sirup of the water and sugar, boiling about five minutes. Add fruit juices, cool, and strain. Pour into freezer container and freeze, using 8 parts ice to 1 part salt. When mixture is thick [10 to 12 minutes], drain off excess brine, remove dasher, and repack in 3 or 4 parts ice to 1 part salt. Allow to ripen for 1½ to 2 hours before serving time.

FRUIT FRITTERS CAN BE QUICKLY MADE DESSERT

Fruit fritters served with lemon juice and powdered sugar or with a sauce are a delicious and quickly prepared dessert suitable for company meals or for "just the family."

Canned or stewed apricots, pineapple slices, orange sections, half-inch slices of cored apples, and lengthwise halves of bananas are all suitable fruits. After dipping in fritter batter the fruits may either be fried in deep fat at 370 to 380 degrees or may be sautéed in a generous amount of butter.

FRITTER BATTER.

2 egg yolks
⅓ cup milk or water
1 tablespoon lemon juice or wine
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 cup all purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites

Beat egg yolk and water together until well blended. Add lemon juice or wine and melted butter and continue beating. Sift flour with salt and sugar. Add liquid to flour, using only a few swift strokes. Beat egg whites until stiff with the ⅛ teaspoon of salt. Fold beaten whites into the batter.

A jelly sauce is a delicious accompaniment for the fruit fritters. This one which requires no cooking is easily made.

CRIMSON SAUCE.

½ cup currant jelly
2 tablespoons hot water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped raisins
4 chopped maraschino cherries
1 teaspoon maraschino cherry juice

Combine ingredients and beat well.

THIS DEEP DISH RHUBARB PIE IS SIGN OF SPRING

The dinnertime appearance of rhubarb pie is as sure a sign of spring as the first robin and crocuses. Somehow the juicy and tart pie plant is a promise of balmy days to come.

And what could be better than deep dish rhubarb pie?

DEEP DISH RHUBARB PIE.

4 cups fresh rhubarb, cut in small pieces
1¼ cups granulated sugar
3 tablespoons all purpose flour
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ pastry recipe

Pack rhubarb into a deep pie pan or shallow baking dish. Combine sugar and flour. Mix well. Sprinkle over rhubarb. Dot top with bits of butter or margarine. Sprinkle lemon juice over all. Top with crust which has been pricked with a fork. Bake in a hot oven [425 degrees] for 10 minutes; then reduce heat to moderately hot [375 degrees] and continue baking until fruit is tender and crust is a golden brown—approximately 25 minutes longer.

FOOD STAPLES SHOW UPWARD TREND IN PRICE

Meat Costs Drop Slightly in Most Stores.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Food prices have been swinging up and down in Chicago and suburban shopping districts since last week, resulting in more than the usual price variations between the different stores. THE TRIBUNE's regular price survey indicates that many items regularly on shoppers' lists will be higher in some stores and lower in others today and tomorrow.

Most of the changes in staples have been upward, due to putting the regular price tags back on items that were on bargain counter sales last week.

Sugar is 6 cents a 10 pound sack higher in many stores. Flour is up 6 to 10 cents a 24½ pound bag in most places. Lard varies from 1½ cents a pound higher to 2 cents lower. Roll butter is slightly higher in a few stores while both roll and package butter is 1 to 2 cents lower in some. Many have made no change in butter prices. Egg prices are down 2 to 4 cents a dozen in many stores, but are the same as last week in other places.

Celery, Beet Prices Drop.

Bananas are lower than last week generally. Bunch carrots are off about 1 cent a bunch in most places, and celery, broccoli, and bunch beets are down slightly in many stores.

Strawberries are 2 to 3 cents a pint box lower. Green beans are lower in virtually all stores, but there is a wide variation in quality and prices. New potatoes are cheaper and a few stores have reduced the price of old white potatoes 2 cents a 15 pound sack. White turnips, dry onions, and green peas are lower in a few stores.

Radishes, sweet potatoes, cauliflower, and spinach are down in some stores and up in others. Fresh tomatoes are 2 to 3 cents a pound higher in many shopping centers. Head lettuce is up 1 to 2 cents a head in stores generally throughout the city and suburbs.

Cost of Meat Drops.

There are more downs than ups in fresh meat prices. Pot roasts of beef are ½ to 2 cents a pound lower in most shops, and leg of lamb is down 1 to 6 cents a pound in some shops. Pork spareribs are 2 cents a pound lower in a few places. Shoulder lamb chops have been reduced as much as 4 cents a pound in some shops.

Cured hams are down 1 cent a pound in some shops and up 6 cents a pound in others. Round and sirloin steaks are off 2 cents a pound in some places and up an equal amount in others. Frying chickens are 2 cents a pound higher in many shops.

The live stock market was dull during the week with comparatively few price changes, according to John Campbell, federal reporter at Union stockyards.

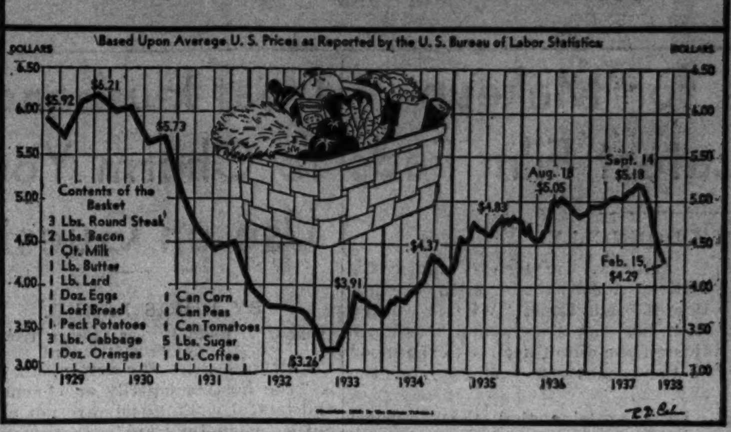
Cattle Price Unchanged.

Beef cattle prices were about the same as last week with a top price for the week of $10.50 a hundred pounds. Wholesale cuts of beef from good and choice steers went up 50 cents a hundred. Farmers were paid about the same for hogs. The top price was $9.75 a hundredweight. Dressed pork carcasses sold 50 cents a hundred higher.

Fat lambs dropped 35 to 50 cents a hundred pounds, the top price for the week being $9.50 a hundred. Wholesale cuts of lamb sold $1 a hundred lower.

Prices of fresh fruits and vegetables on the central market were generally lower this week than last, according to federal reports. Among the items that were reduced in price were cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, fresh tomatoes, strawberries, broccoli, oranges, and new potatoes. Head lettuce and the better quality green beans are higher.

The Cost of the Market Basket Calculated from Government Prices



A SINGLE VEGETABLE WELL COOKED MAKES EYE APPEALING DISH

Salads made of cooked vegetables are pretty apt to become mixed vegetable salads. A single vegetable cooked and properly seasoned is equally delicious and very eye-appealing.

COOKED SPINACH SALAD.

Drain spinach which has been cooked until barely tender and chill thoroughly. Into a salad bowl put 1 teaspoon of prepared mustard, salt and pepper, 3 tablespoons of olive oil and 1 tablespoon of vinegar. Mix well, add the spinach and allow to marinate well. Serve very cold.

COOKED CAULIFLOWER SALAD.

Drain cooked cauliflower well. Pull apart in uniform bunches, and chill thoroughly. To serve sprinkle liberally with chopped chives and a tart French dressing.

REVEAL SECRET OF POPOVERS THAT ARE GOOD

To bake popovers that really pop is the goal of many an aspiring cook. The rise of the popover will depend largely on the use of a preheated oven and preheated pans. Following a tested recipe and handling the batter quickly also are essential for a light and airy popover.

CHEESE POPOVERS.

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¾ teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 cup milk
Grated cheese
Paprika
Cayenne

Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Place heavy oiled popover pans or greased custard cups in the oven to heat while mixing the batter. Sift flour and salt together. Beat egg until frothy and combine with milk. Stir the liquid ingredients slowly into the flour. Beat mixture until ingredients are well blended, but no longer. Pour one scant tablespoonful of batter in each heated cup, cover with generous sprinkling of grated cheese mixed with paprika and a few grains of cayenne. Place another teaspoonful of batter in each cup. Turn oven up to 475 degrees and set popovers in it immediately. After 20 minutes reduce heat to 350 and permit to dry out for about 10 minutes.

Musical Moods for Makeup One of the Latest Film Fads

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Whether there is a moral in this for us or not, you decide yourself. BUT——

An enterprising young makeup man, George Lane, decided that if music was used to put people in the proper state of mind and character for screen scenes, then it also should be used to put them in the correct makeup mood.

"Screen players," explained Lane, "can't turn emotions on and off like a switch, and so whenever I make up a player in the morning I can be reasonably sure that her day's work will be serious, gay, tearful, or extremely sad.

"So I try to make players up to fit the type and feeling of that particular sequence."

Currently, Lane is the chief makeup man for Maureen O'Sullivan.

Every morning he arrives at her studio dressing room with two boxes. One contains his makeup materials and the other is a portable electric phonograph.

Having read the day's sequence the night before, he knows that the day will be a happy one as far as the dialog and action of the picture are concerned.

So he looks through his list of records and picks a swing song such as "Sweet Sue." Naturally, Miss O'Sullivan's face brightens to the tempo of the music and the gayety of her feeling is reflected in her makeup.

"Actually, the idea of music for makeup moods belongs to Eleanor Powell," says Lane. "When I worked with her she always had music, although she didn't keep it to the mood of the scenes she would do for the day."

Lane explains that the "musical moods" idea doesn't mean that he paints any emotions on the player's face.

"Instead, I try to harmonize my work with what they will have to do on the stage. If a player feels low in the morning, his mouth is apt to droop and stay in that position while paint and powder are being applied.

"That's all right if the script calls for them to droop all day, but otherwise they will have trouble breaking the feeling for light scenes."

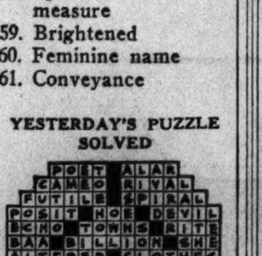
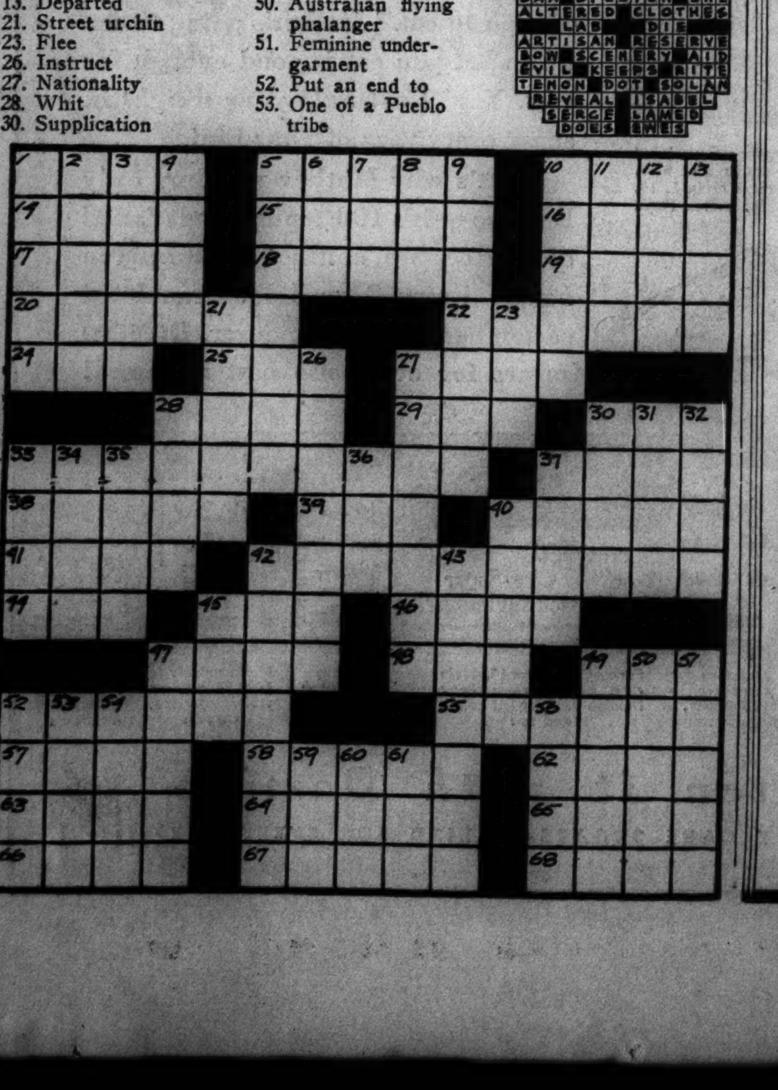
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





Treat Husband to Charm You Use on Guests

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A definition for the perfect hostess is "the hostess equally as charming and tactful when guests are not present as when they are." In that definition there also is the secret of a successful marriage, really. Can you imagine a man seeking companionship elsewhere whose wife contributes the charming graces, tact, and kindness she would to a guest dropping in?

Singer-actress Frances Faye, returned from Hollywood, made an observation about the well known cinema spot having the best hostesses in the world and, per capita, the most startling divorce record. Miss Faye observed the extravagant charms of the Hollywood hostess and host on party parade, but opined that such fine manners and grace could not be practiced within the palatial home confines or the divorce record could not be so staggering.

Whether Miss Faye proposes a few suggestions for the better peace and happiness of the domestic menage, or whether they come from other sources, does not matter, so long as they are given thought by those matrimonially affected. But Miss Faye does propose a few rules for guidance:

"Don't dress up your character for guests only, reserving rudeness and discourtesy for the mate. The very difference in behavior exaggerates rude and discourteous lapses.

"Let the things that are Caesar's belong to the Caesar of your household [meaning your husband]," she cautions wives. "His brush, his comb, his shaving equipment, his closet and drawer space, etc. And don't spill powder or other makeup over his belongings. Don't criticize him before friends. Don't force him to eat the food you must eat on a diet. Consider his pet likes and dislikes, as you would have him consider yours. And don't 'kid' him before company about the awful girls he used to go around with before you landed him. You tell him, before some other femme gets the chance, that he is as young and wonderful today as when you married him. Think of his anniversaries and birthdays, with some neat little token of your thoughts, too."

The men could improve their domestic status, thinks Miss Faye, if they'd offer to give the wife a change from household monotony by arranging dinner outside occasionally; by complimenting the little woman when she wears something new, instead of emitting grunts or criticism; by remembering to kiss her before leaving the house and on returning.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

The saddest of all spectacles at the bridge table is the player who gives up without a struggle. In this respect bridge is not different from football, baseball, etc. A fighting spirit is prerequisite No. 1. For sporting, as well as for practical reasons, hands should be played out to the bitter end.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 club	1 diamond	1 spade	2 hearts
2 spades	Pass	Pass	3 hearts
3 spades	Pass	Pass	4 hearts
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

North's diamond overcall was so weak that, despite his heart support, he did not feel justified in raising, but South, with a seven card suit and the knowledge that his partner had some strength, correctly persisted to four hearts as a sacrifice.

West opened the diamond king "to take a look," and then shifted to the spade ace. When East followed with a low spade, West tried out the club situation by laying down the ace and watching for his partner's card. East, however, was about as coöperative at this point as a sore thumb. He felt that he could not spare the jack and, hence, played the deuce. His failure to recognize the need for grabbing another club trick was nothing short of criminal. West, by leading the diamond king, had clearly shown three diamonds since, had he held the ace and king blank, he would have opened the ace. West's spade ace lead had disclaimed possession of the king. Thus, no more spade or diamond tricks were to be expected by the defenders, and unless two club tricks were quickly taken there was a grave risk that declarer would be able to establish at least one trick in dummy's diamond suit. West, a trusting soul, believed East's deuce of clubs and, since West's spade follow-suit card had not been quite so discouraging [declarer had played the spade seven on the ace, concealing the deuce], West now led another spade. Dummy's queen won, and declarer promptly drew the outstanding trumps and, with an air of having saved game at a piffling cost, gayly presented the defenders with another club trick. As his irate partner quickly pointed out, he should not have been so complacent.

Due to the defenders' failure to grab the second club trick a beautiful opportunity had been presented declarer. After winning with dummy's spade queen declarer had nothing to lose and a great deal to gain by the following line of play.

Ruff a low diamond and lead a trump to the jack. Ruff another low diamond. On this West's ace would fall. Now a trump to the king would account for the outstanding trumps, and at this point the four heart "sacrifice bid" would be fulfilled, or lost, by the proper guess on the next diamond lead. East, of course, would not cover the jack, but declarer should throw off his club, rather than ruff in the expectation of dropping the queen from West. There would be more chance that West had started with only three diamonds than with four, since he had bid clubs, raised spades twice and, in the play, shown two hearts. Obviously, if East unwisely covered the diamond jack, declarer could merely ruff, and by ruffing the good spade king with dummy's heart deuce could reënter dummy to cash the diamond ten.

That the declarer should have conceded defeat, without even attempting the establishment of a diamond trick, is past understanding.

The Fishermen's club of the Cicero Bible church, 52d avenue and 22d place, will hold its fifteenth annual meeting and rally tomorrow afternoon with Dr. Will H. Houghton, president of Moody Bible institute, the leading speaker.

The club is an evangelistic organization composed of business and professional men, clergymen, craftsmen of all groups, and laborers, which has extended its work to an international scope. Tomorrow's report will show that during the last year religious meetings were conducted by club members in 97 cities of 19 states and 8 foreign countries on five continents

This work, including religious broadcasts over seven metropolitan stations, was done at a budgeted cost to the club of a little more than one thousand dollars. According to the Rev. William R. McCarrell, pastor, this money was used mainly for the club's Saturday suppers and incidentals. Club members do their religious work without pay.

Tomorrow's report will show that club members conducted or assisted in more than 4,000 meetings last year, organized 7 new Sunday schools, conducted 23 summer Bible schools, taught 560 Bible classes, distributed 395,924 tracts and 15,392 portions of the Bible, made 3,432 personal calls in religious interest, and did personal evangelistic work with 21,031 individuals.

Business Men Seek Beautiful in Art Class

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There is one group of men painting in Chicago for whom criticism has no terrors. The Business Men's Art club has a membership of lawyers, bankers, ministers, engineers, plain business men, and others, all kinds and of all ages, but each with one quality in common—an intense enthusiasm for self-expression in paint.

This enthusiasm reveals itself, so far as one may judge by the annual exhibits of the club, in a search for beauty. The Business Men's Art club is definitly a place where one may walk with safety, sure of pleasurable experiences in any anticipated show.

The third annual exhibit of work by members of the club is now on view in the club woman's bureau, Mandel Brothers. It upholds, in every detail, the tradition set by earlier exhibits. The work is gay, colorful, amusing, and charming. If one reads into some of the pictures a suggestion of a professional artist it is not to be too much wondered at—these men are painting under the guidance and helpful criticism of now one and now another artist of standing in Chicago.

However, for the most part, these pictures originate in the mind and have been achieved with the talent of the man whose name is signed to them.

"Sambo," by Paul L. Olson, is one of the best paintings in the show. It is excellently handled, and simple with that true simplicity which is closely akin to genius. "Off for Mackinac," by C. F. Bishof, is a vivid boating scene very well done.

"Early Morning," by James Eccles; "High Fields, Vermont," by H. B. Colby; "Ocean Wave," by the Rev. James O'May; "Early Snow," by Oscar M. Lumby; "Clown," by A. H. Kimball, and "Sundown," by G. H. Harper, are a few of the many paintings that make this show the cheerful occasion it is. The exhibition will continue through March.

Grand Duchess Marie in City; Is Optimistic on Chances for Peace

Marie, grand duchess of Russia and one of the last surviving Romanoffs, granddaughter of the Czar Alexander II. and first cousin of the Czar Nicholas II., is in Chicago for two days on her way to Fort Worth and Dallas, Tex., to lecture.

She has just spent 14 months traveling abroad and with three cameras, and hopes to have her pictures published in book form. She said that she didn't consider the European situation as bad as it looks, and that Hitler's seizure of Austria may be a force for peace instead of war.

The grand duchess will be given a cocktail party this afternoon by Count and Countess Potocki at their home, 1500 Lake Shore drive. Prince Rostislav and his wife, cousins of the grand duchess, have no plans for entertaining the visitor because of the shortness of her stay.

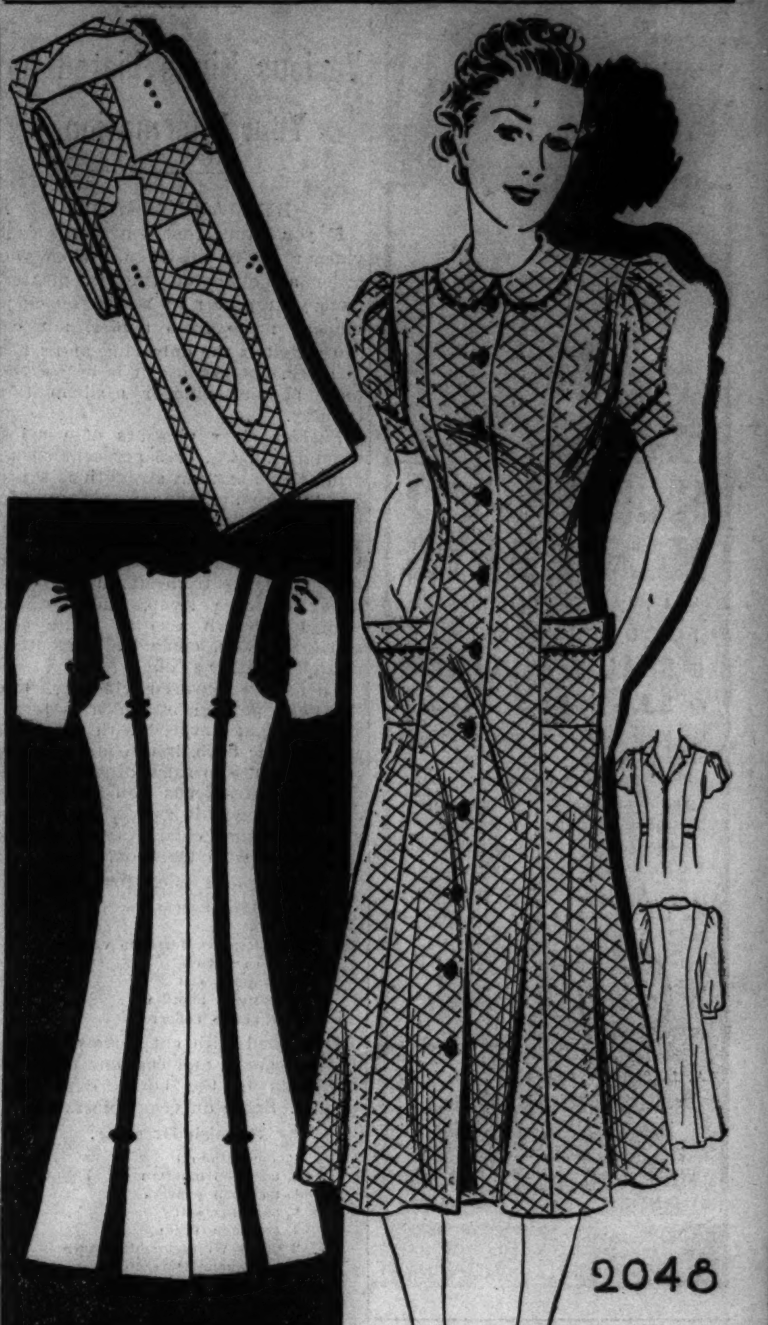
Chic, Useful House Frock



WOMAN'S AND MISS' HOME FROCK.

Every woman, whether she is some man's adored wife or a bachelor girl tending to her own small but charming apartment, will appreciate the chic and usefulness of this home frock. Every line of it spells youth. It buttons down the front, which makes it easy to put on and take off. No belt breaks the delightful long line achieved by the paneling. The puffed sleeves may be long or short, but we imagine that almost every one will prefer them short. They are puffed at the shoulders and have trim cuffs. Contrasting buttons match the rick-rack braid used to trim the collar, cuffs, and two capacious pockets. The color scheme of the original consisted of a navy and white checked washable fabric, with the trimming in a bright strawberry shade.

This is amazingly easy to sew. Once you've made the first frock from this pattern you will want to use it over and over again for other dresses in a variety of color schemes.

Style No. 2048 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measurement. Siz 36 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with 2 yards of rick-rack braid.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

One of the perfume houses has launched the smartest stunt with sachets that has ever come to our notice. Sachets are admittedly lovely things that delight the feminine soul, but they are considered luxuries by most of us, and it is perfectly true that the price tags they have frequently carried have strengthened that impression of the de luxe.

These new sachets come in every conceivable guise, in beautiful colors, in an exquisite lilac-ish perfume, and in a choice of satin, taffeta, or bengaline. Best of all, they're unbelievably inexpensive.

First about the guises: You can have a lingerie threesome, a trio of practical envelopes, one large for negligees, another for lingerie, and a smaller one for slips. These are in luscious pastels bound in darker shades; at home the light shade can be used. When you travel simply turn them inside out. There is a button closing on both sides. The color combinations will enchant you. Rose and wine, for instance, or cherry blossom and marine blue or candlelight and jade, or turquoise and mimosa. . . . Order what you prefer.

You can have any number of sachet accessories to match—stocking cases, 'kerchief cases, scented pads for the dresser drawers, or little pads to toss here and there among your delicate possessions.

Our own idea of a unique gift—particularly for any one who is ill, though not necessarily limited to them—is the bedside pocket with a stiff flap to be tucked beneath the mattress, with the voluminous pocket falling below. In luscious colors and the same exquisite sachet. Use it at home for a book, paper and pencil, fresh handkerchiefs, maybe a packet of cigarets. Traveling you could use it for creams or tissues or whatever you're apt to need close at hand.

There is also a hot water bottle cover, the height of perfumed luxury, but not really costly. It's a joy. These all are, as a matter of fact.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

The Housewife

It's convenient to keep gift wrapping paper, ribbon, seals, etc., in your desk drawer so that when an unexpected occasion comes round you'll have an attractive covering for a gift. And gift papers are so much prettier now than they used to be.

There are charming ones that have a pattern of tulips in yellow and orange on a white background. Or the tulips could be Dubonnet and pink with silver on the white. Another smart gift paper had gay little peasant figures in scarlet, blue and green on white, while a third was a lovely plain pink with silver stripes. For children's presents there's a Noah's ark paper that is adorable.

For finishing touches try the gold initial seals that come in sets. They're good looking and inexpensive.

Duo Pianists to Be Heard at Arts Club

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Arts club has cards out for an evening of music that promises an hour or two of relaxing enjoyment on Sunday, March 27. A Russian couple, Vitya Vronsky and Victor Babin, who are making a tour of America, will appear in a recital for two pianos, following a dinner to be served at 7:30 o'clock. The Babins, who were born in the small Russian village of Kiva, are said to be two of the finest exponents of the duo piano in the world today. The program that they have chosen is an interesting one for a number of reasons.

Some of the music will be modern and two selections will have their Chicago première. They will give the first Chicago performance of one of Stravinsky's pieces for two pianos, and they also will play, for the first time in this city, Mr. Babin's group of études. Of particular interest to those who heard Serge Prokofieff when he played under the auspices of the Renaissance society in Mandel hall on Feb. 16 will be the Babins' interpretation of Prokofieff's arrangement of Schubert waltzes.

Monday at 2:30 o'clock the Arts club will be the scene of another interesting recital, to be given by José Echaniz, young Cuban pianist, under the auspices of the Musicians Club of Women. Born in Guanabocoa, a small town near Havana, Cuba, of Spanish, French, and Italian ancestry, Mr. Echaniz gave his first recital at the age of fourteen in Havana. At 22 he made his debut at Town hall in New York, and last year he was chosen as soloist for six of the Philadelphia orchestra's concerts in Philadelphia and New York. He is especially noted for his skilful interpretation of modern music.

Mrs. Comer Winter, president of the Musicians Club of Women, Mrs. William E. Vogelback, Mrs. Americus F. Callahan, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, Mrs. James C. Ames, Mrs. Royden J. Keith, Mrs. Welch Dickinson, Mrs. Henry B. Vanzwoli, and Mrs. Levy Mayer are among those interested in the recital.

Mrs. W. A. Robinson Will Return Today.

Mrs. William A. Robinson is arriving today to visit her mother, Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson landed a week ago in New York from a six months' cruise in the Mediterranean and Red sea aboard their schooner. Since Cornelius Crane just returned recently from a long trip, too, and now is in Chicago, this will be a real reunion for Mrs. Crane and her only daughter and only son.

The Robinsons rushed from New York to Ipswich, Mass., where he has started a shipyard, for he was anxious to see what progress has been made on it. Mrs. Crane's summer place, Castle Hill, at Ipswich, is one of the handsomest estates on the north shore of Massachusetts.

Frederick H. Scotts Return from Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Scott have arrived at home from a vacation in Chandler, Ariz. Mrs. Scott expects to go to Philadelphia in May for the meeting of the Garden Club of America.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dittler of New York are arriving next week for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Wacker. The Wackers' daughter, Mrs. Thomas C. Sheffield, is the wife of Mrs. Dittler's son. The Sheffields are building a house in Lake Forest in which they hope to be living by early summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thornton Lee of Minneapolis are spending a few days in Lake Forest with Mrs. Lee's mother, Mrs. William H. Hubbard. Mr. and Mrs. Lee are on their way by motor to their summer home in Vermont.

Miss Evelyn Shuman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Shuman of Winnetka has arrived at home from a trip to California that she took with her grandmother, Mrs. George Shuman. Miss Marjorie Shuman will come from Pine Manor for her spring vacation on March 26.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

The Observation Post.

Hollywood, Cal., March 17.—Perhaps Janet Gaynor has the answer to the problem of all the kids in the world who can't find work. "When I first came to Hollywood," she told me, "I went to the Hal Roach studio to get work as an extra. The clerk said: 'Any experience?' I said 'No.' She said: 'We can't hire you unless you have experience.' I said: 'How in the name of Pete can I get experience if you don't hire me so that I can get experience?' The clerk thought this over and nodded: 'You're right.' So she hired me."

Yet every place you seek work, they always ask first if you've had experience. Particularly in times of depression, when the market is flooded with skilled workers.

Miss Gaynor being a comparative shorty, I lifted the academy award down from an upper shelf to look at it. This was the first one ever awarded by the academy and as such really has museum value. It is unlike any other for another reason, too. On the base of it is this inscription: "For outstanding performance in 'Sunrise,' 'Seventh Heaven,' and 'Street Angel.'" All others indicate a stellar one picture performance.

While the academy award put her in the money, she was not in the money when she won it. She was, to be specific, getting exactly $100 a week when she became the most discussed actress in the business.

Random thought: Too bad that Marion Harris was at the peak of her career as a singer before talking pictures. Of all popular singers, she was in a class by herself. The rest were pale carbon copies.

Saw Minor and Root in a Warner Vitaphone short the other night—a grand dancing team. Hope Minor, the girl, one of the smartest dressers in the profession, has another distinction: She is probably the only Indian squaw who is a theatrical headliner.

Teacher in the schoolhouse at Warner's is complaining about the "Dead End" kids. . . . The brats are making passes at her.

Of all the youngsters on the local scene, the best bet for ultimate stardom is Olivia De Havilland. She has come along so rapidly that it fairly takes your breath away. I've never seen her give a bad performance. She has a very sure and very definite instinct for the theater, and one of these days the right rôle will bob up and she'll be the toast of Hollywood.

As a New Yorker I am cut to the quick at the aspersions cast upon Sigrid Gurie because of the revelation that she is a Brooklynite rather than an artist of the Royal Norwegian theater. I pray you, what is wrong with Brooklyn? Has it not produced the Brooklyn Dodgers, Mae West, Clara Bow? Are the fjords of Norway more beautiful than the Gowanus canal, famed in song and story? Has any other city produced a fighter to match Terrible Terry McGovern pound for pound?

Samuel Goldwyn, who has visited Brooklyn, answers all municipal detractors by stating that Sigrid Gurie of Brooklyn will be continued on her seven year contract. All publicity will be premised on the fact that she comes from the city of churches, a direct tie-up with the legion of decency.

In a game of make-believe you can't blame youngsters for making believe that they are something a bit more glamorous than their birth certificate certifies. It is not generally known that John McCormack, great Irish singer, used an Italian name when he first came to America. The Italian singers were the fad, so John whipped himself up an imposing Latin tag. Talent, however, is the final payoff. Where you come from doesn't mean a thing—it's where you're going that counts.

March 15 has come and gone. The end of the fiscal year marks continued defeat for those Hollywood stars who argue, not without justification, that because of the peculiarly short span of their earning lives the government should accord them special allowances in fixing their income taxes. The stars have legal logic on their side in this contention.

For instance, the government allows the owners of oil wells to deduct 27½ per cent of gross yearly income for DEPLETION of natural resources. The government also allows the owners of buildings to charge off wear and tear in the form of depreciation, and even steps up this allowance because it is recognized that buildings rely in large measure upon the WHIMS of the public. That is, certain districts experience a cycle of popularity, so buildings can become worthless if the fashion changes.

It seems to a more than casual observer of the local scene that movie stars are subject to depletion, depreciation, whims, and fashions. In addition, the movie star, unlike other workers, must live up to his or her salary.

What would be luxuries to most workers are necessities to them. The movie star must keep up a "front." However, to date the people at Washington, D. C., have turned a deaf ear to the wails from the coast, and the stars of yesterday are the extras of tomorrow.

Yet as you regard the European mess, you say to yourself with conviction that if taxes were doubled and tripled it would be a cheap price to pay to live in the United States. We really ought to pay a water tax—for the Atlantic, on the east, and the Pacific that keeps us pacific on the west.

Pope Pius Attends Canonization of 3 in Rites at Vatican

VATICAN CITY, March 17.—(AP)—Three saints were created by the secret consistory today in the presence of Pope Pius XI.

They are the Rev. Father Andre Bobola, a Polish Jesuit who was martyred in Russia in the seventeenth century; Salvador Da Horta, an eighteenth century Spanish lay Franciscan and professor, and Giovanni Leonardi, Italian priest who founded the clerics of the Mother of God.

Twenty-five cardinals attended the canonization. Plans have been announced for a semi-public consistory on March 31 and a solemn ceremony in St. Peter's on April 18.

THE STAGE

"Three Waltzes," an operetta which has been popular in New York this season, will come to Chicago on Saturday, April 16 [the night before Easter] for an engagement in a theater to be announced later. Kitty Carlisle and Michael Bartlett will lead the company, and among others in the cast will be Glenn Anders, Ann Andrews, Rosie Moran, Ralph Magelssen, Marguerita Sylva, Harry Mestayer, Charles Arnt, and George Baxter.

The score of this piece is a blend of music by the two famous Strausses of the Viennese tradition—Johann I. and Johann II.—and numbers of Oscar Straus [no relation], composer of "The Chocolate Soldier." The libretto tells a story of three generations of lovers whose hearts beat in waltz time. The production, managed by the Messrs. Shubert, was directed by Hassard Short.

Symphony Hits a Music Peak with Milstein

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Ludwig von Beethoven, Nathan Milstein, Frederick Stock, the Chicago Symphony orchestra, and a large Orchestra hall audience—all of these persons and groups coöperated last evening in one of the most tremendous musical experiences of the season.

The violin concerto of the first was performed by the second, third, and fourth. The audience fitted hardly less importantly into the total scheme, for its members, realizing early in the concerto that they were in the presence of something superlatively great, freely consented to be electrified in its contemplation. From then on they gave as well as received—gave attention and enthusiasm and understanding—and succeeded in their turn in electrifying the stage forces.

What the performers presented and what the audience gasped at was nothing less than pure musical beauty. Milstein and Stock and the orchestra were fortunate enough to be able to tear aside the veil of technical qualities which are often thought to constitute a performance and to reveal blindingly the musical reality underneath. So successful were they that it is impossible this morning to dwell dully on matters of tone, phrasing, technique or tempo. These were merely the instruments by which the revelation was effected.

What Beethoven imprisoned in the net of lines and spaces and tempo marks which he decided to call a violin concerto was released last night by devoted interpreters and revealed in all its urgency and importance to the audience. What it means each hearer must decide for himself. If it could be put into a pat little newspaper paragraph Beethoven himself would doubtless have done so and saved himself the considerable trouble of writing the piece.

All we can say definitly is that the concerto is full of truth—not the reasoned truth at which you arrive by putting two and two together and getting four but a more important truth whose instrument of apprehension is not the brain but a higher faculty.

But to avoid going any further into such deep and murky waters, here is a lighter bit about the concerto which you may or may not have heard. Beethoven is said to have received the idea for the steady, four-four figure with which the piece begins from the knocking of a drunken neighbor who had forgotten his key. Surely this man was the luckiest of all tipplers, for he found immortality in his cups and knocks forever now in the kettledrums of the Violin Concerto!

STAFFORD DEBUT

BY CECIL SMITH.

Walter Stafford, Chicago bass-baritone, made his recital debut at the Studebaker theater last evening. Since his return from foreign study a year or more ago he has been heard in popular priced opera performances of the Chicago City and Chicago International Opera companies.

Mr. Stafford possesses a warmly resonant voice of long range and sympathetic quality. In the aria from Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra" he showed that he has received competent Italian schooling. On the whole, however, his tone is monotonous and his phrasing wooden. Most of his songs seemed static and emotionally uninteresting. The singer himself may have been conscious of this, for occasionally he indulged in downright tearfulness in order to give an expressive cast to his singing.

The Soft Suits First Choice for Day Long Wear

BY RHEA SEEGER.

It really isn't spring unless you buy a suit. The complete showings around the town are ready for the first rush of shoppers out with money to spend.

You can find simply tailored suits, sharp, clear, and trim in streamline, the suit consisting of skimpy pencil straight skirt and fitted short jacket, or you may prefer the suits of pleated skirts and short, snappy jackets. But the biggest and best collections feature what is appropriately named soft suits.

This means fine soft, flattering fabrics, dressmaker details of trim and contrast, and usually the dress and coat combine idea. These take all records for flattering, easy to wear smart outfits. The kind of suits that take you gracefully through a busy day, ending up with dinner in town. Dresses are slim, with short sleeves, high, soft necklines, and skirts that either boast a section of pleating or are pleated all the way round. Navy blue and black are first favorites. Clever two piece outfits of skirt and fitted flattering coat come in black or blue skirt and light colored jacket of dove gray, aqua, or beige.

Three piece ensembles include a long coat that is cut swinging and free, and lined with dark silk so that it can be worn with printed or plain dresses.

Other long coats are teamed with light colored dresses, the dress in aqua blue or gray or beige. What makes them so fresh and springlike and so easy to wear are the ingenious details, the careful workmanship, the fine fabrics, and the soft feminine streamlines; the sort of clothes that are distinctive and gracious and young. Either dress them up or dress them down with light or dark accessories. These can be the foundation costume of any well planned wardrobe.

SYNOPSIS.

Karen Gilbert meets Gordon Stone returning after eight years in prison. Gordon was framed by Karen's ruthless uncle and guardian, Lyn Gilbert, owner of Bar B B ranch, and his foreman, Curt Ford. In town Gordon has an encounter with Curt Ford and knocks him out. Then Gordon goes to join Jack Turnbull, who is in hiding after trouble with Gilbert. Karen gets her friend, Hal Ferguson, to drive her in the night to the hideout to warn Gordon. On the way they meet a posse headed by Cheyenne, a Bar B B rider, sent to capture the two men. Karen arrives first to warn Gordon. He sends Karen and Hal up the canyon on horseback while he and Jack stand off the posse. In the fight they capture Cheyenne.

INSTALMENT XI.

A TRADE FOR FREEDOM.

Stone helped himself to his foe's weapon and made sure he carried no other. He dragged Cheyenne back of the rock.

They had no rope with which to tie their captive. It occurred to Turnbull that they were like the hunter in the story, who had caught a bear and called for help to turn it loose.

"What you aim to do with this bird?" he asked.

"Trade him to his friends for a free pass out of the canyon."

Cheyenne showed signs of returning consciousness. His heavy body stirred and his lids fluttered. Presently he opened his eyes.

"You pistol whipped me," he charged.

"You're in the jam, fellow. I got seven friends maverickin' around within call. If I give a yell——"

"You'll be buying a through ticket to hell. I'll bump you off the way I would any other wolf."

Cheyenne was a tough and fearless scoundrel, a bull-necked, strong-jawed ruffian, who did not fear any man alive. His hard eyes clashed with those of the man whose gun covered him. He read in them a cold, relentless quality that quelled insurgent impulses. The ex-convict was steel-strong. He would do exactly what he had threatened to do.

"Then there would be three of us traveling there together," Cheyenne said coolly.

"With you leading the way."

"You win," Cheyenne said. "I keep my trap shut and wait till the boys drift in and blow you off the map."

"There's only one trouble about that—from your viewpoint," Stone told him, drawling his words so that they seemed to drip out, icily cold. "You wouldn't be here to enjoy the explosion. We put you out of business the instant your friends find us."

Cheyenne chewed tobacco with a manner of hardy indifference.

"There's an out for you if you want to take it. We're willing to swap your life for ours. Better make up your mind in a hurry."

The Bar B B puncher grinned wryly. "I've heard that the guy who fights and runs away will live to fight another day. What's the layout, Mr. Stone?"

"Quite simple. You and yore friend go down the canyon, Jack and I go up it."

"Everybody happy," added Turnbull.

The wall-eyed gaze of Cheyenne rested on Jack. "Except Yorky, who is lying down below with one of yore bullets in his belly."

"Not one of Jack's," corrected Stone. "He just got here. . . . Now listen, fellow. You're to step out in front of this bowlder and yell to the rest of the pack. The easiest way I know for you to commit suicide would be for you to try to run or to double-cross us in what you tell them. Get that fixed in yore mind."

"I've got it. And I'll say this. When I make a bargain I don't run back on it."

"Fine. Don't yield to the temptation to make an exception of this time. You'll explain to the other wolves that you've been trapped, and that the only way out for you is in trade. Your life for ours. They are to hotfoot it down the canyon and wait there till you arrive."

"A swell out for you," Cheyenne said, and eyed his captor with hardy defiance. "But where do I get off? After the boys beat it down the canyon you can pour lead into me and make a getaway."

"I'm setting the terms," Stone said, his voice low and icy.

"Don't be a fool, Cheyenne," Jack broke in. "What good would it do us to gun you after we had promised to let you go? We'd be hunted down like coyotes. You know that. Besides, we've got nothing against you individually. You're just a poor sap pulling chestnuts outa the fire for Lyn Gilbert and Curt Ford. Ask them for me why they don't do their own dirty work."

"Hell, I'll play with you," Cheyenne snarled.

He rose unsteadily to his feet and walked out in front of the bowlder. The other two kept their weapons trained on him.

The squat puncher raised his heavy voice in a yell that could have been heard even at the mouth of the canyon.

"Listen, fellows. Cheyenne talkin'. These so-and-sos have took me prisoner. They aim to bump me off if we don't let them go. We couldn't dig them out anyhow, without losing two-three men. For tonight this man hunt has bogged down. Can you hear me, Bill?"

"I can hear you," a voice answered.

"And you, Webb?"

"Yep."

"All you boys move on down to the mouth of the canyon and wait for me there. These scalawags have promised to turn me loose. If they don't, you know what to do about it later."

"We sure do," some one yelled.

"We'll be going," Stone said. "You're traveling up the canyon with us a few hundred yards. I don't intend to have yore friends surging back up here until we're in the clear."

The Bar B B puncher looked at him angrily. "All right, Sure Shot. You're calling the turn now. But don't forget about that other day I mentioned a while ago. You'll be hearin' from me. By yore own say-so, you shot Yorky."

"Who was trying to murder me."

"Who was a deputy sherif sent to arrest you," amended Cheyenne.

Turnbull had a word to say about that. "You could get away with a cock and bull story like that if we didn't have witnesses. One of them, young Ferguson, a first class young fellow, not mixed up in this row; the other Miss Karen, a niece of Lyn Gilbert."

They climbed the steep path, Cheyenne in the van. After a time, Stone told the prisoner that he could go.

An hour later Turnbull and Stone passed through the live oaks into the arroyo, back of the grove. Karen had been waiting anxiously, her heart heavy with dread. Every leaden minute had increased her distress. Hal Ferguson had tried to comfort her with cheerful talk.

At sight of the hunted men, Karen gave a cry of joy. She begged Jack to tell her they were both all right.

"We're fine as silk. It's the other fellows that are the worse for wear. One got shot and another one pistol whipped."

"You——killed one?"

"Wounded. I don't know how badly. . . . We're going to head for the Dailey ranch. Mike will run you back to town in his car."

"And where will you go?"

"We'll keep that information strictly under our hats," Stone said brusquely. "Everybody in the county seems to know where we've been staying. I reckon we won't make that mistake again."

Karen flushed. Her eyes were bright with anger, but she made no answer other than a look of proud scorn.

"He doesn't mean you, Miss Karen," explained Turnbull quickly.

"You needn't apologize for him, Jack," the girl answered quietly. "Of course, he means me. I'm Lyn Gilbert's niece, so, of course, I would betray you if I could. He's used to people who do that sort of thing. He couldn't understand some one like——Hal for instance, who would let them cut off his hand before he would tell."

Finds 1864 Ticket of G. O. P. Headed by Abraham Lincoln

Racine, Wis., March 17.—[Special.]—Rummaging in the attic of his farm home, Donald Nelson, 11 years old, found an original ticket of the Republican party for the year 1864. The ticket was headed with Abraham Lincoln for President.

It listed other widely known Racine county pioneers for state and county offices. Included among these was J. I. Case, founder of the Case Farm Implement concern, who was seeking election as state senator.

Keep Bedtime Hour Secure from Scolding

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Since we're making rather a big job in the column of getting our child started with good bedtime habits, and also curing the other kind if they've already begun, we might just as well go on from where we left off yesterday and finish in thorough fashion.

The points we've been covering have all been directed toward making the atmosphere of bedtime conducive to a willing, happy preparation for bed and sleep. Without going over the six suggestions described in the six previous days, we'll take up other things to do and not to do at bedtime.

Here they are: Don't let your child or yourself get stirred up at the end of the day. Avoid making an issue of behavior at that time when a child is presumably tired; avoid scolding; avoid punishment. Instead, overlook anything out of the ordinary. Even emotional scenes or arguments between grownups taking place at his bedtime may greatly disturb a child.

Avoid undue excitement immediately before bedtime, whether it has to do with the kind of story you read or tell, or a wild prolonged romp with daddy when he comes home. I have found, however, in connection with this latter subject, that some active, jolly play or antics with mother or father may be conducive to contented sleep, if not carried too far; this in contradiction of what many child guidance people recommend.

Another thing: It isn't wise to use the bed hour to discipline a child out of chronic undesirable habits by talk, scolding, or force. There are other times and other ways for this.

Last: If there's a new baby or any big change in the family personnel, as you might call it, make it a point to preserve rather deliberately the leisurely friendliness of the going-to-bed time.

"How to Establish Good Sleeping Habits" is a leaflet helpful to parents. It will be sent on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Gay Luncheon at Palm Beach.

What a gay party Mrs. William A. Snyder's recent luncheon at the Breakers in Palm Beach must have been! Our correspondent writes that not only did the 80 women guests enjoy it, but that the waiters and a large crowd of envious men loitering and lurking in the corridors near the Grand Loggia, the scene of the party, enjoyed it also. It was a gay nineties party, and the guests sang songs of that time, accompanied by the hostess on the accordion.

Guests were asked to tell about old Palm Beach, and a prize was given to the woman who had been coming to the resort the longest. The prize winner was Mrs. William F. Bode, a Chicagoan, who is spending her thirty-seventh winter in Palm Beach.

Carnival.

INCREASED MILK PRICE FORECAST AS AAA RESULT

Corn and Forage Values to Advance Cost.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Dairymen in the Chicago territory will need to get higher prices for their milk as a result of increases in feed costs to be brought about by the new farm law, John P. Case, general manager of the Pure Milk association, predicted yesterday. The new AAA program is not expected, however, to bring about an immediate change in milk prices.

Case explained that dairy farmers expect the federal Agricultural Adjustment administration's program under the farm law to increase the value of feed grown on the dairyman's own farm as well as the cost of almost all concentrates milk producers buy.

Represents 14,500 Producers.

The Pure Milk association represents approximately 14,500 dairy farmers in Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin. They produce in excess of 3 million pounds of milk for Chicago daily. Members of the association who have studied the law also are concerned about the danger of increased competition coming from farmers outside the regular dairy regions and from abroad, according to Case.

"When the Agricultural Adjustment act of 1938 is put into operation throughout the United States, some of our dairymen fear much damage could be done before preventive measures are put into operation by the administrative machine unless we keep a close watch on this potential outside competition," he said.

Must Cut Corn Crops.

"With our production costs raised high enough to justify an advance in prices to farmers, then we may expect importers to bring in an increasing amount of foreign dairy products unless tarif barriers are maintained at a level high enough to keep them out.

"Members of the Pure Milk association realize that if they coöperate on the AAA program to the point of receiving payment from the government for growing approved crops, they must reduce their production of corn this year. And corn is one of the main concentrates used in the dairy cow's ration.

"Corn prices are expected to be increased through government loans and the regulation of production. Our dairy farmers feel that it is wise to warn consumers in advance that all of this obviously may lead to increased costs to producers who would be justified in asking for an increase in the farm price of milk. This increase in farm prices no doubt will be reflected in higher retail prices to city consumers of milk.

Granted Alimony

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Jean Robbins in Judge Lupe's court yesterday.

"My husband comes in like a dark cloud, judge. He ignores me; acts like he is alone." So spoke Mrs. Jean Robbins yesterday when she appeared before Judge John J. Lupe, seeking temporary alimony from her husband, Theodore.

"When I was married, judge," said Mr. Robbins, "I thought I was getting only one woman. Instead I got a mother-in-law and a sister-in-law, too. Act like I'm alone, eh. Nice going if I do it."

These two speeches were rather embarrassing to Attorney Norman Becker because he had brought them on by stating he thought a reconciliation could be affected through Judge Lupe's good offices. Judge Lupe granted Mrs. Robbins, who lives at 3645 Flournoy street, $10 a week with which to support her son Paul, 9 months old.

DIES IN 17 STORY PLUNGE; GLASSES ARE UNDAMAGED

The spectacles worn by John J. Beard, 50 years old, were undamaged yesterday when Beard, a roofing contractor, fell seventeen stories to his death from the roof of a building at 415 Aldine avenue. Policeman Michael Fay of the Town Hall station found the glasses were in place when he examined the body. Joseph B. Aamodt, 8243 Chappel avenue, maintenance man for the building, told police Beard lost his balance when he ventured near the edge of the roof while making an inspection. Beard lived at 628 Patterson avenue.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

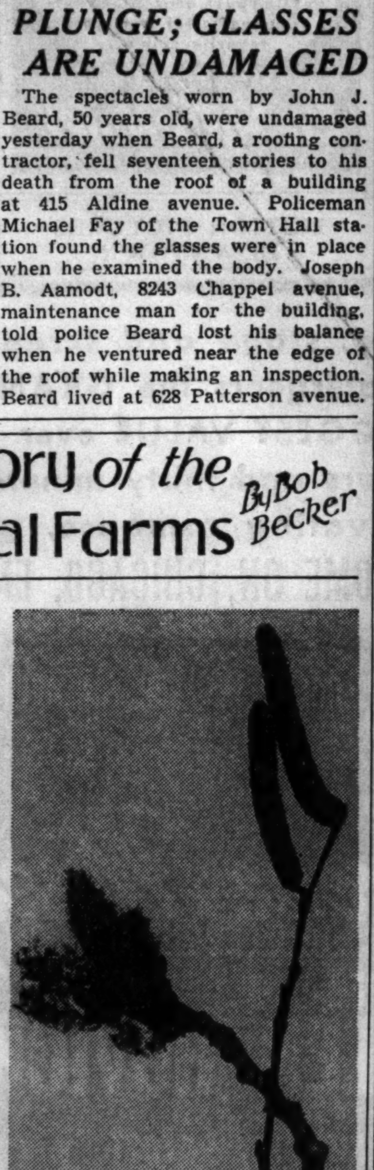
Spring Advances.

March 17, 1938.

SPRING made further advances on the farm this week with both trees and early migrating birds contributing to the march of the season through woods and fields. After hiking over the farm during the winter months, when bird life was scarce, it's a pleasure these days to see the bright color of the bluebirds and to hear the singing of a meadow lark and the cheery notes of the first robins.

It will be only a few days until the bubbling spring concerts of the song sparrow will add to the spring atmosphere on the farm, as this delightful songster also comes north during the month of March.

When we walked over the Tribune farm yesterday we logged the signs of spring, especially in the woods where the trees and shrubs are slowly reacting to the advance of the season. We found the aspens again ahead in the race among the trees, as their buds have opened up much more than we anticipated.



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Maples Budding.

But the trembling aspens now have some real competition, because the soft maples are developing their flowers. We especially noticed one maple which is providing a bright splash of red and gold on a large tree near the barnyard. The color comes from the staminate buds, with the bright red coming from the bud shell and the gold being provided by the emerging stamens.

One of the most noteworthy signs of the new season was found in the buds of the hazelnut shrubs. On this shrub we noticed that a number of the buds were exhibiting tiny bright red stamens at their tip, indicating that with a few warm days they would be ready to open. The hazel catkins, which contain the pollen, are not much further along than they were last week, because the few days of warm weather during the week were not quite sufficient to open them fully. It won't be long, however, until warm days will open these soft drooping catkins and release the pollen.

A pair of white swans, spurred by the activity of the black swans, have started their own nest building operations. The black swans got a head start on their white cousins, but during the last few days the white swans also got busy. Both mounds are odd in that they are inside the swan house, so now we have the unusual sight of two huge nests [each about five feet in diameter] separated by chicken wire stretched across the small swan house.

Now that the swans have their nests indoors the flockmaster is wondering if the birds will stay with these nests or abandon them later and start all over again outdoors. He believes they will stay with their indoors nests and that the pens of females will lay their eggs there. If they do it will be the first time that the birds have done this, as in former years they have always constructed their big nests outdoors not far from the water.

GAMES TODAY.

3 p. m.—Johnston City vs. Von Steuben [Chicago].
4 p. m.—Galesburg vs. Braidwood.
8 p. m.—Carbondale vs. Paris.
9 p. m.—Harrisburg vs. Dundee.

Champaign, Ill., March 17.—[Special.]—Basketball teams from eight high schools survived the opening day's play in the state tournament today and moved into the quarter-final games to be played tomorrow.

Von Steuben of Chicago was one of the successful quintets, winning over Granite City, 32 to 31. Von Steuben will meet Johnston City at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the first of the second round contests.

Besides Von Steuben and Johnston City, Galesburg, Carbondale, Braidwood, Paris, Harrisburg, and Dundee eliminated their first round opponents. Galesburg beat Rock Island, 23 to 21; Johnston City whipped Champaign, 32 to 26; Carbondale won over Rockford, 36 to 30; Braidwood conquered Glenbard, 27 to 19; Paris routed Decatur, 33 to 20; Harrisburg whipped Milton, 36 to 25, and Dundee, in the last game of the first day's play, beat Pekin, 36 to 29.

Attendance Record Set.

First day attendance records were broken, the three sessions attracting 21,573. Attendance at last year's first three sessions—the previous record—was 20,080.

Von Steuben's victory came in the last minute of play when Irving Shandling sank a free throw. It was an uphill struggle all the way for the Chicago representatives. They were held scoreless in the first quarter while the Granite City offense functioned efficiently enough to score fifteen points.

In the second quarter, Von Steuben made eleven points to its opponent's six. This margin had been whittled to 24 to 20 at the end of the third period, and with Forward Wegsler leading the drive, Von Steuben tied the score at 31 to 31 in the final minute of play. Then Shandling sank his free throw. Wegsler scored eighteen points for Von Steuben.

Dundee achieved its victory over Pekin in the last two minutes of play. Dundee led 10 to 2 at the quarter and 14 to 10 at the half, but trailed 19 to 17 at the end of the third quarter. Christian Hanson made fourteen of Dundee's points, four of his baskets coming in the closing offensive that won the game.

Harrisburg Coasts In.

Harrisburg encountered difficulty with Milton in the first half, but coasted to victory in the third and fourth periods.

Capt. Gene Davidson of Harrisburg scored six baskets and a free throw for 13 points. His teammate, Charles Wilson, made 12. George Lemons and Bill Hoover made all of Milton's points. Lemons scored six goals and two free throws and Hoover five goals.

The Milton team, representing the smallest community in the tournament, played without its star forward, Donald Parks, who has the measles.

Carbondale, with its victory over Rockford, provided the first upset of the tournament. Carbondale led, 19 to 15, at the half. Verdie Cox, forward for the southern Illinois five,

Total Stranger?

In a depot I picked up a paper
Some person had left behind,
And idly turning its pages
This thought came to my mind:
The man who bought this paper
Is a total stranger to me,
Yet I know quite a bit about him
From just little things that I see.

He likes to work cross-word puzzles—
See how he's done this one here?
And a pretty bright fellow, I take it,
This puzzle is pretty severe;
He's a neat chap and very methodic,
Note how his letters are made,
Each of them even and perfect,
With a stroke bold and free, unafraid.

He's out of a job, I imagine,
Notice this "Help Wanted" ad?
He's made a firm ring all around it,
Perhaps for his memo pad;
And he likes to fool with a pencil
Like I do, the idle old chump,
See how he's rigged up a mustache
On the visage of poor Min Gump?

Yes, we tell quite a bit about ourselves
When a book or a paper we score,
And I hope he wins out with some sort of a prize
On that Limerick clipped from page four. —Jazbo of Old Dubuque.

But If You Weep.

I love your smile that seems so like a rose
When the pink bud bursts into fragrant flower
And the warm sunshine seeks a sweet repose
Beneath its petals. In that fragrant bower
My heart should soon forget its sorrowing
And rise upon the happy wings of mirth,
And I should count myself the more a king
Than any mighty monarch of the earth.

I love your smile. But if you sometimes weep
In the dark night when you are all alone,
When the wide world is wrapped in silent sleep
And there is no one near to hear your moan—
O, I could love your tears what though they fall
Bitter as wormwood and as salt as gall. —T. E. B.

Leader—Debaets.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

There is a popular belief that a six day bike race, to be worthy of the name, must be a week of complete insanity with strong men riding madly toward nowhere and comely hero worshipers swooning in ecstasy or from the aroma of hot dogs, or both, at the trackside. To this notion, it must be sadly admitted, there is considerable authenticity.

Out in the Chicago Stadium, where some of the first citizens of pedaling have demonstrated a great attachment for their art by riding furiously for four days and five nights, sometimes in seeming seclusion, there was little last night that could be classified as rational.

Ride for Candy Bars.

Riders, celebrated as models of athletic decorum, rode sprints for bars of candy. A figure skating club held its monthly business meeting in the mezzanine. And a basket of flowers dispatched from a St. Patrick's day party to Cocky O'Brien and Russell Allen was presented to Cecil Behringer, a Swede, and Ray Bedard, a Canadian.

Between times there was an abundance of exciting jamming and a serious spill, the fortieth since the race began on Sunday night. Teams bob in and out of the lead, but at the end of the evening's riding the familiar red of the French-Belgian combination of Alfred Letourner and Omer Debruycker, and the veterans, Gerard Debaets and Tino Reboli, still were out in front. Debaets and Reboli were the technical leaders on the basis of sprint points.

Four hundred and fifty-six sprint points, tops for the field, entitled the Pedens, Torchy and Doug, to third place, although they were in a mileage tie with Jerry Rodman and Bobby Thomas and O'Brien and Allen, a lap out of the lead.

Allen, Torchy Peden in Spill.

O'Brien and Allen might have added more of a St. Patrick's aspect to the evening's activities if they had not figured in the spill. Allen fell on the west curve and took Torchy Peden with him. O'Brien, racing along behind, crashed into the pair. He suffered a bruised shoulder and a severely lacerated hand. After a 25 minute delay he returned to the race with his hand and forearm heavily bandaged.

By way of climaxing this most unusual evening Ewald Wissel and Carl Goebels, the German team, stole seven laps, narrowing the distance between their last place position and the lead to a mere ten laps, or one mile. Their seventh theft brought to 241 the number of laps stolen since Sunday.

Shipman Forced to Quit.

George Shipman, the Brooklyn youngster who had been the crowd's pet throughout the week, was forced out of the race early yesterday. Physicians discovered he had suffered a fractured collar bone in a spill with Goebels shortly before midnight Wednesday. Shipman returned to the race after a thirty minute rest and rode throughout the night, but was on the verge of collapse when his partner, Mike De Fillipo, summoned the track physician.

Chicago Golden Gloves Team Greeted by New York

BY FRENCH LANE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

The fighters from Chicago and neighboring cities are here to settle the fistic issue with the champions of the east in Madison Square Garden Monday night. They hardly expected such a rousing reception. But there it was, and the visiting glove swingers joined whole heartedly into the celebration.

New York's official welcome came at the Grand Central station at 10 o'clock this morning when committees representing the city, the amateur athletic union and the New York Daily News, which is sponsoring the match, extended their greetings.

Cheered at Boxing Drills.

Leading citizens of Cauliflower avenue gathered at Stillman's gymnasium this afternoon to do their shouting. Maybe it was just hospitality they were showing, but at any rate they cheered noisily when each of the western champions stepped into the ring to go through two rounds of boxing.

Broadway cheered the big party of 32 invading fighters when Coach John Behr permitted them to stroll along that famous street tonight at the theater hour.

The chief, who is a heavyweight, blinked at the bright lights. He gave a war whoop that startled Cholly Knickerbocker, then remarked: "I'm going to wire out to Oklahoma for a mess of money." He scurried away in the direction of a telegraph office.

Oil Money for Pockets.

There are stories around that the Indian warrior has an oil well running for him out in that country and that he drops around and inspects a good sized nest egg whenever he has some spare time on his hands or when he is in need of a little pocket money to rattle.

Despite the hilarity, the Chicago boxers began settling into the daily routine they will follow until they have it out with the New Yorkers in the Garden.

12 noon—Lunch.
6 p. m.—Dinner.
10 p. m.—To bed.

Whatever celebrating there is to be done will be delayed until after the annual intercity scraps.

Only One Casualty.

Middleweight Cornelius Young, who has a broken nose is the only casualty in the Chicago squad. The boxers all came through today's drill—and it was a hard one—without a scar or a cut.

They could use a little more food, but there isn't any likelihood of helpings being increased until Coach Behr is certain there will be no one overweight when it is time to step on the scales Monday afternoon.

Crane Ties for Fourth in Pocket Billiard Meet

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Irving Crane, 23 year old player from Livonia, N. Y., who was runnerup in the last tournament, wound up his play in the current world pocket billiard meet in a three way tie for fourth place tonight by defeating Joe Diehl of Rockford, Ill., 125 to 56. It was Crane's sixth victory in eleven matches and tied him with Marcel Camp of Albany, N. Y., and Benny Allen of Kansas City.

SEA TOSSED CUBS LAND TO BATTLE THOSE WHITE SOX

All They Can See Ahead Is Trouble.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 17.—The Cubs, whose ardent admirers shortly will begin making pennant predictions, came into town tonight from their island camp slightly perturbed by the fact that it will be necessary for them to go to work tomorrow in the first of their sixteen battles with the annoying White Sox. They would have preferred an off day, thus assuring them time to recover from the bouncing experienced during the steamer ride over from their island camp this afternoon. Most of them were in a horizontal position when the ship docked.

The last camp drill of the year was a gentle affair, Manager Charley Grimm conceding that the boys might need their strength for the afternoon journey. He excused them after a little more than an hour's labor, which took in warmups for the pitchers and a rehersal of orthodox defensive routine conducted by Stan Hack, Bill Jurges, Billy Herman, and Phil Cavarretta, the regular infield.

Grimm Scans Rookies.

Besides having to devise ways of trimming the Sox and a few other barnstorming opponents during the next month, Grimm must try to find out whether he has any worthy rookies in the 1938 crop. He hasn't been dazzled thus far by any of the freshmen, but two or three of them may become big leaguers eventually.

Because the outfield is the weak department, he will concentrate on that problem. He's still playing his hunch that Joe Marty is the man for center field, so the ex-Coast leaguer will not be disturbed very much during the exhibition jaunt of thirty-one games. In left and right, however, there will be almost daily substitutions. Jim Asbell will finish in the former position for Augie Galan, and Frank Demaree will have an understudy in Herman Coaker Triplett.

During the ten day stop nere Grimm will continue the school which was conducted in the Catalina camp for defective athletes. The wayward squad will be assembled at Wrigley field at 10 o'clock each morning to receive instructions from the manager and the various faculty members. This will include most of the rookies, along with Outfielder Tuck Stainback and Pitchers Bud Parmelee and Clay Bryant.

Tuck Shows Improvement.

Stainback finally has shown some progress in his effort to copy the rhythmic fashion in which Tony Lazzeri and Billy Herman swing bats. But whether the improvement will bring on an expansion of his batting average is doubtful. All that Stainback has to do to win a utility job is to nose out fellows like Asbell, Triplett and Carl Reynolds. The latter has not been given much attention thus far but that doesn't mean Grimm is not interested in the former American leaguer.

DEPUTY ROUNDS UP $6,002.80 IN DAILY DOUBLE

Hot Springs, Ark., March 17.—(AP)—A deputy sherif from Little Rock picked two horses at Oak lawn Park today and cashed a $2 daily double ticket for $6,002.80, the second largest in American turf history.

A ticket for $7,205, held by Harry Topsey March 18, 1935, at Tropical Park, Fla., set the present record.

McNutt also had $10 on Firefly to win and collected $444.00 more. P. J. Holmes, general manager of Oaklawn, gave him checks for both sums.

Rookies to Get Chance.

Manager Dykes, confident his lads will take the series before it winds up in Comiskey park on April 17, said he would make replacements at predetermined junctures, regardless of the way the opener goes. Bob Uhle and Jess Dobermic will relieve Gick. Jesse Landrum will replace Jackie Hayes after five innings and at the same point Boze Berger, Rip Radcliff, Bill Martin and Norman Schlueter will supplant Luke Appling, Mike Kreevich, Marvin Owen and Mike Tresh, respectively. Manager Grimm expects to make some replacements, among them Bob Logan for Bryant.

During the series the two Chicago major league teams will battle in six cities, including the exhibition windup games which will be played in Chicago, in Comiskey park April 15, in Wrigley field April 16 and back in Comiskey park Sunday, April 17.

Usually Tease Cubs.

The White Sox usually tease the Cubs a little by letting them forge ahead in the California end of the exhibition season. This year the Cubs will have seven games here to build themselves up for the possible awful letdown. After tomorrow's opener, the Chicago teams will be otherwise engaged until next Tuesday and Wednesday when they resume in Wrigley field here. Then there will be a one day gap, a Sox-Cub game on March 29, another gap March 30 and the California farewell on March 31.

Both teams will take the field in excellent physical condition, according to the appraisals of the trainers, Ad Schacht of the Sox and A. David Lotshaw of the Cubs. Early in their stays at their respective training camps in Pasadena and Avalon, the Sox and Cubs were beset by unprecedented weather handicaps, but conditions improved greatly after the floods ceased and excellent conditioning temperatures and sunshine have prevailed.

Cox Unable to Pitch.

The only two casualties were involved in the pitchers for tomorrow's contest. Bill Cox, who was to have been the third pitcher for the Sox, had to resign today. On the other hand, Bryant, who was thought to be a scratch possibility because of a crinkly muscle, improved and retained the assignment given him several days ago.

Aside from the rookie battery element, the men in the two lineups will be familiar with each other, either through previous city clashes or other major league experiences. Owen and Walker helped the Detroit Tigers slap down the Cubs in the 1935 world series, while Rupert Thompson, who will be at first for the South Siders, played against the Cubs during his years with the Boston Bees.

Veteran Cub Array.

All the Cubs slated to start tomorrow were among those who shared in defeats administered last year when the Sox took six out of eleven games in the spring series and four out of seven in the fall series.

The Sox tomorrow will not be content with the exercise afforded by their Cub engagement. They will leave Pasadena in costume at 10 o'clock and will work out as soon as they reach Wrigley field, some 15 miles from their Pasadena base.

Parker Marries Ex-Wife of His Tennis Coach

Reno, Nev., March 17.—(AP)—Audrey Browne Beasley, who divorced Mercer Beasley, Princeton tennis coach, last Monday, was married here today to Franciszek A. Pajkowski, better known as Frankie Parker, rated No. 4 in American tennis.

Arlie Gaines, bespectacled west side bowler, yesterday scored 719, the highest three game total of the American Bowling congress tournament in the Coliseum. Gaines also took second place in the all-events with a 1,876 total.

Gaines went on his strike spree in the doubles division but his diminutive partner, Felix Kroll, proprietor of the Cinderella Recreation alleys totaled only 485. Gaines put together strikes for games of 239, 235, 245, but Kroll trailed with counts of 160, 179, 146.

His Other Totals.

Rolling in the five man class, as anchorman of the Cinderella Recreation, Gaines bagged a 584 total on games of 175, 202, 205 and followed his 719 in the doubles with a 575 singles total on counts of 205, 180, 190.

One hundred and sixty top speed teams will swing into action tonight and the tournament will take on added color with former champions and veteran performers, supplanting the booster bowlers, who have been monopolizing the drives.

Eight Chicago fives are listed on the first two squads of five man competition tonight, but the two later shifts will be taken over by Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Indiana, South Dakota, and Missouri veterans.

Vidro a Former Champion.

Jerry Vidro, Grand Rapids, who won the singles title at Peoria in 1934 with a 721 total will lead the Brogger Recreation squad on the 9 p. m. squad. Vidro is the first of the former A. B. C. champions to appear in the competition.

Road Raceway Fails; Backers Lose Million

New York, March 17.—[Special.]—There will be no international motor car road race for the George Vanderbilt cup and a $67,500 cash purse this year. The Motor Development corporation, promoters of the event, near Westbury, N. Y., has dissolved, it became known today. Its backers have taken a loss of more than a million dollars.

The cup rests in the vaults of Roosevelt Field, Inc., which also has all rights and privileges of placing it in competition. The blue and white stadia, clubhouse, row of concrete garages, administration building, and the ingeniously designed, inclosed road racing course has also been turned back to this corporation, which owns and operates the adjoining Roosevelt airport.

It was a brave attempt to bring back to this country motor road racing, a traditional sport in America two decades ago when the original Vanderbilt cup was in competition. It lasted through two races—that of Oct. 12, 1936, when the Italian, Tazio Nuvolari, won, and that of last July 5, when Bernd Rosemeyer, who was killed a month ago in a German speed trial, sped to victory. It was probably the biggest sports promotion flop of recent years.

Despite the fine field of international drivers and cars, road racing proved too tame for metropolitan spectators. American racing fans want speed—as witness the success of the historic Indianapolis speedway. Although the German cars roared down the straightaway at better than 160 miles an hour, the sharp turns and winding course cut the average down to 85 miles an hour.

Waltons Offer Stamps to Aid Conservation

BY BOB BECKER.

Wild life stamps, being sold in connection with Wild Life Restoration Week in America, are being distributed in Chicago by the Izaak Walton league from its offices on the eleventh floor of the Merchandise mart, according to an announcement made yesterday by officers of the league. The stamps also may be bought in two loop stores—on the 5th floor of Marshall Field & Co.'s men's building, and at Von Lengerke and Antoine, 33 South Wabash avenue.

National wild life week, extending from March 20 to 26, is sponsored by the National Wild Life federation, an alliance of conservation and sportsmen's organizations in every state.

The purpose of Wild Life Restoration week in America is to rally, under the General Wild Life federation, thousands of organizations and agencies interested in conserving America's wild life resources. The federation is a direct outgrowth of the first North American wild life conference held in Washington in February, 1936. J. N. Darling, famous cartoonist and former chief of the federal bureau of biological survey, was chosen president.

At the second wild life conference, held in St. Louis in March, 1937, the federation was organized on a permanent basis. It has brought together sportsmen's groups, Izaak Walton chapters, women's garden clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H clubs, junior chambers of commerce, and many other similar organizations.

8 Teams Gain Second Round of State Meet

Paris took the lead at the start over Decatur and never trailed. The score at the half was 8 to 5.

Johnston City overcame a third quarter rally by Champaign to win in the opening game of the tournament this morning.

Champaign Ties Score.

Champaign trailed, 15 to 9, at the half, but rallied to tie the score at the end of the third quarter, 21 to 21. H. Grierson's free throw put the Maroons ahead, but this one point advantage was nullified by Green's two free throws as the fourth quarter opened.

Playing a cautious game, Johnston City went on to win. Green's two baskets and a free throw provided the winning margin.

Braidwood was not pushed in its game with Glenbard, leading 18 to 12 at the half and 21 to 17 at the third quarter.

U. heavyweight champion, Chicago and international Golden Gloves champion, and former Illinois state professional heavyweight champion, will be honorary referee. He was the Notre Dame champion in 1935.

Purdue All-Star Five Beats Northwestern, 63-49

JACOBS INSISTS CHICAGO ACT IF IT WANTS FIGHT

Civic Leaders Pledge Aid; Detroit Bids, Too.

Mike Jacobs, New York boxing promoter, yesterday told Oscar G. Mayer, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and Leonard Hicks, head of the Chicago Hotel Men's association, he expects more concrete evidence of support from civic leaders in the proposal to bring the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling title battle to the city.

Jacobs was told everything possible will be done to have the fight held in Soldiers' field. He then returned to New York. He will return on Tuesday, and will stay until after the bout in which Louis will defend his championship against Harry Thomas in the Stadium on April 1.

Mike Likes Chicago.

"I prefer Chicago as a site for the Louis-Schmeling bout," Jacobs said, "but New York and Detroit are showing more enthusiasm. Soldiers' field is the ideal site. The rental fee must be reasonable, however. We cannot afford to pay more than 5 per cent of the gate. For one thing the cost of setting up the arena alone will be 10 per cent."

After Jacobs was assured Mayor Kelly and Robert Dunham, president of the Chicago park board, would be informed of his attitude, he was said to have suggested that Chicago business houses be asked to subscribe for $250,000 worth of admission tickets.

He'll Announce Choice Soon.

Jacobs said he would announce the location and date of the Louis-Schmeling contest about the middle of next month.

Handlers of Louis and Thomas outlined the balance of their training programs after each fighter worked out in Trafton's gymnasium yesterday.

Louis, who boxed for the third straight day without flooring either of his two partners, will be absent from the gymnasium today, his day's chores consisting of six miles of road work in Washington park on the south side. He'll resume tomorrow afternoon against two new sparmates, Bill Allen, Detroit heavyweight, and Tom Jones, the old south side shock absorber.

Works Again Sunday.

Joe also will work out Sunday, but he'll be given another layoff Monday. He will train Tuesday and rest Wednesday and will have his last respite next Friday. From then on he'll spar daily.

Thomas, who again worked five rounds with three mates, will continue drills today.

Lou Angelucci, amateur welterweight star, and Jack Carter of the south side will meet in a five round headliner in the Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street, tonight. . . . An additional amateur card will be presented in Northwest arena, 3968 Milwaukee avenue. Eddie Lander, Franklin park bantamweight, and Ed McDowell of the Savoy Athletic club will be in the main event.

SPRING FOOTBALL TO BEGIN TODAY AT NOTRE DAME

Coach Elmer Layden faces the problem of replacing nine 1937 regulars. Five members of the second team and seven members of the third team will be graduated in June, leaving only twelve men from the first three teams to face a stiff 1938 schedule.

Jumper Seeks Fourth Armour Meet Crown

The part smaller schools play in the Armour Tech relays will be exemplified in the tenth annual version of the games tomorrow afternoon and night by Charles Bechel, outstanding high jumper from De Kalb Teachers in De Kalb, Ill. When Charles makes his first dash for the crossbar in the University of Chicago fieldhouse he will be bidding for his fourth consecutive meet championship in the event.

Bechel, competing tomorrow for the last time, made his first appearance in 1935 as an undergraduate from Chicago Normal college. Pitted against a brilliant field, he surprised the assembled fans by winning with a leap of 6 feet 4 inches. He repeated his success in 1936 and 1937, triumphing at the same height, which is an inch below the meet record established by Nelson of Butler in 1932.

Wellwood is Back, Too.

This year Bechel again will have to contend with Ross Wellwood of Wayne, who was second in the 1937 meet.

Three of last week's Midwest meet stars in the high jump also will compete for runner up honors against two outstanding Big Ten athletes and one from Kansas State of Manhattan. Bob Diefenthaler of Illinois and Riley Best of Wisconsin, who tied for conference third place honors this year, will find plenty of competition from Charles Ralston of Coe and Bill Looney and Bob Sierks of Loyola.

Badgers Have a Vaulter.

Wisconsin is expected to reëstablish its supremacy in the pole vault with Milton Padway in form. Last year Wisconsin's hold on this event, enjoyed since 1934, was broken as Lloyd Siebert of North Central outvaulted Wisconsin's Bob Haller to win, and at the same time establish a new record of 13 feet 8⅝ inches.

Northwestern, Chicago, and Michigan State also seem to be in the running for vault honors. Lodo Habrle of Michigan State, who tied for second place in the Notre Dame meet and Frank Nelson of Northwestern will battle it out for second and third place honors.

Landis Ruling May Release Cards' Rookies

Belleair, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis has conducted a thorough investigation of the St. Louis Cardinals' farm system and may release between 25 and 100 class D players into free agency, it was learned today.

Although the commissioner refused to discuss the investigation other than to say, "You know as much about it as I do," Judge W. G. Bramham, head of the Association of Minor Leagues, admitted the investigation had been made and that an announcement was expected within a few days. Judge Bramham, however, said he had no idea how the commissioner would rule.

The case before Commissioner Landis is a charge the Cardinals entered into a working agreement with the Cedar Rapids, Ia., club of the Three Eye league without advising the commissioner. It is charged the Cardinals shipped between 25 and 100 players from its rookie camp at Springfield, Mo., in 1935, 1936, and 1937 to Cedar Rapids, which in turn farmed the players to some of its own affiliates, such as Mitchell, S. D.; Crookston, Minn., and Newport, Ark.

As far as Judge Bramham knows, all the players involved are class D or E players picked up by the Cardinals in their "come one, come all" Springfield camp. Their names have been kept secret.

Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals, said, "We feel that we are perfectly in the clear and that we have done nothing to violate any baseball rules."

Start 1944 Olympic Bids; Rome Silent!

CAIRO, Egypt, March 17.—(AP)—The International Olympic committee today announced that five European cities had bid for the summer events of the 1944 games, but to the surprise of many observers Rome was not among them.

It had been expected that Rome would ask to hold the 1944 games, since Italy had given way to Japan as the site for the 1940 competition.

The committee announced that bids were received from London, England; Helsingfors, Finland; Athens, Greece; Budapest, Hungary; and Lausanne, Switzerland, as sites for the summer games in 1944, and that St. Moritz, Switzerland, and Oslo, Norway, had asked to hold the winter events.

No decision will be made until the committee's meeting in June, 1939, in London.

The committee also voted to add gliding to the list of olympic sports. It was admitted on a noncompulsory basis, to be held as a demonstration, rather than a competition. The proposal to include gliding, or sail planing, was made originally by Germany at the committee's meeting in Warsaw last June.

Delegates to the committee meeting could not be reached tonight for comment on the fact that Rome was not among the bidders announced for the 1944 games.

RAIL OPERATING REVENUES 23.3% BELOW YEAR AGO

February Results Shown for Class 1 Roads.

Ninety-one class I railroads in February had total combined operating revenues of $205,973,953, a decrease of 23.3 per cent from February, 1937, based on preliminary reports, the Association of American Railroads announced yesterday. The 91 roads represent about 83 per cent of total operating revenues for railroads throughout the country.

Freight revenues, reflecting the current industrial recession, showed a much larger decline than passenger receipts. Gross revenues from freight trafic for the 91 roads amounted last month to $162,176,317, a drop of 26.1 per cent from February, 1937.

Passenger Revenues Lower.

Passenger revenues declined 4.8 per cent from $26,851,442 in February, last year, to $25,550,745 in the same month this year.

The Southern Pacific transportation system yesterday reported for February a net operating loss, before interest charges and taxes, of $769,554, compared with net operating income in February, 1937, of $1,918,994. For the first two months of this year, net operating loss amounted to $1,232,188, against net operating income of $4,814,451 in the corresponding 1937 period.

Southern Pacific had a January net loss, after all charges and taxes, of $2,606,514, compared with net income in the like 1937 month of $690,330. A number of other railroads reported net losses for January.

Illinois Central Cuts Loose.

Illinois Central reported a much smaller net loss for January than in the like 1937 month. Net loss was $37,028, excluding operations of its subsidiary, the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad. This compared with a net loss in January, 1937, of $931,529. The Yazoo and Mississippi Valley showed a net loss for January of $1,908, against loss of $8,280 in 1937.

The Pere Marquette had a February deficit of $427,144, after all fixed charges, against profit of $180,312 in February, 1937.

Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad.

Investors' Guide: I would like a copy of your report on the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad.—R. T.

Answer: The Missouri-Kansas-Texas [Katy] railroad is a 3,298 mile system extending from St. Louis and Kansas City in the north to Galveston on the Gulf of Mexico by way of such important cities as Dallas, Fort Worth, and Houston. Branch lines serve Oklahoma City, San Antonio, Wichita Falls, and reach up into extreme northwestern Oklahoma.

The region served by the Katy is rich in petroleum and agricultural products, including grain and cotton. Trafic is well diversified with products of agriculture contributing between 20 and 25 per cent, products of mines between 23 and 30 per cent, and manufactured and miscellaneous goods from 42 to 46 per cent.

Petroleum products ordinarily supply more than one-third of total freight tonnage and about half of freight revenues. The ten per cent rate increase granted on this type of trafic should help the Katy, although the road received increases in rates of only 5 per cent on its large volume of trafic in agriculture products and no increases in its bituminous coal tonnage, an important item.

The growth of pipe lines has been keenly felt by the Katy in recent years. Gross revenues fell from a high of $58,100,766 in 1926 to a low of $25,696,675 in 1933. Subsequent recovery was very slow, but rather steady until November, 1937, when another decline started. The recession has not been as sharp as for some other roads, however, and January, 1938, gross revenues had only receded to $2,297,972 from $2,365,757 in January, 1937.

Revenues for all of 1937 were $32,120,316 and net loss was $1,625,477, compared with revenues of $31,307,599 and loss of $138,209 in 1936. Last profit was reported for 1931 when net income was $675,227, or $1.01 a preferred share.

The balance sheet for Dec. 31, 1937, showed current assets of $9,253,727 and current liabilities of $5,142,229, compared with current assets of $10,013,553 and current liabilities of $4,824,345 a year earlier.

The Katy has outstanding about $93,000,000 of mortgage bonds and $13,500,000 of adjustment mortgage bonds, an income obligation on which interest is in arrears. There are also 666,729 shares of 7 per cent cumulative $100 par preferred and 808,939 shares of no par common stock outstanding. The arrearage on the preferred is $45.50 a share.

SEVEN CONCERNS OMIT DIVIDENDS; ANOTHER CUTS

Lether Firm Discontinues Preferred Payment.

The White Rock Mineral Springs company reduced its common stock dividend yesterday and seven other corporations omitted payments, one of the omissions being the preferred dividend of the American Hide and Leather company. Banks made up a large share of the companies ordering regular dividends paid.

American Hide and Leather has been paying regular quarterly dividends of 75 cents on its 6 per cent $50 par preferred since recapitalization in 1935, but directors decided cash should be conserved and the dividend omitted at this time because of the low level of inventory values.

The company said, however, that conditions have improved since the last quarter in 1937. It added that shoe production has been running behind retail sales for six months.

Outlook Uncertain—Briggs.

The Briggs Manufacturing company decided not to declare a common dividend at this time "on the basis of current operations and continuing uncertainty as to the near term business outlook." A company statement said automobile body stamping and assembly operations have been substantially curtailed since December. The company paid $1.50 last December for a 1937 dividend total of $4 a share. A year ago a payment of 50 cents was made.

The Sharon Steel corporation, Mercer & Co., and the North American Rayon corporation declared regular preferred dividends, but took no action on common dividends.

White Rock Mineral Springs will pay 25 cents a share April 1, compared with 35 cents quarterly last year.

Among the numerous banks ordering regular payments were the Personal Loan and Savings Bank of Chicago, which will distribute the usual 75 cent extra with its $1.75 quarterly dividend on March 25, and the Merchandise National bank, which will make its $2 quarterly payment on March 31.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Packers again were faced with abnormally light receipts at the Chicago stockyards yesterday, which this week have been running smaller than during any corresponding period in more than fifty years. Despite the fact that all classes show severe losses for packers, due to the unusually narrow spread between live costs and wholesale pork prices, sellers managed to force another 5 to 15 cents advance in prices of hogs.

The top for load lots reached $9.75, with a small lot at $9.80, the highest Thursday price since last Octobed. Prices for the session averaged 10 cents higher at $9.50.

Slightly increased supplies weakened the market for cattle yesterday. Steers and yearlings sold weak to 25 cents lower. Hefers sold steady to lower. Slight declines were registered in beef cows, canners, cutters, and bulls.

GROUP FOR RAIL AID PLAN NAMED BY ROOSEVELT

Asks Full Program by Next Thursday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—President Roosevelt today appointed a committee of three members of the interstate commerce commission to prepare a complete program for the rehabilitation of the 26 billion dollar railroad industry. He ordered the commissioners to have recommendations in his hands next Thursday for submission to congress.

The committee includes I. C. C. Chairman Walter M. W. Splawn and Commissioners Charles D. Mahaffie and Joseph B. Eastman, former railroad coördinator. The committee was named at the end of the second White House conference on railroad problems during the week.

Asks Full Recommendation.

At the conclusion of the conference, White House Secretary Stephen T. Early said, "'The President instructed the members of the committee to give him on Thursday, March 24, complete definite and factual recommendations on immediate action by congress in regard to the whole railroad situation, which is critical."

The members of the committee went into action shortly after they left the White House. Chairman Splawn said they will have the recommendations ready next Thursday. They may be delivered to the President at Warm Springs, Ga., as he plans to leave next Tuesday for the infantile paralysis resort he founded in that state.

Splawn said Roosevelt will probably work on the recommendations which will be submitted to him with other advisers before he presents a plan to congress. He declared that much progress had been made at the White House conferences.

Splawn Reports Progress.

"I think we made very good progress," he said. "We adjourned after the President indicated he would expect us to come back with something more specific and definite after these preliminary discussions. Included in today's discussions were most of the things discussed at the last conference. Then there was considerable discussion of consolidation and reorganization of the roads.

"There were several individual expressions on consolidations. One opinion of a very high authority with wide practical experience was that any savings made through consolidations would be about 70 per cent on labor and 30 per cent otherwise.

"The opinion was expressed that large economies would be realized through consolidations, but it would require exercise of very strong powers of the government to accomplish such results. The government would be taking over a company to get the maximum results. That was suggested by one speaker as necessary to effect those results. There were other views heading on down to permissive consolidation which might result in some small economies. These opinions were expressed back and forth.

Discuss Midwest Situation.

"There was a great deal of attention given by those who entered into discussion this morning to certain carriers and particularly the midwest situation—how to get those properties back on a paying basis is quite a problem and no one had a solution for it. There was no consensus on consolidation—just a variety of opinions expressed.

"Pooling was discussed, but not at any great length. There was no agreement as to the remedy for consolidation difficulties. Holding companies were referred to in the discussion. As to legislation, it remains to be seen whether any will be recommended this session. It is entirely possible and there might be some at this session, but I don't know.

"Some people think there is too much shuffling back and forth between the I. C. C. and the courts and that something might be done to correct that situation. There was some thought that a special tribunal, possibly a division of the I. C. C., might be given special powers over disputes and legal problems."

Asked about difficulties of pooling of cars and trafic, Splawn said:

"If the railroads are given a little more authority and encouragement they can do a great deal of pooling without crippling their corporate structure in any way."

COURT ORDERS JAIL FOR HEAD OF PLENOCRATS

C. Franklin Davis, secretary and treasurer of the Universal Service association, 6 North Michigan avenue, which operates the Universal Order of Plenocrats, was ordered to jail by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward yesterday until such time as he will produce the records of his organization.

Davis was instructed to produce the records at a hearing on a petition of the Securities and Exchange commission to make permanent a temporary injunction restraining the association from operating. He failed to bring in the records.

According to Attorney Henry Fitts for the SEC, the Plenocrats have been collecting about $1,000 a month for twenty-two months on their promise to return 30 per cent on the investment. The commission charges that the company is insolvent and has defrauded its members.

Young Offers Compromise in Big Rail Fight

Cleveland, O., March 17.—(AP)—Robert R. Young, fighting to retain control of the Van Sweringen rail system, has offered to let the Guaranty Trust company name a fifth man to the deadlocked Chesapeake corporation board, it was learned today.

Young proposed that the New York bank, which may hold voting power for 71 per cent of capital stock in the Van Sweringen system's middle holding company, name the fifth director from a list of twelve nationally known business leaders, it was said.

Guaranty Trust meanwhile announced it would maintain a "neutral" course in the Chesapeake contest, which aligns Chairman Young and Allan P. Kirby, on one side, against the two remaining directors, President Charles L. Bradley and John P. Murphy.

Some of Names Disclosed.

The names Young submitted included Harvey D. Gibson, president of the Manufacturers Trust company of New York; E. R. Stettinius, vice chairman of United States Steel corporation; Juan Trippe, president of Pan-American Airways; Harris Creech, president, and Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice president, of the Cleveland Trust company; Herbert C. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, and George A. Tomlinson, president of Alleghany corporation. Several others were listed.

The New York bank is privileged to vote Chesapeake corporation stock as trustees for three bond issues of Alleghany corporation—top holding company of the system—when the value of collateral behind the Alleghany bond issues is appraised at less than 150 per cent of the face value of outstanding bonds.

Views on Stock Vote.

One contention is that Guaranty has the right to vote these stocks now because present market quotations place the collateral value under the required 150 per cent. The Young group contends, however, that, since the collateral was above 150 per cent within the last appraisal period, Guaranty is required to give Alleghany the proxies.

George A. Ball, Municie Ind., industrialist, was said to be a possible backer of the Bradley-Murphy faction. Ball and G. A. Tomlinson saved the management of the system for the late Van Sweringen brothers when the J. P. Morgan & Co. sold key collateral at public auction. Ball later transferred his holdings to a charitable foundation bearing his name, which in turn sold nominally controling stocks to Young, Kirby, and Frank F. Kolbe. Kolbe has since withdrawn.

Seek Proxy from Ball.

In the last two weeks, it was learned, Young and Kirby have sought to persuade Ball to give them the proxy for voting 1,200,000 shares of Alleghany common pledged to Ball to secure the money they owe him.

Railroad quarters here said Bradley started the present battle by demanding last October at a meeting of Alleghany directors that Herbert C. Fitzpatrick be replaced as chairman of the profitable Chesapeake and Ohio railway. In January Bradley and Murphy were removed from directorships in Alleghany corporation. Young has called for their resignation from Chesapeake corporation. Tomlinson, Great Lakes shipping magnate, replaced Bradley as president of Alleghany.

Tomlinson today announced his resignation, effective March 24, as chairman of Missouri Pacific railroad and thirty subsidiaries, and as a director of Wheeling and Lake Erie, another Van Sweringen line. His move was interpreted in rail circles as further aligning him with the Young group.

BANK CLEARINGS SHOW BROADENING DECLINE FROM PRECEDING YEAR

New York, March 17.—[Special.]—The decline of bank clearings from the level of last year was broadened during the week ended March 16, when volume for twenty-two leading cities dropped 25.5 per cent below the 1937 turnover, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. This was the eighteenth consecutive decline.

Volume was considerably higher than in the previous week, however, because of the usual midmonth settlements and first installments of the income tax, which lifted total clearings for the twenty-two cities to $5,480,233,000. Clearings for the latest week rose $732,006,000 from the previous week, but in the corresponding weeks last year there was a rise of $1,407,731,000 in total turnover.

Clearings for New York City totaled $49,910,230,000, a decline of 27.6 per cent from the 1937 comparative. Clearings for the other twenty-one cities declined 21.3 per cent. Chicago clearings amounted to $273,400,000, or 23.7 per cent under $358,200,000 last year.

The most marked declines appeared as follows: Detroit, 40.8 per cent; Cleveland, 28.9 per cent; Boston, 28.0 per cent; Buffalo, 27.9 per cent; Pittsburgh, 23.6 per cent; Seattle, 21.5 per cent, and Omaha, 20.5 per cent.

PERSONAL TAX CASE HEARINGS ARE COMPLETED

The Cook county board of tax appeals yesterday concluded hearings on complaints against 1937 personal property assessments. Paul Drymalski, one of the two board members, said all complaints have been cleared except a few important cases on which rulings are to be made today.

The board announced rulings on assessments of securities owned by several holding companies. It reduced the assessment against Utilities Power and Light corporation from $2,912,112 to $1,652,904, and that of the Nomis-Suarts corporation from $57,891 to $4,070. It canceled a $773,069 assessment against the Parker Securities company on the basis the concern had no business situs in Chicago.

A $215,205 asessment against the Merchants and Manufacturers' Securities company and one of $650,001 against Utilities and Industrial corporation were confirmed.

Rail Officials Consider Pay Cut Plea Today

Officials of the 140 class 1 railroads of the nation will meet at the Blackstone hotel today to consider a proposal that railroad labor be asked to take a reduction in wages to help offset the effects of sharply declining carrier revenues.

The meeting was called by the Association of American Railroads and it is expected that a committee of railroad executives will be named to present to the twenty-one railroad brotherhoods a request that they accept reductions in wages to help the roads in their present financial plight.

The sixteen nonoperating unions, with 750,000 members, last August were granted wage boosts approximating 40 cents a day, or about $100,000,000, annually. Members of the five operating brotherhoods in October received increases averaging 6.6 per cent which totaled about $35,000,000 annually for the 250,000 workers.

Employé Total Declines.

The business recession has resulted in a reduction in the number of railroad workers since last fall. The bureau of statistics of the interstate commerce commission estimated that at the middle of February the class 1 roads had 939,663 employés, but since there has been a further reduction.

Should the railroads decide to ask the workers to accept a reduction under their contracts with the brotherhoods they can do so at once. The brotherhoods have 30 days in which to accept. In the event the brotherhoods reject wage reductions and threaten to strike, considerable time would have to lapse under the machinery set up for such a contingency before the men actually would go out.

Accept Reduction in 1932.

Late in 1931, the railroad managements faced with falling revenues, asked the men to take wage reductions. After lengthy negotiations in Chicago the brotherhoods in February, 1932, agreed to accept voluntary reductions amounting to 10 per cent. This reduction was gradually restored over the next three years.

Officials of the leading brotherhoods indicated last week that they would fight any move for cuts.

WARD'S PROFITS LOWER; STOCKS OF GOODS CUT

Recession Foreseen, Avery Says.

Montgomery Ward & Co. in its annual report yesterday showed a slight drop in earnings for 1937, but also disclosed that it had reduced inventories by nearly $10,000,000 during the year in anticipation of a decline in business activity. This reduction, made to cut inventory losses resulting from price declines, was effected in spite of an increase in sales of 14.6 per cent over 1936.

Sewell L. Avery.

The company's merchandise inventories on Jan. 31, 1938—end of the 1937 fiscal year—amounted to $77,361,848, against $87,174,188 a year earlier.

"Early in the year," Sewell L. Avery, president, said in his message to stockholders, "anticipating a decline in business activity, the company adopted a program of reducing merchandise inventories and commitments. The same conservative policy was carried out with respect to expansion in number of retail outlets.

Reports Outlook Unfavorable.

"The economic outlook at the present time is unfavorable, and it appears reasonable to anticipate that the company's business during the coming year will be less satisfactory."

Net profit of the company for the 1937 fiscal year amounted to $19,210,029, or $3.41 a common share, compared with $20,198,914, or $3.60 a share, in the preceding fiscal year. Net sales totaled $414,090,000, an increase of $52,790,000 over the 1936 fiscal year.

Avery asserted that the federal surtax on undistributed profits, which amounted to $1,650,000 in 1937, against $400,000 in 1936, was "the penalty imposed on the company and its stockholders because of its advisable, conservative dividend policy."

Chain Store Tax Hurts.

He also declared that "continuing assaults on multiple store operations" by states through the device of tax penalties were partly responsible for the increase in the company's 1937 tax burden to $10,070,000, or $1.92 a common share, compared with $7,670,000 in 1936.

He estimated the proposed federal chain store tax bill, introduced into congress recently by Representative Wright Patman [D., Tex.] would impose an annual tax on the company of $17,600,000. This figure is more than one and three-quarters times the company's total 1937 tax bill. The Patman bill proposes to levy excise taxes of from $50 to $1,000 on chain stores.

Public Doesn't Ask Tax.

Commenting on multiple store legislation, Avery said:

"Taxes of this nature, now imposed by thirty states, are not, in our opinion, levied because of demands from the public, which indicates its satisfaction by a steadily increasing patronage of the economy and efficiency of the larger organizations."

Avery pointed out that operating expenses in 1937 increased proportionately more than sales. Salaries and wages, which amounted to $55,500,000, an increase of 23 per cent, constituted the largest item of expense and showed the largest increase of operating costs, he said.

Exchange Votes Reform Plan; Richard Whitney Is Expelled

Provides Big Change in Control; Total Vote Is Heavy.

New York, March 17.—(AP)—The New York Stock exchange today adopted a drastically revised constitution which provides for far-reaching changes in administrative policy, including the appointment of a salaried president with almost dictatorial powers.

The action culminated a long standing agitation for reform in security market practices which came in the wake of the senatorial Wall street investigation several years ago.

Pressure for changes became more pronounced with the advent of the Security and Exchange commission three years ago and with the development of dissension in the stock exchange membership in which the "old guard" elements locked horns with a group said to favor sweeping internal reforms.

Size of Vote Sets Record.

The rewritten constitution was accepted by members by a vote of record proportions recorded during the last two weeks. Of the 1,375 registered members 1,013 cast their ballots in favor of the reorganization plan and only 22 voted against it.

Under the new setup the exchange will discard methods of management which endured for half a century or more and apply instead a system of administration long sponsored by a considerable faction in the membership and by some outside critics.

Provision is made for a new governing committee of thirty-two members to supplant the present committee of fifty. The new committee will have twelve nonmembers of the exchange and some representatives of the public. The present governing committee is composed entirely of members. The number of standing committees will be reduced from 17 to 7.

The basis for the new constitution was the report of an outside committee headed by Carle C. Conway, industrialist, which was requested by the exchange to consider a plan of reorganization. The committee started its deliberations in December and filed its recommendations with the exchange on Jan. 8.

Nominations Being Made.

An exchange nominating committee this week and next is receiving suggestions from members for candidates for the new smaller governing committee. Nominees for the committee will be voted upon at the election May 9. One of the first tasks of the new committee, and probably its most important one, will be selection of the new paid president.

Changes in the constitution authorizing naming of the new smaller governing committee become effective immediately. The general body of amendments involving administrative changes will become effective eight days after the annual election.

The New York Curb exchange indicated it was considering reorganization, perhaps patterned after the stock exchange plan, through announcement today of a committee of members to study the subject. The committee is headed by William S. Muller, a vice president.

Two Senior Partners Are Suspended for Three Years.

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Richard Whitney, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the spectacular collapse of his Wall street firm, was expelled tonight from the New York Stock exchange. Five times he had been its president.

His two senior partners, Edwin D. Morgan Jr. and Henry D. Mygatt, were exonerated of willful wrongdoing, but nevertheless were suspended for three years under a rule which makes an exchange member responsible for the acts of his associates. No criminal action is pending against them.

Tried by Governing Group.

The trial of Whitney, long a "symbol" for financial integrity, was held by the exchange's governing committee. It lasted through the late afternoon and early evening, until shortly after 7 o'clock, when the governors emerged gravely with their decision. Morgan and Mygatt appeared before the committee. Whitney did not.

The two partners, an exchange source explained, will be eligible to return with no more serious blot on their records than participation in wrongful affairs of which they had no knowledge.

The exchange trial was on five specifications, lodged by the committee on business conduct, of which all three partners were found guilty. Under the rules it was a hearing without counsel.

What Exchange Charged.

Four charges accused the Whitney firm of wrongfully pledging securities of the New York Yacht club, the estate of Eila Haggin McKee, Ralph C. Mason and Campbell Locke, McKee executors, and the stock exchange's gratuity fund as partial collateral for loans to the firm.

The fifth accused the three partners of failing to include in a questionnaire issued by the conduct committee mention of an unsecured $100,000 loan made to the firm on Jan. 27, 1938.

It was disclosed today that Whitney had resigned as treasurer of the New York Yacht club, which made the complaints upon which one of the two indictments of grand larceny was based.

WEEK'S BUILDING AWARDS DECLINE TO 53 MILLIONS

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Engineering construction awards in the week ended Tuesday amounted to $53,284,000, compared with $80,524,000 in the preceding week and $34,569,000 in the corresponding week of 1937, the Engineering News-Record reported today. Figures by classes follow:

MARSHALL FIELD SHOWS LOSS ON MANUFACTURING

BY HOWARD WOOD.

With a five million dollar profit on its retail activities largely offsetting an extraordinarily heavy loss in the manufacturing division, Marshall Field & Co. last year incurred a net loss of $1,654,451, Frederick D. Corley, president of the eighty-three million dollar merchandising concern, disclosed yesterday in the company's annual report to stockholders. Mr. Corley became chief executive officer of the company last December.

Frederick D. Corley.

In 1936, with slightly smaller earnings in the retail business and no loss in manufacturing, the company had shown a profit of $2,878,475. The profit in 1929 was $9,218,713.

Recent Changes Outlined.

In the most detailed annual report that it has yet issued, the company traced the effects on its earnings and operations of the various changes in management and policies that it has made during the last two years, including those effected by the late James O. McKinsey, who was elected chairman of the company on Oct. 7, 1935, and who died Nov. 30, 1937.

The profits and losses on the year's operations, by divisions, as compared with 1936, were as follows:

Retail	$5,029,090	$4,836,738

Major Points in Report.

Among the major points brought out in the report are the following:

1. The retail division, which has always operated at a profit, except in 1932, has carried the company through the difficult period of adjustment in its manufacturing and wholesale lines.

2. Last year's losses in manufacturing were due largely to the policy

Letters of a business man to his son

XL

DEAR SON:

I have just dispatched a check to your sister who is going to use it as a kind of "welcome" sign in the doorway when the stork comes. Time was when sending a check as a gift was unheard of among folks sensitive to the sentimental side of life. But I have noticed that a crisp, new dollar bill in the nephew's Christmas stocking has always been an approved and highly regarded practice. A check can be just as crisp as currency, worth every bit as much, and besides—it has the sender's name emblazoned on it, as well as that of the one to whom it is sent.

The personal check is a mark of progress in our civilization. It signifies that we have arrived at a point where a dignified written memorandum has replaced the cumbersome doling out of coins. We have found security, utility and economy in the services of a third party to a business transaction. We save countless sums of money in a score of different ways by writing checks and handing them to the postman instead of dispatching the gold by a Wells Fargo stage. Easily three-fourths of all the business done in America is by check instead of currency or coin.

And at the core of this tremendous convenience is your bank and mine—doing a service which seems immeasurable in value, and for which we pay but a minuscule per cent of the money thus transferred.

Honestly, there's so much more romance in a check than in a paper dollar that I wonder at our tardiness in adopting it as a medium of exchange. At least, all sons at college can testify that nothing can be so thrilling as dad's signature at the bottom of one of those written memos to his banker which begins "Pay to . . .".

Affectionately,
DAD

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—With the carrier group declining to its lowest level since 1933, the stock market today moved downward again in limited trading.

At the outset and for a good part of the morning session prices worked higher as the European situation seemed calmer, but selling in the rails unsettled practically the entire list and prices gave ground. Volume was 642,370 shares.

With Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Erie, Santa Fe, Chesapeake and Ohio, New York Central, and Southern railway among those in generous supply, the carrier division, measured by the Dow-Jones average, slipped 0.57 to 24.54, a new low level since 1933. Losses ranged from fractions to 1¼ points, with Santa Fe and Southern Pacific the hardest hit.

Dropping initial gains, automobile shares slipped into the minus column with fractional losses. A similar condition prevailed in the copper group. larly lower.

U. S. Rubber was unchanged after selling 2 points higher.

The communications department proved the weakest spot, with American Telephone and Western Union both losing more than 1 point. The power and light shares were irregularly lower.

Among the weaker issues were gold mining stocks. Most of them touched new lows for the year. Homestake, ex-dividend, slumped 4¾ points to its previous low. Alaska lost 1 point and Dome Mines 3⅜ points.

Aviation issues gave way stubbornly and several remained modestly higher on the day.

Among the steels, United States Steel and Bethlehem moved narrowly and closed slightly higher.

New York Bonds.

New York, March 17.—(AP)—The bond market readjusted itself today after yesterday's touch of "war fever," and foreign bonds steadied, corporates dipped, and United States governments sold lower. Rails were the largest losers.

Down 1 to 2 or more points were Santa Fe 4s of 1995, Great Northern 4½s of 1977 E, Missouri-Kansas-Texas 5s of 1962, Southern Pacific 4½s of 1968, and Southern Railway 4s of 1956. Here and there rail issues gained fractions.

United States treasury issues showed losses ranging up to eleven-thirty-seconds of a point, but traders said the recession was due to absence of buyers in a dull market, rather than to any pronounced selling pressure.

Chicago Stocks.

Most stocks on the Chicago exchange moved downward yesterday and trading continued at a slow pace. Transactions totaled 17,000 shares, compared with 21,000 on Wednesday. Of the 70 issues traded, 11 advanced, 38 declined, and 21 were unchanged.

Chicago corporation common, the trading favorite with sales of 2,850 shares, slipped ⅛ to close at 1⅞. Commonwealth Edison was off ⅜ at 23 on sales of 1,750 shares. Walgreen moved up ⅛ to 19. Marshall Field was unchanged at 7½.

Bank Stocks.

Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company stock declined another $2 a share yesterday to close at $60 bid, $62 asked. First National shares eased $1 to $191 bid, $195 asked. City National stock also declined $1 a share at $118 bid, $123 asked. Harris Trust and Savings bank shares rose $5 at $295 bid. Other bank stock quotations were unchanged.

WHEAT SLUMPS; FEAR OF WAR IN EUROPE WANES

The war scare in the wheat market subsided yesterday as quickly as it had developed the preceding day. General selling of futures occurred both here and abroad, and prices at the low point were nearly 2 cents a bushel under the preceding close.

Profit taking by short sellers brought about a fair rally from the low prices of the day but closing prices of wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade showed net losses of ½ to 1 cent a bushel, the May delivery showing the most decline.

Failure of European wheat markets to reflect anxiety regarding the political situation on the continent, and a break of 2 to 2⅛ cents a bushel in Liverpool proved too much for the market to withstand.

Corn futures showed independent strength and closed ⅛ cent a bushel higher. Export demand was said to be slow and only small lots were reported to have been sold abroad.

Buying of soy beans, attributed to cash and export interests, lifted the price of futures ¼ to 1 cent a bushel. No foreign sales were indicated, however. Oats and rye were affected largely by the action of wheat.

WARNS U. S. MAY AID INDUSTRY IF BANKERS DO NOT

SEC Official Tells Need for New Capital.

Investment bankers were warned yesterday by John W. Hanes, new member of the Securities and Exchange commission, that unless they find a way to supply the money to keep America's economic machine running the federal government make take this job away from them. He spoke at the third annual central states group conference of the Investment Bankers' Association of America at the Palmer house.

John W. Hanes.

Hanes, who became a member of the SEC on Jan. 14, was in the investment banking business for many years, having been senior partner in Charles D. Barney & Co. when he retired to take the government job.

Sees Capital Urgently Needed.

Hanes said that the furnishing of capital to industry is urgent and declared:

"Maybe the answer lies in changes in existing machinery, maybe it lies in the addition of new governmental or semi-governmental agencies to assist banking and distributing organizations to do the job which really is theirs. If you cannot reach these solutions, then the government, whatever the party in power, may have to impose them upon you, because a government cannot endure unless it can keep the national economy going."

Hanes said he does not believe that any one in the government wants to see things go that far. On the contrary, he said that he was confident if the investment bankers attempted to work out their problem the government would work with them. He added that the SEC will not be adamant against changes in the existing laws and regulations if they are in the public interest.

Willing to Make Changes.

"On the contrary, we recognize the possibilities of changes, amendments and improvements," he said, "and we will work with you. Let me urge you to continue in your efforts toward analysis and solution of the problems at hand in order that investment banking may remain a dynamic profession and continue to supply the life blood of our industrial machine."

In recent years, he said, investment bankers have largely served as order takers for insuranc companies and other institutions.

RESERVE BANKS SHIFT HOLDINGS OF U. S. SECURITIES

The central banks of the federal reserve system shifted their holdings of government securities last week, purchasing 21 million dollars of long term securities and selling a corresponding amount of shorter term notes. The changes were shown in the weekly report issued yesterday by the federal reserve board.

The idle reserve funds of member banks of the federal system declined 10 millions during the week as a result of heavy income tax payments to the federal treasury. Loans of New York banks to brokers and dealers fell 97 millions in the week, one of the sharpest declines in recent months.

Commercial loans of New York banks also declined, totaling 15 millions less at the end of the week. Chicago banks reported little change in commercial loans, but showed an increase of 35 million in holdings of government securities.

Business Bits

Appointment of George T. Mahaney as eastern and James D. Platt as western retail sales manager of the Diesel engine division of the General Motors Sales corporation was announced yesterday by William J. Davidson, general sales manager.

The Illinois Credit Union league, parent organization for nearly 400 credit unions in the state, will hold its ninth annual convention tonight and tomorrow at Hotel Sherman.

The eighth annual national packaging conference and exposition sponsored by the American Management association will open a four day exhibition next Tuesday at the Palmer house, with more than 5,000 delegates from all parts of the country expected to attend.

J. A. Amos was elected president of the Pyle-National company, Chicago manufacturer of locomotive headlights and other railway electrical equipment, at the annual meeting yesterday. Vice president for the last twelve years, Amos succeeds William Miller, who becomes chairman of the board.

H. J. Ruddle, now associated with Eastman, Dillion & Co., and formerly owner of H. J. Ruddle company of Los Angeles, has been elected a director of Pacific Western Oil corporation.

All directors and officers of the Northern Indiana Public Service company were reëlected yesterday at annual meetings.

GOLD SHIPMENT OF 30 MILLIONS TO U. S. REPORTED

Large Consignment to Come from London.

Gold valued at $30,000,000, it was reported yesterday, will be shipped to the United States from London tomorrow, the largest consignment to this country in several months. The size of the reported shipment caused exchange brokers to revise upward their estimates of the amount of foreign capital that has fled Europe as a result of the war scare.

The gold was said to represent purchases made by the American stabilization fund in attempting to steady the foreign exchange market during the last few days. The unsettlement in the market subsided yesterday and foreign currencies showed more steadiness in relation to the dollar.

At the same time, foreign security markets made a moderate recovery from the sharp losses that were incurred earlier in the week.

U. S. Gold Holdings Rise.

The weekly report of the federal reserve system, issued last night, disclosed that up to Wednesday night American gold holdings had increased 10 millions. Only part of this represented shipments from Europe. Prior to yesterday engagements of gold totaling $3,235,000 in London had been reported.

The extent of the United States stabilization fund's operations in the market is a matter of speculation. In Washington treasury officials said that the monetary agreement between this country and France, England, Belgium, Holland, and Switzerland has proved of incalculable aid in avoiding a choatic disruption of the exchange market this week.

Pound Touches New Low.

The British pound sagged to a new low for the year of $4.96¼, but recovered to close ⅛ cent lower for the day at $4.96⅜. The guilder recovered nearly a quarter of a cent, later losing part of its gain to close 0.17 cent higher at 55.28. The franc closed 0.035 cent lower at 3.0875 cents. Belgian and Swiss currencies closed unchanged from Wednesday's prices.

British government bonds led the upturn in the London securities markets. Nearly all classes of securities shared in the advance. Markets in Amsterdam and Paris also displayed a stronger tone.

MARSHALL FIELD SHOWS LOSS ON MANUFACTURING

Profit in Retail Trade Is Partial Offset.

of the former management, which had bought unnecessarily large quantities of goods at high prices early in the year, thereby incurring heavy losses on inventories.

3. The Field owned Merchandise Mart, world's largest building, under the supervision of Percy Wilson, vice president, has practically reached the break even point after having been a severe drain on the company's earnings.

4. Interest charges have been substantially reduced by the successful refunding of the company's debt late in 1936.

Gross Sales Slightly Lower.

The results reported for the last two years are after deducting $2,421,375 in 1937 and $2,377,468 in 1936 for depreciation of buildings and equipment. Gross sales, including real estate income, totaled $100,044,813 in 1937, compared with $106,135,693 in 1936. Allowing for sales of discontinued lines, the 1937 sales would have been 5.1 per cent larger than 1936 sales, the report stated.

The operating results of the manufacturing division, which consists principally of fifteen mills in the United States and one each in the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, and China, as well as various converting and importing activities, had not been successful after the reorganization brought about by the McKinsey management, the statement showed.

Loss Regarded Inevitable.

"It may be stated," the report said, "that under any circumstances the general course of business and prices would have caused a serious loss in this division. To aggravate this condition, however, the services of an entirely new management had been established on a scale of overhead expense, including leases and salaries, that the volume of business entirely failed to justify.

"During the early part of the year production of all kinds of goods was at a high level, commodity prices were advancing, and a feeling of confidence pervaded the business world. Inventories were rapidly increased to meet the increasing demand for goods and to correct the situation existent during 1936, when we were not always able to deliver merchandise to our customers at the times and as rapidly as they demanded it.

Begin 1937 with Big Orders.

"Unfilled orders on Jan. 1, 1937, were the largest in years, and the productive capacity of certain mills had been booked for considerable periods in advance. An operation of this type necessarily requires the maintenance of a sufficient stock of raw materials to cover all orders on hand and in sight.

"Our commitments extended considerably beyond this point. Beginning in the late spring of 1937, conditions changed with almost unprecedented swiftness. By the advent of early fall there had been a drastic decline in commodity prices, especially in the textile field, and orders shrank in an alarming degree, particularly for advance business. We were severely penalized by cancellations and by the failure of prospective fall orders to materialize in the amounts anticipated.

Decline in Prices Cited.

"The declines occurring in three raw materials which we owned in large quantity may here be cited to illustrate the severity of the situation. Cotton, which had reached a level of 14½ cents a pound in March, was selling by the end of the year for 8¼ cents; silk declined in the same period from $2.01 a pound to $1.58 a pound, and the price of wool receded during this time from $1.05 a pound to 81 cents a pound.

"The precipitous decline in the fourth quarter of the year in many lines of business, and particularly in the textile industry, was as great as any in business history. The excessive overhead costs and the decrease in production and sales, together with lower selling prices and necessary markdowns on our year-end inventory, which as usual was taken at the lower of cost or market, were responsible for the very disappointing results of the year's operations."

McKinsey Option Discussed.

The report disclosed that the request by the late chairman, Mr. McKinsey, for the $313,929 which was due him under the option contained in his contract with the company, came just at the time when the manufacturing division, which was directly under his supervision, was suffering most from the effects of the untimely policy of loading up with unusually large inventories, although no direct reference is made in the report to this coincidence.

The contract into which he had entered with the company entitled him either to take a block of 50,000 shares of unissued common stock at $10 per share or cash for the amount by which the market price of the stock should exceed $10 per share. Mr. McKinsey purchased a total of 20,000 shares of stock and late in 1937 chose to request a sum of money equal to the amount by which the market price of 20,000 additional shares exceeded $10 per share.

Option Right to Estate.

At his death the contract automatically terminated, except for the right of his estate, on or before Dec. 31, 1938, to purchase the remaining 10,000 shares of unissued stock at $10 per share or to receive in cash the amount by which the market price exceeds $10 per share.

"As noted in the third quarterly report for 1937," the report stated, "the sum of $313,929 was therefore credited to him [Mr. McKinsey] on the books of the company. Of this amount $13,929 was paid to him and the balance of $300,000 remains credited to his estate on our books. The balance will be held until the termination of two suits recently filed, which raise certain questions with regard to the contract."

The Merchandise Mart, which at last midyear housed a working population of 24,618, enjoyed a 15 per cent increase in income in 1937 and is now more than 78 per cent leased, about 67 per cent of its space being used by tenants other than Marshall Field & Co., the report said.

Simpson Elected to Post.

The statement disclosed that when the directors last December abolished the office of chairman they elected James Simpson as chairman of the executive committee of the board.

Funded debt was reduced a million dollars during 1937 by payments of maturing instalments of a serial bank loan and on Dec. 31 stood at $18,000,000. Taxes totaled about $4,000,000, or $2.42 per share of common stock.

The management reported that the program of liquidation of mill properties followed during the last year does not contemplate sale of the principal manufacturing plants in North Carolina and Virginia.

The Bank Call Report.

Of the various banking reports required and published by the federal reserve board, the most comprehensive is that which summarizes the data filed in response to periodic "bank calls." The law requires that there be at least three calls, or demands for information, each year for reserve member banks. Usually there are four calls, one at the end of June, one at the end of December, one near the end of the first quarter of the year and another near the end of the third quarter. The national banks report to the federal controler of the currency. State banks belonging to the reserve system report to the federal reserve bank of the district in which they are located, as well as to state authorities.

The board publishes the results of the calls in what are termed member bank call reports. These reports show data for each federal reserve district, each central reserve and reserve city, for country banks as a group in each reserve district, and for each state.

The information published in these call reports includes many items, in the form of a balance sheet and in addition to the balanced condition statement there are special classifications of data on loans, investments, borrowings, interbank balances and deposits.

COTTON

Operations in cotton futures yesterday were restricted, with the trade both here and abroad disposed to await further developments in the European political situation before taking a decided stand on either side. There was fair trade buying early, but the market eased later in the day in sympathy with securities and a little pressure from the south. Closing trades on the Chicago Board of Trade were unchanged to .08 cent a pound lower. Other American markets were .03 cent higher to .08 cent a pound lower.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .05 cent lower, with New Orleans 9.10c, New York 8.95c, Galveston 8.75c, and Houston at 8.70c a pound. Prices follow:
